International Stock Food

DON'T let your horses run down during the winter and get so soft that they will lose flesh badly when you start your spring plowing. If horses are not worked regularly during the winter, they need the splendid tonic effects of INTERNATIONAL STOCK FOOD, to tone up their digestive organs, enable them to get all the good out of their feed, prevent the blood from becoming overheated, and thus ward off disease.

LANGHAM, SASK., Jan. 26th, 1912.
"I have fed INTERNATIONAL STOCK FOOD for many years. I always have a 25 pound pail standing in my barn. I bought a pair of three year old colts and they were so worked down that my neighbors said I had been beat. When I bought the colts, they weighed 2400 lbs. I ploughed 25 acres and they weighed 2[illegible]—then I harvested 163 acres and threshed and hauled one carload to town, 6 miles, I weighed them again and they weighed 2850, and I said "They shall weigh 3000 before spring". Now, the Neighbors want to buy them but there's no chance". J. G. REMPEL.

Burglaring For Booze

A most daring attempt was made last Friday night about 10 o'clock to break into the residence of Isaac Traynor, J.P. For over a month he has had the custody of three cases of liquor which were seized by High Constable Cook, and this is the booty that is supposed to have been sought for. With a brace and bit a hole was made in the outside cellar door at the rear of the house large enough to admit of a hand being passed through to release the fastening on the inside. The miscreants (supposed to be three of them) got into the cellar but could not find the liquor. The noise was heard by Mr. and Mrs. Traynor and their visitor, Mrs. Traynor Jr., but they were not alarmed till they examined the cellar and found the door broken open. The "birds" had flown after failing in their designs. There is no clue as to the identity of the burglars other than foot prints around the cellar door. There is suspicion of certain parties but there is nothing definite as yet to base a conviction upon. Conviction means a penitentiary term. We understand the liquor is stored in the vault in the town hall awaiting the decision of the Pol Magistrate as to the trials re ently held.—Dundalk Herald.

A Regular Old Sherlock.

"Poor girl!" said the general manager as the young woman who had just applied for a position as stenographer walked out of his office.

"What's her trouble?" asked his secretary.

"It's too bad that a girl who is so pretty—one who might be living in luxury—is compelled to go out looking for work because she refused to listen to her parents. You heard her say she was married, didn't you?"

"Yes, but I didn't hear her mention her parents."

"Evidently you have not developed much ability in the way of making deductions. Why would a girl with such eyes, such hair, such a complexion, such teeth, such a beautiful face and such a figure as hers have to go out looking for work if she hadn't married against her parents' wishes?"—Chicago Record-Herald.

Population in United States.

The United States at present is in no danger of overpopulation. The Japanese empire has about 50,000,000 people, and the Japanese empire is of the same area as the single state of California. The German empire has 64,000,000, and the German empire is 00,000 square miles less than the state of Texas. The United States of America could furnish room and support for at least a billion human beings. It will be a long time before the danger line is reached in this nation and the population begin to encroach upon the means of subsistence. There is no cause for immediate worry.—Exchange.

As to the Dog.

"My dog understands every word I say."

"Um."

"Do you doubt it?"

"No; I do not doubt the brute's intelligence. The scant attention he bestows upon your conversation would indicate that he understands it perfectly."—Kansas City Journal.

Young Man Killed

During the heavy wind storm on Friday last Harold Hill, son of Archibald Hill, of Meaford, was terribly injured on the street by a falling roof thrown from a store. He was taken to the hospital at Collingwood and died shortly afterward.

The young man had been living in Toronto and had taken a situation in his home town a few days ago. He left Toronto January 14th for Meaford. He was a steady worker and of the very best habits.

When the fire alarm rang he ran out of his home to see where the trouble was, and just as he got on the street was hit by a falling roof, which smashed his head almost to a jelly. He was aged about twenty-five years.
