COUNTY AND DISTRICT.

The teaching staff of Meaford's new high school has been appointed.

The Owen Sound fall show is deteriorating, and this year was a "fizzle."

Mr. W. E. Bennett, of the Beeton World, was married in Bowmanville Friday to Mrs. May Webster Barret, associate editor of the Canadian Statesman.

The Sun advocates employing two or three sextons for caretaking of the Owen Sound cemetery, and thinks a finer appearing burying ground should be secured.

Mr. Sunter, of the Meaford Monitor, should sit down, now that he has received the Owen Sound Sun's unbiased opinion. If he does not he will shortly begin to appear ridiculous.

The tug Agnes was in port the other day. One of the tug's crew was no less a personage than Mr. Jack Benwell, cousin of the unfortunate man so foully murdered by Birchall. This Benwell was one of the ill-fated crew of the Annie Watt, run down by the Alderson.—[O.S. Sun.

People who are in the habit of using those small potash lozenges for throat affections should be very careful as they are explosive. Two instances have come under our personal observation. Last Monday, at Melancthon Council meeting, Mr. Rich. Slack, township treasurer, had the lining of his coat badly burned. Some matches had come in contact with the lozenges in such a way as to cause an explosion resembling the firing of a small quantity of powder. Of course the fire was speedily extinguished. The editor's brother, H. T. S. had a similar experience during his sojourn in Shelburne. Probably some mysterious house fires have had their origin in the same manner.—[Shelburne Economist.

The Beeton World tells of a strange accident. A man named Dowland was digging a well with the assistance of a boy and a horse to raise the bucket. The boy by some means backed the horse too near the edge of the well, and without a moment's warning the ground caved in letting the animal down upon Mr. Dowland, who fortunately managed to keep partly clear of the animal, else he would without doubt have been killed. As it was he was very badly hurt. His leg was crushed and he received some very bad cuts about the head, one ear being nearly severed. The horse was killed by the fall. Medical attendance was immediately summoned and the injured man attended to and it is expected he will be able to be around again in a month's time.

With Our Correspondents.

Eugenia

From an Occasional Correspondent.

Mr. Hiram Bowerman and Mr. John Bowerman have returned from the domains of Uncle Sam. They both come to the conclusion that there is no place like home.

Mr. J. W. Hoath and his better half were visiting friends in this neighborhood on Sunday last. Every one was glad to see them.

The Williams boys are doing a rushing business this season with their threshing machine. They cannot attend to one half the calls they get. They were threshing for Mr. Frank Carr the other day. After finishing Mr. Carr proposed that they should go down and thresh what little grain Mr. Woodburn had. They went, all hands, and surprised the old couple. They threshed 125 bush. of oats, seven bush. of rye and twelve bushels of peas in fifty five minutes. They ran through five bags of peas in five minutes. That is as good as some of their steam threshers.

That gully at Beecroft's hill is quite safe now, so all say that have to pass over it. What a good thing that railing is on a dark night.

There are quite a few weddings expected to come off around here this fall of which you will hear more soon.

ENOCH ARDEN.

McIntyre.

From our own Correspondent.

As there is no correspondent from this place to the Advance I venture to send you a few items of news hoping it may be of interest to some.

Most people in this part are busy digging potatoes, or were during the fine weather of last week. The crop is generally good on heavy soil, rot has appeared but not of any amount.

A great many of our young men are again leaving McIntyre for the woods in Michigan and other places. Among those departed are J. McLean, Arch. McInnis, Wm. Muirhead, H. McLean and Norman McLean and more will follow shortly.

A great many of the prizes of the Osprey fair came to this part for stock and garden stuff.

Dan McDonald from Toronto police force was visiting his parents here last week. J. McDonald from Midland was also home on a visit nursing a sore hand received while testing a saw in a mill he has charge of in Midland.

A large number of our citizens visited the G. N. exhibition, Collingwood, on Wednesday and Thursday last.

Proton Station.

From our own Correspondent.

R. & W. Wilson have taken possession of the Carnochan mill. It is good to hear saw and shingle mill again. We hope they will do well. They are first rate men to deal with.

A Sunday school social was held in the Presbyterian church on Wednesday. The school performed their part in the evening entertainment admirably. There was a good adulence as it was largely patronized by friends from a distance. The mob were entertained at the door by the Siamese twins who were in good spirits. The proceeds of the evening were not made public.

A special train will be ready to convey the results of the scrub hunt to New York.

Flesherton Station.

By our own Reporter.

Mr. A. McInnes left here last week for Kamloops, British Columbia, with a car load of thoroughbred short horns, nearly all under a year old and were the best lot all through that has been shipped from here for some time.

Miss Flossie McLeod, daughter of Donald McLeod, has been dangerously ill the past few days with inflamation on the bowels.

Mr. Jno. Egan, formerly of Dundalk, has opened up a store in the Cook block on Main street and intends supplying the village with a first class line of fresh groceries. We hope to see him get a good trade. Keen competition is woefully needful here, as the present prices prices in all articles are away up.

For the past few days grain has been coming in pretty lively and it is amusing to see our opposition buyers get a curve when they see a load in sight.

Wonder how the dance came off last night over on Mulligan street?

Messrs. Cook & Pickell shipped a good mixed car load to west cattle market, Toronto, Tuesday night.

Mr. Reed, who has been seriously ill for some time, is slowly mending. He leaves for his home in Paisley in a few days, accompanied by his father, who at present is stopping with him at the hotel.

Quite an enjoyable evening was spent a few nights since at Mr. J. McLaughlin's a few miles west of here. In spite of the rainy night there was a large crowd assembled in which all gaily took part, and tripped the light fantastic toe till the wee sma' hours in the morning. My, but didn't Crossley get there in that Scotch reel!

Leather went up, up, up, and boots had to follow. M. Richardson & Co. are giving customers the benefit of prices obtained in large purchases made early before the advance.

General News.

The wife of General Booth, commander-in-chief of the Salvation Army, died on Saturday.

The Northern Fair at Walkerton closed on Saturday. The receipts were in Advance of former years, but the exhibits were not quite so good.

The end of the first quarter of the fiscal year shows a surplus in the Dominion treasury of $3,856,097.

According to Monday's Globe Birchall still denies his guilt of having murdered Benwell, but acknowledges having been an accessory. It is expected that he will make a confession before he dies.
