

Capt. Wainman Home Met Brother Under Unusual Conditions

Capt. Harold Wainman, son of Mr. B. A. Wainman, arrived home from overseas a few days ago and is being welcomed by many friends..

It is interesting to note that Capt Wainman, who enlisted at Millbrook as a private, has been overseas over four years and gained his promotion because of recognized ability and merit.

Incidentally Capt. Wainman met his brother Orville Wainman overseas unexpectedly and in a manner worthy of mention. Orville Wainman has been mentioned several times because of his work in connection with army entertainment, he being a member of one of the foremost groups of its kind.

---

CAPT. HAROLD WAINMAN

---

While Capt. Wainman was being driven in his jeep in one particular area, the driver of the jeep asked permission to call around at a place of entertainment to see a girl friend belonging to the show. The permission was readily granted and Capt. Wainman sat in the back seat of the jeep until the party emerged. It was dark and although Capt. Wainman was surprised and delighted to see that the soldier in charge of the show talent was his brother Orville, he did not let on this fact until his brother was in the car. When Orville suddenly recognized his brother Captain, there was great rejoicing in the jeep.

Mr. R. A. Wainman, 72 King St., went to Peterboro yesterday to meet his son, Capt. H. I. Wainman, who returned from Overseas aboard the Queen Elizabeth.