CAPT. RORKE'S ADDRESS.

In another column will be found Capt. Rorke's address to the electors of Centre Grey. The manly, outspoken sentiments contained in it will find a hearty echo in the breast of every loyal man, who has the truest and best interests of our beloved Canada at heart. Capt. Rorke is a gentleman to the very core, and his address is not an empty, meaningless nothingism, but an expression of his honest convictions. What he says he will do, may be taken for granted as done, if circumstances permit. This has been his record in the past—the record of a man of honor; of a man who would not sully his fair name for all the offices in Christendom. Such a man is Capt. Rorke, the Liberal Conservative nominee in Centre Grey.

"WHAT DOES IT MEAN?"

We commend the following able and pointed reply to the Thornbury News to the electors of East Grey. It is clipped from last week's Meaford Mirror. After publishing such an excellent exposition of the situation in East Grey, a reply to the News, on our own part, would be unnecessary,—

Under the above caption the Thornbury News of last week takes the MIRROR to task for its "remarkably sudden enlightment" with regard to the late Conservative convention at Markdale, and calls upon us to "give our readers a reason for the sudden turn." We thought we had made our position clear enough, but apparently we have not done so, and without any "equivocation" we will now endeavor to satisfy the News and those who are using it as a tool.

The information received by the MIRROR which caused it to take the sudden turn was in the shape of a detailed statement of facts and figures from one of the most prominent officers of the Association whom we honestly believe and affirm had no interests to subserve in the choice of any one of the candidates brought forward at the convention. His statement is to the effect—and is borne out by indisputable evidence—that everything was straight and above board at the convention, and that the opposition of Mr. McColman is due more to personal feelings than because he imagines there has been any crooked work. The statement goes farther and states that the secretary of the convention holds the credentials of all those who voted for the different candidates proposed at the convention, and that he is prepared to show them to any who may desire to investigate the matter. More than that, the secretary and other officers are willing, says our informant, to make affirmation to the truth of the statements above chronicled. We ask the News if that is sufficient information on which to base the remarks contained in our article of the 12th inst., and for which he takes us to task?

With reference to the "circumstances that have occurred" they are so plain we wonder the News man himself has not seen them ere this. We admit we were blinded ourselves for some time and in our endeavor to maintain what we considered would be just and proper as against the alleged improper practices adopted to defeat Mr. McColman, we failed to see circumstances that have since come to light. The News, still seeing and thinking as we did at that time, may therefore be excused for the seeming blindness. Did it ever strike you as peculiar, Mr. News, that Mr. McColman never entered any objection against the result of the convention until after the MIRROR took up the case in his behalf? That question will suggest many others to your mind, which, when you have satisfactorily answered, will incline you to believe that even "circumstances" are against Mr. McColman in his contention of "something being crooked."

Your insinuation that "some extensive system of wire pulling has been recently put in operation in which the MIRROR manipulates one or more of the wires to its own advantage," is taken for what it is worth. We have no desire to throw mud in discussing this question, and if that is the style of argument the News is accustomed to, or is going to adopt, we at once shut off. The insinuation is false and could only originate in the mind of one who is himself being manipulated in the manner described.

FLESHERTON GOSSIP.

Dashes Here and There by the Agricultural Editor.

More light on the barley question. The grain for which 36 cents per bushel was paid on our market was not worth a cent more—in fact that was an outside price. If other buyers are willing to pay more for barley than it is worth, why let them. And, of course, farmers would be very foolish if they didn't take advantage of such an unusual occurrence.

The truth of the matter is the barley market is glutted, and buyers may count themselves fortunate indeed if they can dispose of what they have already bought and clear expenses. Some will not be able to do so. Last year thousands of dollars were lost by grain dealers, and the indications at present are unmistakably pointing to a partial repetition.

A most interesting scientific debate took place at the last regular meeting of Flesherton Division Sons of Temperance. It all arose from a remark let fall by a prominent member, to the effect, that a pebble thrown into a pond of water agitates or disturbs the whole. Dr. Christoe, Rev. W. Ayers, Rev. Thos. Watson, Mr. W. Irwin, Mr. C. J. Sproule, and the W. P. took part in the discussion which followed. "How best to employ our leisure moments" was ably discussed by the first four gentlemen named.

The young people are in a quandary about the skating rink. On account of so many entertainments, socials, &c., last winter, the rink did not pay Mr. Fields and, consequently, the likelihood is that it will be entirely closed this year. The truth is we are "entertained" to death in Flesherton, and healthy outdoor sports are being more and more neglected as the years roll by. It is possible a reaction will set in: the heavy tax on the resources of our people is sure to bring this about sooner or later.

We had almost forgotten to inform our readers, that the early closing movement so satisfactorily carried out by our business men during the summer months, will be continued the whole year round. This is but right and when properly carried out in Flesherton and elsewhere will prove highly beneficial to both business men and their employees. Flesherton always keeps pace with the times.

The Flesherton school bell having been rung at unseemly hours of late, Principal Irwin set about him to ascertain the cause thereof. One night, whilst walking on the Toronto street sidewalk, in the direction of the Boyne water bridge, the school bell suddenly rang forth a merry peal. Immediately afterwards he met a number of lads coming from the school house, and without parley, accused them of having rung the bell. "It wasn't me, sir," replied the boys in chorus, eager to shift the blame on someone else. "Who was it then? asked the Principal. "It was George so-and-so, sir," quickly came the reply. George so-and-so being confronted as the guilty party, hastened to assure the teacher that he "didn't r-r-r-ring n-n-o b-b-b-b-el-el!" Afterwards he confessed having done so but asserted that it was the "f-f-f-first t t-time he had ever r-r-r-rung it in h-h-his l-l-l-life!"

It is too bad, that the fine new house, which Mr. Fred. Rider had so nearly completed, should be wrecked so terribly by a sudden blast of wind. The worst of it was the brick wall fell in on the beams and smashed through everything in its descent—from the top flat to the cellar. It is not probable, that Mr Rider will have an opportunity to complete the structure until spring, under the circumstances. It is a heavy loss and Mr. Rider—who is a most industrious and excellent builder—has our hearty sympathy.

Our fighting editor informs us that on Friday night last an interesting dialogue occurred between a very respectable citizen of Flesherton and one of our mischievous lads. The latter was going along Collingwood street, when the former commenced calling, "Johnny, Johnny," to his little boy. The mischievous lad at once imitated "Johnny's" voice to perfection and answered back. The deception was continued for some time, to the great amusement of several citizens. "Johnny" showed up, however, and the fun came to a very abrupt termination.

One of the most important topics discussed in Flesherton just now is the Presbyterian church and the organ question. After the regular service here on Thanksgiving day, the subject was taken up, discussed, and voted on by the congregation. The vote showed that a large majority of the members were in favor of introducing the organ into the church. It has been in use in the Sabbath School for some time, but out of respect for the antipathy of a number of the oldest members to such an innovation, the majority has never pressed for its use in congregational worship.

A Thing of Beauty.

In past years the rage at Christmas time and long before has been the purchasing of Christmas cards for friends abroad as souvenirs. This year a change has taken place. THE MONTREAL STAR is bringing out a superb Christmas number, a mammoth paper of wonderous beauty, with twenty-eight pages of magnificent illustrations, including a fac similie of the great picture purchased by Sir Donald Smith, at the Morgan sale, New York, at a cost of forty-five thousand dollars, about which the curiousity of a whole continent has been aroused. The engraving on the STAR'S picture is something of a rare delicacy. Besides the twenty-eight pages of illustrations there are stories, sketches and poems by the best authors. Professor Grant, of Queen's College, has written a powerful article which every Canadian man, woman and child should read, while there is something from the pen of Professor Roberts, Nove Scotia, George Murray, Montreal, absorbing stories by E. W. Thomson, Toronto, poems by Poet Laureate Frechette and others, together with a large 22 x 28 plate supplement, said to be the most bewitching crayon ever issued on this side of the Atlantic. The whole of this paper, which competent critics say eclipses the London Graphic and London illustrated News is sent to any address for the amazingly small sum of 25 cents in postage stamps. The publishers are Graham & Co., Montreal, who are giving beautiful prizes to the value of $300 to the little folk who write the most faithful short letter about the paper. This is really an age of wonders. Anybody who was fortunate enough to get a copy of the last Carnival STAR will not be so much surprised at this latest piece of gigantic enterprise.

Day and Night

During an acute attack of Bronchitis, a ceaseless tickling in the throat, and an exhausting, dry, hacking cough, afflict the sufferer. Sleep is banished, and great prostration follows. This disease is also attended with Hoarseness, and sometimes Loss of Voice. It is liable to become chronic, involve the lungs, and terminate fatally. Ayer's Cherry Pectoral affords speedy relief and cure in cases of Bronchitis. It controls the disposition to cough, and induces refreshing sleep.

I have been a practicing physician for twenty-four years, and, for the past twelve, have suffered from annual attacks of Bronchitis. After exhausting all the usual remedies

Without Relief,

I tried Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. It helped me immediately, and effected a speedy cure.—G. Stoveall, M. D., Carrollton, Miss.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral is decidedly the best remedy, within my knowledge, for chronic Bronchitis, and all lung diseases.—M. A. Rust, M. D., South Paris, Me.

I was attacked, last winter, with a severe Cold, which, from exposure, grew worse and finally settled on my Lungs. By night sweats I was reduced almost to a skeleton. My Cough was incessant, and I frequently spit blood. My physician told me to give up business, or I would not live a month. After taking various remedies without relief, I was finally two bottles of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. I am now in perfect health, and able to resume business, after having been pronounced incurable with Consumption.—S. P. Henderson, Saulsburgh, Penn.

For years I was in a decline. I had weak lungs, and suffered from Bronchitis and Catarrh. Ayer's Cherry Pectoral restored me to health, and I have been for a long time comparatively vigorous. In case of a sudden cold I always resort to the Pectoral, and find speedy relief.—Edward E. Curtis, Rutland, Vt.

Two years ago I suffered from a severe Bronchitis. The physician attending me became fearful that the disease would terminate in Pneumonia. After trying various medicines, without benefit, he finally prescribed Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, which relieved me at once. I continued to take this medicine a short time, and was cured.—Ernest Colton, Logansport, Ind.
