BANKING OFFICE OF

GEO. MITCHELL,

FLESHERTON.

A general banking business transacted. Drafts issued and cheques cashed at usual rates. Money always available for legitimate business enterprise.

OFFICE two doors north of Richardson & Co's.

Vicinity Chips.

Characteristics of the Past Week Carefully Culled for the Curious.

Dr. Sinclair Coming.

Dr. Sinclair, the well known and popular and clever specialist, of Toronto, will be at the Munshaw hotel, Flesherton, on Wednesday, Oct. 1st. The Doctor stands at the head of his profession, and has had a long, practical experience. He treats only cases which he considers curable, but can tell what may be the matter in all cases. Consultation free.

The Dundalk Herald does not publish a paper this week.

All wool heavy tweed panting at C. J. Leitch's, at bottom prices.

Flesherton has company. Pickering plum and melon thieves are showing their hand.

Those who are needing boots and shoes for fall and winter wear will find it pay to try Clayton.

Flesherton has had a rather forlorn appearance during the past week. Nearly everybody is away to the city.

South Grey teachers' convention will be held in Flesherton on Oct. 9th and 10th, when Dr. McLellan will be present.

Table and Pocket Cutlery. The stock in this department is now large and varied and has been procured from the best makers. M. Richardson & Co.

Inspector Campbell visited the Flesherton public school on Thursday last. He pays a high compliment to Miss Slack's teaching ability.

Indian Relics—a splendid collection will be exhibited free of charge at the fall show to be held in Flesherton on Tuesday and Wednesday next.

I. B. Lucas, barrister, of the firm Bishop & Lucas, Owen Sound, is at the office of Wm. Lucas & Co., in Markdale, every Friday, and in Dundalk every Saturday.

Mr. Robt. Morrow has accepted a position with Moffat & Sons, Markdale. We are sorry to lose Mr. Morrow. He advertises his property for sale elsewhere in this issue.

The Markdale Standard came out last week in the old fashioned form of four pages. We do not admire the change, but of course if friend Rutledge admires it himself we suppose it is all right.

N. Clarke Wallace, M.P., Supreme Grand Master of the Orange order in Canada will address the crowds who are coming to the opening of the Fall Exhibition at Flesherton on Wednesday next.

Complete satisfaction guranteed for all work turned out at C. J. Leitch's merchant tailoring establishment.

Flesherton people should be prepared to welcome a large crowd of visitors on Wednesday of next week, the second day of our fall fair. There is every indication that the crowd of visitors will be a very large one.

Dr. Christoe's offer of a reward for information that would lead to the conviction of certain apple and plum thieves has apparently had a good effect, as we have not heard of any more depredations in that line.

Lamps and Lamp Goods. A large consignment just arrived, beautiful designs at astonishingly low prices at M. Richardson & Co's china hall.

The posters announcing East Grey Fall Exhibition are out. They are well and tastily executed and reflect credit on the Advance office, Flesherton, where they were gotten up. The 23rd and 24th is the date of show.—[Markdale Standard.

We have received the September number of the Canadian Live Stock and Farm Journal. It has lately been much improved in merit, and now stands easily at the head of its class—a veritable vade mecum for the farmer and stock raiser.

WANTED! 500 men, women and children, to buy boots and shoes. All ready on hand and waiting for you to call for them at Clayton's.

The great attractions at the East Grey Exhibition this year—large number of entries in all departments, large collection of Indian Relics, Highland pipers and dancers, etc., etc.,—promise to draw a big crowd on Wednesday next to Flesherton.

The Pickering News supplements our "kick" of last week with the following about a concern which has also disgusted us to such an extent that we did not feel like mentioning the paper's name: "The Canadian Agriculturist, of Peterboro, has kindly offered to visit us once a month for a whole year if we will publish its half column adv. for four weeks. The offer has been caused by the fact that country newspapers are clamoring for a place on its exchange list, and it wants to be gracious. The Agriculturist had better make its generous offers to those papers who are doing the clamoring. The unequalled gall and cheek of the various proposals received by us from that Peterboro journal during the past two years are ceasing to amuse us as they once did. It is small surprise to us that rural weeklies are going to the wall every year when such offers continue to be made—for they would not be made unless some fool publisher accepted them. Too many editors have no more knowledge of business than a monkey has of astronomy, and they place such value on their space that the general public soon regard it as valueless. Let these "word competition" fellows pay cash for their advs. They will do so, because they cannot run their schemes profitably without the country weeklies."

Everybody who can should visit the East Grey Exhibition at Flesherton, on Wednesday next—a day full of entertainment for old or young.

China Hall. Parties visiting the Flesherton fall show should not fail to cal and see the beautiful stock of china an glrssware just opened out at M. Richardson & Co's.

Owing to death and sickness in the family, Mr. Rumball, who was about starting in the stove and tinware business here, in partnership with Mr. Strain, has intimated that he will be unable to come.

Messrs. Moffat & Sons, stove manufacturers, of Markdale, have their large advertisement in this issue. The firm is a growing one, and the stoves manufactured are giving the greatest of satisfaction, as evidenced by their largely increasing business. They understand the value of good workmanship and printers' ink. We have examined their wares, and consider them superior and cheaper than other makes. Buy the "Pearl' stove and you will be fully satisfied.

Fresh arrivals of boots and shoes fresh from two of the best manufacturies. Your attention is invited to a choice and carefully selected assortment at Clayton's, Flesherton.

Notice.

I will be in Flesherton on Sept. 23 and 24, fair days, with pumps suitable for all kinds of wells, such as cistern, barn yard and well pumps, brass, iron and beech cylinders. Iron piping, etc. Repairs for all makes of pumps. Satisfaction guaranteed or no pay. W. H. BULL.

At C. J. Leitch's you can find a full collection of suiting, overcoating, and panting at prices bound to satisfy. Call and see.

Artemesia Fall Fair.

A communication from the secretary asks us to make the following corrections with reference to Artemesia fall fair prize list. The show will be held at Priceville on Tuesday and Wednesday, Oct. 14 and 15, not Wednesday and Thursday. The following prizes have been added: In poultry, Plymouth Rock rooster, 40c. and 25c.; Plymouth Rock hen, 40c. and 25c. A special second prize is given by Mr. Cairns of $2 for one year old colt; also second prize of $1 for spring colt; to have been got by Farmer's Friend.

Jobs Let.

On Saturday last three important road jobs were let on the road leading from this village to the station The small hill at J. Adams' is to be levelled, the work of which will be done by Mr. Jacob Thompson for the sum of $49. A large job was let at Flesher's pond to Mr. Thomas Grainger, which will consist of cutting down two hills, widening culvert and straightening the road, also a large amount of filling, for the sum of $96. The third job was for cutting down the hill at the drill shed in this village and filling in both ways. Mr. Grainger also secured this job for $29.

A Modern Charm.

Mr. John Foster, Raymond, Ont., writes:—Nasal Balm acts like a charm for my catarrh. I have only used it a short time and now feel better than at any period during the last seven years. In fact I am sure of a cure and at a very small expense.

Solid comfort and durability in boots made by Clayton, either sewed or pegged. First class leather only used and good workmanship done.

Church News.

Mr. Clark, a student, of Horning's Mills, preached a good sermon in the Presbyterian church on Sunday afternoon last.

Mr. A. M. Gibson has been appointed treasurer of the Presbyterian church, in place of Mr. Anderson, resigned.

It was announced from the Presbyterian pulpit on Sabbath last that there would be an election of three elders on Sunday, 28th inst.

Rev. Mr. Tonge drew his hearers' attention on Sunday night to the necessity of making preparations for the annual harvest home festival. There are still six hundred dollars indebtedness upon the church, and he thought it a good plan to apply the proceeds of this year's festival to reducing the debt. The event will come off about the second week in October, date of which will shortly be announced.

Orangemen of East Grey will have a grand opportunity of hearing the Grand Master of the order at Flesherton on Wednesday next at the opening of the East Grey Fall Exhibition.

Fall Goods Large consignment of dress goods, millinery, clothings, boots and shoes, etc., are now being opened up and will be one of the attractions next week at M. Richardson and Co's.

Proton Station.

We paid Proton Station a short visit on Saturday last and formed the acquaintance of many of its worthy citizens. The place is rather quiet during the summer months, but in the winter season things generally hum. There are two sawmills, both idle at present. Mr. F. Freeman, general storekeeper and postmaster, does a good business. He has a neat store, well filled with everything required, and has a good reputation for square dealing. Proton station has a hotel of which it should feel proud. It is well appointed and presided over by Mr. R. H. Middaugh, who has about arranged for the purchase of the business from Mr. Wm. Elder. There are two women in the County of Grey who know how to cook a good beefsteak. One is Mrs A. Munshaw, and the other is Mrs. Middaugh, of Proton Station. We have proved both and know it is nip and tuck between them as to who can do it most scientifically. Mr. Middaugh keeps a good house and should do a good business Mr. W. J. Martin presides over a neat little station house. Mr. Martin is something of a mineralogist, having lived in the phosphate country of eastern Ontario for a couple of years. He has a large number of valuable specimens, which he has kindly loaned for an exhibit at the East Grey show, where they will be on exhibition. There are not many very handsome residences at Proton Station, but there is one which, owing to situation and appearance is very attractive. It is built on the hill east of the station and belongs to Mr. Wm. Ludlow. It overlooks the village and a considerable extent of country. Mr. Ludlow has a nice home. Proton Station has grown considerably during the last few years, now numbering about sixty inhabitants, but is at present almost at a standstill. We have secured a good good correspondent at that village, and expect to double our subscription list at that point during the next few weeks. We added six during the couple of hours we were there, which proves that the people were only waiting to be asked, and that The Advance is the popular paper.

COUNTY AND DISTRICT.

The Beeton World has purchased a type-setting machine.

Mr. Angus McGinnis, of the Flesherton station hotel, is building a barn on the 4th con., Glenelg. The building will be 44x60 ft. The foundation put up by Mr. M. McMillan is now complete and is said to be one of the finest barn foundations in the township.—[Grey Review.

THE BEETON "ARTIST" DELIGHTED.

One of the most beautiful sunsets we have seen for a long time was that of Monday evening. A heavy mass of clouds caught the fiery shafts of the sinking orb upon its rolling billows, presenting the appearance of a raging sea of fire, while through the rifts of the clouds the sky beyond was painted a brilliant blue, such as is rarely seen in Canadian skies, the whole making a panorama of gorgeous coloring that would delight the soul of an artist.—[Beeton World.
