GUARD BABY'S HEALTH IN THE SUMMER

The summer months are the most dangerous to little ones. The complaints of that season which are cholera infantum, colic, diarrhoea and dysentery come on so quickly that often a little one is beyond aid before the mother realizes he is really ill. The mother must be on her guard to prevent these troubles or if they do come on suddenly to cure them. No other medicine is of such aid to the mother during hot weather as is Baby's Own Tablets. They regulate the bowels and stomach and are absolutely safe. Sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

FORTUNE TELLER'S SECRET.

What Happened When She Told the Geisha.

A fortune-telling woman named Matsu, who has a place of business in a small shelter in Theatre Street, Yokohama, told a geisha, whose name was not made public, on Monday that a great fire would occur in the Theatre Street district next week, Wednesday or Thursday, and that the whole district would be wiped out, says the Japan Advertiser. The far-seeing fortune teller told the geisha to be sure and tell no one else, as it was a valuable secret. The secret cost the geisha half a yen. Then there happened the following:

The geisha got her trunks and boxes together and packed up what she could conveniently get into them. She sold for a song all the trinkets and gifts which are presumed to be so plentiful in her profession, and disposed of a lease upon desirable quarters that she had worked for years to obtain.

The neighboring women stood around and watched the proceedings, much disturbed with curiosity. They asked questions, but were not told the reason. "Go see Matsu," replied the girl.

On Thursday the geisha had all her earthly possessions transferred from her residence to a godown, across the front of which there were printed in large red letters: "Fireproof." The neighbors who had suspended their labors for several days trooped down the street after the luggage when it left the geisha's house and were amazed to find where it had been placed. Therefore a number immediately consulted Matsu, who knew the value of a secret.

As a result some fifty families who reside in the district were startled when the female members came dashing home with the awful news of the approaching conflagration and they began packing up the family possessions preparatory to leaving.

One innocent and harmless husband protested, but was squelched, so he informed the police. The police called to investigate the exodus. They discovered the cause and endeavored to laugh the frightened natives out of their scare, but to no purpose. A large portion of the population of one block of Theatre Street near the western end have removed their chattels and have ceased labor and industry while awaiting the conflagration.

In one street of Paris, the Champs Elysees, there have been during the past twelve months 580 accidents, of which 30 have proved fatal.

Over 2,200,000,000 eggs were imported in one year into the United Kingdom.

MRS. G. A. SELBY AND CHILD

Uses Only Cuticura Soap for Prize Baby

"I have always used Cuticura Soap and no other for my baby, and he has never had a sore of any kind. He does not even chafe as most babies do. I feel that it is all owing to Cuticura Soap for he is fine and healthy, and when five months old won a prize in a baby contest. It makes my heart ache to go into so many homes and see a sweet faced baby with the whole top of its head a solid mass of scurf, caused by the use of poor soap. I always recommend Cuticura, and nine times out of ten the next time I see the mother she says 'Oh! I am so glad you told me of Cuticura.'" (Signed) Mrs. G. A. Selby, Redondo Beach, Calif.

Although Cuticura Soap is sold by druggists and dealers everywhere, a postal to "Cuticura," Dept. 3M, Boston, U. S. A., will secure a liberal sample, with 32-p. book on the care of skin, scalp and hair.

YOU'VE GOT TO TAKE A CHANCE.

If you go across the ocean, your ship is liable to sink.

True enough, but if you travel on land your train is liable to be wrecked.

If you just jimmy around the home town, your automobile is liable to blow up or throw a tire and precipitate you quickly into a ravine on your elbows and shoulder blades.

If you go buggy riding your horse is apt to shy at a piece of paper in the road and kick you into the middle of the following week.

If you go out walking an automobile is liable to scramble you up or a footpad is liable to tap you suddenly yet firmly upon the dome of thought.

But if you sit still at home a hundred things are liable to happen you. You may have a fit, some weary wayfarer may come along and sell you a lot of Turkish rugs, lightning may strike the house, and then there is always the possibility of an earthquake.

At the very best you have got to take a chance whether you want to or not.

Fail to Select Food Nature Demands to Ward Off Ailments?

A Ky. lady, speaking about food, says: "I was accustomed to eating all kinds of ordinary food until, for some reason, indigestion and nervous prostration set in.

"After I had run down seriously my attention was called to the necessity of some change in my diet, and I discontinued my ordinary breakfast and began using Grape-Nuts with a good quantity of rich cream.

"In a few days more my condition changed in a remarkable way, and I began to have a strength that I had never been possessed of before, a vigor of body and a poise of mind that amazed me. It was entirely new in my experience.

"My former attacks of indigestion had been accompanied by heat flashes, and many times my condition was distressing with blind spells of dizziness, rush of blood to the head and neuralgic pains in the chest.

"Since using Grape-Nuts alone for breakfast I have been free from these troubles, except at times when I have indulged in rich, greasy foods in quantity, then I would be warned by a pain under the left shoulder blade, and unless I heeded the warning the old trouble would come back, but when I finally got to know where these troubles originated I returned to my Grape-Nuts and cream and the pain and disturbance left very quickly.

"I am now in prime health as a result of my use of Grape-Nuts." Name given by Canadian Postum Co., Windsor, Ont.

"There's a reason," and it is explained in the little book, "The Road to Wellville," in pkgs.

LARGEST MAP IN THE WORLD.

London Will Be Shown in Miniature When It Is Completed.

If all goes well and there are no serious delays, three or four years hence the London County Council will have completed what it is believed will be the most wonderful map in the world. Seventeen years have already been consumed in its preparation, and $85,000 has been expended on research and labor connected with it. A further expenditure of about $25,000 is looked forward to with equanimity by the authorities.

The great map will really constitute a twentieth century London edition of England's famous Domesday Book. For it will show practically every building in the 116 square miles that go to make up Greater London, setting forth, as far as possible, the more important owners.

It has often been said that London was owned by a few great landlords, such as the Duke of Westminster, Lord Howard de Walden, Lord Cadogan, the Duke of Bedford, and the Duke of Norfolk.

That is, of course, true in a general way, but this map shows that there are no fewer than 36,000 private owners who each possess enough property to make a noticeable showing on its face.

The map will not be issued to the public, but is really being prepared for the use of the County Council itself. Although its cost has been enormous, it has already paid for itself by providing immediate data in street widening and improvement cases in which the County Council was concerned. It is being drawn to the scale of five square feet to the square mile, so that the completed map, which, of course, will be made in sections, will measure 580 x 580 feet, or 1-82 of a square mile in area.

Further extension is being made to their shipyard by Messrs. Caird & Co., Greenock.

The average annual output of the world in rubber is 90,000 tons, valued at $800,000,000.

COLORS WHICH REPEL FLIES.

Hints for Those Who Wish to Rid Themselves of the Pests.

If you want to drive away flies have the walls of your rooms papered of painted blue, pale violet, dark brown, or lemon yellow.

The advice is based on the outcome of experiments made by a French scientist and recounted by Dr. L. O. Howard, Ph.D., a well-known American public health authority, in his just published book, "The House Fly."

To test the effect of color on the flies a box with glass walls was procured, and the walls were pasted with bits of paper, all of the same size, but of different colors.

The number of flies standing on the different colors were counted, the result being as follows:

Clear green	18
Rose	17
Clear yellow	14
Dark grey	9
White	9
Dark red	8
Black	7
Dark yellow	5
Red	4
Orange	3
Pale rose	3
Very clear green	2
Blue	1
Pale violet	1
Dark brown	1
Lemon yellow	1

Dr. Howard mentions some useful ways of repelling flies. Laurel oil, which the butchers of Geneva use to keep flies from their meat, may be tried with advantage ao health and comfort.

NO FORGOTTEN MEMORY.

Grown old in the service of his master and mistress, James was a privileged retainer.

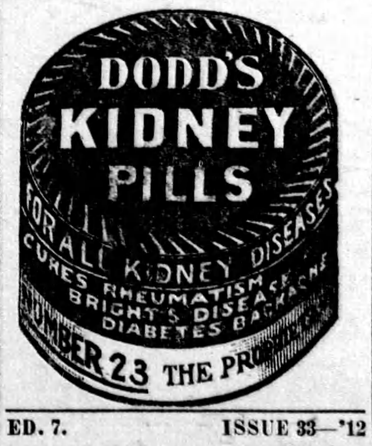
He was waiting at table one day, when a guest politely asked for a fish fork. Strangely enough, the request was ignored.

Then the hostess noticed the episode, and remarked in a most peremptory manner:

"James, Mrs. Jones hasn't a fish fork. Get her one at once!"

"Madam," came the emphatic reply, "last time Mrs. Jones dined here we lost a fish fork."

James has now been relegated to the garden.



A STRANGE RISK.

Lloyds Will Insure a Girl Against Elopement.

They will take any risk at Lloyds. It should be understood that this great corporation has nothing to do with it, but that the brokers issue the policies as individuals. Here are a few specimens of risks actually insured:

The uncle of a rich heiress took out a policy for ten thousand guineas against her eloping with a certain man before a specified date. He paid a thousand guineas premium and the girl did not elope, so the broker was in a thousand guineas.

A young man sued by a girl for damages for breach of promise to marry eight hundred guineas for a policy covering any amount of money the jury might award to the plaintiff. It gave her seven hundred pounds, so the broker made more than a hundred pounds profit.

A cablegram arrived at the office of a ship owner stating that one of his steamers was on the rocks in a dangerous place. The owner took out a policy for £5,500, to be paid to him if the ship was lost. He paid for this a premium of £5,000. The ship was saved so he lost the money.

WONDERFUL PROGRAMME.

Great List of Special Attractions for the C. N. E.

The programme of special attractions for the Canadian National Exhibition has just been issued. It is featured by the Imperial Cadet Review and Competitions with representative corps from all parts of the Empire, and the two famous bands from England, the Scots Guards Band and the Besses O' Th' Barn Band, but these are a small part of the programme. There is enough vaudeville for half a dozen ordinary shows, a historical spectacle, the Siege of Delhi, sixty numbers of Imperial fireworks nightly, Wellington's Zouaves, the Cadet Tatoo, Motor Boat Races, Swimming Races, War Canoe Races, Athletic Meet, Baby Show, etc. It is a truly wonderful programme.

MAKING GOLD FISH.

A large trade in goldfish is now being carried on in Sicily, the coloring being obtained by keeping silver fish in water containing certain chemicals in the form of peat, chalk and iron. After a couple of weeks in this "mixture," the fish are transferred to another bath composed of iron and tan, which has the effect of coloring them red, or black and red, or black, red and silver—according to the length of time they are left in the solution. These fish fetch a better price than the ordinary silver fish, found in large quantities in that region, but it is remarked that so far they die young.
