Sicilians Pelt The Duce

Portraits of Mussolini in all Sicilian towns and villages are subjected to one of the war's most severe barrages of eggs, rotten fruit and tomatoes following the announcement of his resignation.

Picture shows: Free to express their opinion at last, people of Sicily leave no doubt as to what they think of the Duce.

Victoria, Australia, has, because of labor shortage, permitted the employment of bar-maids in hotels. Any women taking this employment, however, must be over thirty-five. Is this a prohibitive condition?

FARMERS AND FARM WORKERS

If Your Farm Work has Slackened for the Winter, You Are Needed Elsewhere in Essential Employment

Highly essential work—very important in Canada's war effort and for the welfare of the Nation—is threatened with shortages of workers. One of the few sources of men available for other high priority jobs is those men on the farm who will not be needed at home during the Fall and Winter. Heavy needs must be met in many lines—producing fuel wood and other necessary forest products; in base metal mines, in food processing, in railway track maintenance. If you live on a farm and are not needed at home during the Fall and Winter, you are urged to answer this national appeal.

Farmers engaged in essential work during the off season will be allowed to return home when needed. Also, those on postponement under Mobilization Regulations will continue on postponement while in approved essential work during the slack on the farm.

Please answer this vital call NOW.

Blood Plasma May Save His Life

Have you seen that terribly poignant picture of a soldier stretched face downward upon the ground in that grotesque attitude which tells of serious hurt? It carries the caption "Blood plasma may save his life." Perhaps too you have seen that other picture of a field transfusion being given to a wounded man, whose rifle with bayonet stuck in the earth is the standard to which the life saving blood fluid is attached. These two pictures epitomise the Red Cross Blood Donors Service in which all physically fit persons may have a vital part.

Figures may be deadening and facts boring unless directly related to life. Experience has demonstrated beyond a shadow of doubt that an innumerable multitude of men and women have been wrested from otherwise certain death, during the war, by the use of field and other transfusions. A well known Medical Officer has said: "I am never able to watch the color return to grey lips and faces without thanking God for the discovery of blood transfusion and for the Red Cross Service which makes it possible." It is perhaps not too much to say that at least twenty-five per cent of the boys who have left this community, for the National Defence Services, will be dependent upon this service for their safe return.

HUNTING PAIR LEARN NEW LESSON

A seldom-used clause in the Game and Fisheries Act "catching rabbits by hand" was read to two London men in county Police Court there by the magistrate, Donald B. Menzies.

The pair, Wm. Shortridge and Ernest Scott, were apprehended by Game Warden W. L. Pemberton and Provincial Constable Jack Foulton after the two had used a ferret to hole rabbits, and then caught the animal as it ran from the hole to escape the ferret.

Asked by the Magistrate how the clause catching the rabbit by hand got into the act, Constable Foulton replied: "I guess it is to give the rabbit a sporting chance."

In finding the pair guilty, Magistrate Menzies stated he was imposing the minimum fine of $10. without costs each.

PORTLAW RESIDENTS HAVE MOVED TO FLESHERTON

(By Portlaw Reporter)

Mr and Mrs. Robert Fisher and Mary moved to Flesherton Thursday from their farm on the 4th Line, Artemesia, which was recently taken over by their son, ilbert. By their removal this district has lost one of its most prominent families.

On Tuesday evening, Jan. 4th, the friends and neighbors gathered at their home and during the evening a well-worded address was read by Mrs. Laurie Pedlar and the presentation of an electric floor lamp was made to Mr. and Mrs. Fisher and a table cloth to Miss Mary by Messrs. A. Blackburn, C. Lougheed and John McKee.

In the address, Mrs. Pedlar remarked that they had always found them ready neighbors and loyal friends, both in times of trouble and the happier times of every-day life. A helping hand was always offered and a smile for all. Neighbors of that calibre are not easily replaced. The gifts were declared to be a small token of the esteem in which they are held, and to remember their old neighbors on the Fourth Line.

Mr. Fisher thanked the friends and neighbors and invited all to go and see them in their new home. "For they are jolly good fellows" was then sung and lunch was served. The remainder of the evening was spent in dancing and card playing.

Some people's weak backs probably were caused from trying to keep up a big front.

Food fact: London school children, on a rationed war diet, are two inches higher and 12 pounds heavier than their parents were at that age.

Flesherton W. I. Meeting

The regular meeting of Flesherton Women's Institute was held at the home of Mrs. F. J. Thurston on Wednesday evening of last week, with the president, Mrs. Ed. Fisher. in the chair. The meeting was opened in the usual manner, and roll call was answered with magazines to be sent to the Navy. 18 members and two visitors were present.

Mrs. T. J. Fisher had charge of the devotional period. Mrs. W. E. Betts thanked the W. I. for a treat sent to her mother and a letter was read from Mrs. J. P. Ottewell expressing thanks for a treat. A committee was appointed to buy cups and saucers for use at the town hall. It was decided to pack a bale for Russia on Wed., Jan. 12th. Those who have not sent in donations at that time can still be in time if action is taken at once. Mrs. Hass was in charge of the program, which consisted of a contest and readings by Mesdames Teeter, Stoddart, and Bartley.. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. W. Turney.

In any election some candidates bet on their lucky stars, but they forget there are always a number of favorite suns.
