We had a pleasant call last week from Mr. John Clinton, of Winnipeg, who has been home on a visit to his parents in Artemesia. Mr. Clinton teaches a school near Winnipeg. He pronounces the crops of that vicinity as good, and the prospects bright.

The Flesherton Ladies' Aid Society intend holding a garden party on Thursday evening of next week, on the grounds of Mr. Bentham. When the ladies engineer a garden party it is bound to be a success. Go. Admission only 15c. and 10c.

Wednesday and Thursday last were big days in Owen Sound. A number went up from Flesherton and returned with awe still stamped upon their countenances at the wonderful leap of Prof. Hogan with his parachute. He was the attraction. The races and other things were a secondary consideration.

Married.

In Flesherton, on the 20th inst. by Rev. T. Watson, Mr. A. McGillvray, late of Proton and Meaford, to Mrs. Sarah Smith, of Flesherton.

Personal.

Mr. and Mrs. Page, of Welland, are visiting at Mr. Damude's and Mr. Munshaw's.

Mrs. W. Irwin is visiting friends in Leamington and Detroit.

Mr. W. Irwin, principal of our public school, attended the Provincial Teachers Association in Toronto last week and reports himself well pleased with the proceedings.

Notice.

Having secured the services of a first-class handloom weaver, we will be happy to be entrusted with the patronage of all persons requiring such weaving done. Rag carpet weaving a specialty. Perfect satisfaction guaranteed.

Handsome Presentation.

On Thursday evening last a number of the friends of Rev. Mr. Wilson, Presbyterian minister of this place, waited upon him at his residence and presented him a purse of twenty $ [illegible], and a gold watch. This was a most substantial way of expressing the [illegible] of his congregation [illegible] the east [illegible] which he [illegible] from Owen Sound.

The Dog Declined.

Mr. Fawcett left Flesherton last week, as is well known, but is finly tired of Jumbo, didn't accompany him. All arrangements had been entered into with the railway company for his safe transport. He was placed in the baggage car and soothingly requested to "lie down." But he wouldn't lie down. He made a bee line for the door and stopped not until he arrived at this office. We are detaining him on probation. If he is a good "sticker" we may keep him, if otherwise, our conclusions will probably be that Streetsville needs him more than Flesherton.

A Heavy Loss.

On Thursday evening last, after the heavy storm had passed, the light from a burning building was noticed towards the north-east. It proved to be the barns and sheds belonging to Hector Kennedy, of lot 30, con. 8, Artemesia. This added one more to the long list of casualties by lightning which have occurred of late in this vicinity. Mr. Kennedy lost his barn, a fine shed, five acres of fall wheat, a threshing machine, farming mill, twelve pigs, and a [illegible]. He saved a valuable stallion and a wagon. His loss will be very great as he was insured for less than $500.

A Social Gathering.

A very pleasant social gathering was that which met on Friday evening last at the residence of Mr. Thomas Keils, Artemesia. There were refreshments and games; Flesherton brass band furnished good music, and the beautiful grounds of Mr. Keils were enjoyed in the moonlight. The proceeds, amounting to twelve dollars, were presented to Rev. Mr. Wilson's good lady by the indefatigible workers who got up the entertainment. Several went out from Flesherton and enjoyed themselves thoroughly. The band returned about 1 a.m. and "made Rome howl" around town with their little toot toot. It was very nice, though, and we'll take some more, gentlemen.

Matrimony and Presents.

Wednesday evening of last week was a very important evening in Flesherton for at least two persons. On that evening Mr. Joseph Blackburn returned with his bride. They were met at the station by our brass band and escorted to the neat residence on Toronto street, where the ladies had made all preparations to receive them. Shortly after their arrival Mr. Blackburn was presented with a valuable easy chair by the Oddfellows, of which society Mr. Blackburn is a member. He also received from Mr. M. Richardson a very handsome marble clock, and from Mr. Richardson's employes Mrs. Blackburn received a very pretty sett of china. A number of presents, more or less valuable, were received from outside friends.

The thunder storms which visited Flesherton and vicinity last Thursday have seldom been surpassed in fury. The heaviest portion of the storm was felt just to the north of and east of village, where hail stones of extraordinary proportions came down in large quantities. The hail did not do any very appreciable damage, however.

Electric Philosophy.

Two farmers from near Dundalk met on Collingwood street the other day and were heard to remark as follows:

Say, J., you know, Dave, this Edison ought to be shut up in a dungeon.

N. Why?

Well, didn't you ever remark the vast number of barns been burnt and cattle killed by electricity these days? There's more of 'em every day, and lightning worse and worse ever since Bell and Edison and all those fellows began to play with electricity. We farmers is all doomed if we like them don't let up on making [illegible] with the ellectricity.

Charivari.

A [illegible] fashioned charivari exploded in our midst on Monday evening last. It was organized to celebrate the marriage of our [illegible] widow man, Mr. Smith, to Mrs. McGillvray of Proton. The boys got a few horns, band instruments, tin pans, etc., and proceeded to serenade the happy couple about 9 o'clock. J. W. Armstrong, J. P., appeared upon the scene with his revolver, and when he did so [illegible] town was high enough to stop the career of young Canada as it hustled out of the way. However, after the good J. P. had retired the attack was renewed with increased vigor.
