WATCHES FOR THE MILLIONS.

ARMSTRONG BROS., The Flesherton Jewelers, have established a record for selling Watches of a quality and at a price which defies the competition of country as well as city dealers. We don't sell played out bankrupt stock. We are not bankrupting ourselves. We can charge a working profit and yet give our customers splendid value. Our rent is small and our working expenses are light. We buy the best goods for cash and we share our exceptional advantages with our patrons. This is how we are benefitted and how we benefit those who buy from us. These are the chief reasons why we sell our Watches, our Jewelry, our Wedding and Engagement Gem Rings at rock bottom prices and give splendid value. Our Watches are always phenomenially cheap, good material and splendid timers. We keep all the movements, Elgin, Waltham, Columbia, Illinois, Springfield, St. Thomas and other famous movements.

From our own Correspondent.

Had it not been for the unfavorable weather last week the harvest of 1890 in this section, with one or two exceptions, would have been a thing of the past.

Flesherton is not the only place that is infested with plum thieves. We have heard of the same business here in this hamlet.

Mr. Warling is away at his road contract.

Mr. Osburn is out with his threshing outfit.

Inistioge.

From our own Correspondent.

The harvest in this vicinity is a good one, but it kept long on the field owing to the unfavorable weather.

The frost of Sunday night, the 31st ult., did not do much damage to vegitation.

Mr. John Moore, who has been sick with typhoid fever, is rapidly recovering.

Mr. John Johnson is yet on the sick list, rehumatism is the trouble.

Miss C. Moore has gone to Owen Sound to be present at her cousins wedding, Miss Moore, of Owen Sound.

Messrs. Bier & Beard, of Toronto, who have been visiting Mr. Geo. Acheson, returned home on Thursday last.

Mr. Geo. Moore and Mr. Carom Jordon have purshased a Patterson binder each. The Patterson binder is taking the cake in this section.

Mr. Thomas Ludlow's barn was raised on Friday evening last. Mr. Wm. Morrow and Mr. Geo Johnson were the best men of the evening, Morrow's side was the winner.

Mr. Joseph Blakely is the happy man, he has got both a son and daughter to call him daddy.

Mr. John Hutchinson, of Victoria Harbor, who has been visiting his many friends in this locality, returned home on Saturday last.

The Rev. Mr. Husband, of Priceville, preached the educational sermon here on Sunday last.

It was an awful way, Mr. Editor. in which that Creemore doctor was handled by Bro. Spurr. It's not often that doctors are so roughly handled while attending to patients.

We will have to bid adieu to our fellow correspondents, the readers of The Advance and ye, Editor, as we are about to remove our place of residence and will not be in a situation to act as correspondent for Inistioge any longer. Wishing The Advance and its editor prosperity and happiness I remain yours truly

JOHN F. HUTCHINSON,
Inistioge.

September 8th, 1890.

Priceville.

From our own Correspondent.

The harvest is about ended, and the whistle of the steam thresher is heard to right and left of us.

Mr. H. McDonald has purchased a new engine and separator from a London firm, which, it is said, works very nicely.

A few days ago Mr. Ed. Patterson was reaping a field of grain for Mr. J. McGowan. On finishing the field he proceeded to cross the Durham Road street bridge (which is an exceedingly narrow, frail structure, being one of those "economical" bridges that span some of our township streams. Well, no, not around Flesherton) and when upon the bridge the horses became nervous at having to pass a hole in the earth work, the next moment when upon the plank covering, the grain wheel struck the railing, frightening the horses again, causing them to plunge backward and away went the railing, and machine, driver and horses fell over the bridge, some 12 or 14 feet down into the river beneath. Mr. P. narrowly escaped being crushed beneath the machine, and Mr. J. McGowan had the presence of mind to swiftly snatch the poor old man away just in time to save him from being crushed by one of the horses which clung a few seconds to the bridge, then came crashing down on the spot where the old man had lain. Mr. M. Reily and several other citizens rushed to the scene, waded into the water, and with great difficulty, extricated the horses. One of the horses was badly cut by the guards of the reaper, but Mr. McIntyre, our V. S., will, in all probability, save its life. Mr. Patterson will likely collect damages from the municipality.

And now we are pleased to tell of another wedding that took place here on the 3rd, at Squire Ferguson's residence. His daughter Minnie and Mr. W. A. Parker, of Lion's Head, were the contracting parties. Only the nearest relatives were present at the ceremony. Rev. A. J. Parker, of Hepworth, father of the groom, tied the knot. We were somewhat surprised on seeing the couple drive off to catch the train, dame gossip not having given us even a hint of the approaching event. We wish the young couple success.

Mr. E. J. Ferguson, of Manitowaning, who has been visiting friends here, left on Monday to take in Toron to exhibition before returning home.

Mr. J. Brander has been taking a holiday trip smong his friends in Hamilton and other places.

A Denial.

To the Editor of The Advance.

SIR,—I have seen in your second last issue an advertisement that it is supposed Charles Hales put in referring to some person that had been slandering his character. I have been told that this referred to me. Now, I deny positively that I ever slandered him, and I am willing to take affidavit to it. I could inform Mr. Hales where the rumor was started did I so desire, but it was not through me. GEORGE BEST.

On Saturday Mr. Justice Rose delivered judgment on the findings of the jury in the famous St. George accident cases. The learned judge finds in substance that the jury have disagreed, and unless this finding is reversed on appeal, there will be a second trial before a new jury.
