OTTAWA REPORTS

That Already 3,500 Veterans Have Applied For Farms

This time peace will bring no inflated land boom, no rush to grab sections of Canada's broad farm lands. Today's back-to-the-land movement is an orderly settlement venture woven into Canada's plans for the rehabilitation of veterans. Already some 3,500 service men have applied for farms under the Soldier Settlement and Veterans' Land Act; but administrators of the act have set no time limit on applications because they would like to see orderly settlement over a period of 10 years rather than a short-term concentration of demand. Consequently applicants are carefully screened, told that farming is a serious business, given advice on latest methods and modern soil cultivation, and they must have had some practical farming experience. If a veteran is accepted by the regional advisory committee which interviews him, he selects the farm he wants, sets out the financial assistance he needs, and the property is appraised by an expert land inspector. If found acceptable in all respects, the administration purchases the property and re-sells to the veteran under agreement of sale. Men connected with this work expect that some 25,000 veterans will eventually apply for farms. Surveys indicate that about 5% of service personnel are interested in fulltime farming.

* * *

A recent survey of Canada's farm picture reveals that there are 86,000,000 acres of land under cultivation—about one-quarter of total possible farm land in the country. According to the 1941 census, there were nearly 733,000 farms in Canada operated by close to 1,082,000 persons gainfully occupied in farming. This figure equals 9.4% of Canada's total population. During the war about 400,000 persons left farms to enter the armed forces and war industry, some of whom may not go back. Another factor in the farm population outlook is the fact that about 75,000 farmers are in the aging class of 60 or over, thus becoming prospective sellers of their lands. It is therefore expected that most of Canada's new soldier-farmers will settle on existing cultivations rather than virgin land.

Canada's entire contribution of $77,000,000 to the United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Administration has been used up. Besides, UNRRA spent considerable United States funds to purchase goods in Canada. Much of this money has gone to Canadian farmers who have supplied UNRRA with vast quantities of wheat, seed, meat and dairy products. More than half the wheat sent to Europe since V-E Day has been Canadian, and this percentage will be kept up during the present crop year. At this rate there will be only about 100,000,000 bushels left on hand by next July. Consequently the Canadian Wheat Board has lifted the 14-bushel-an-acre limit on wheat deliveries. This should put an additional 15,000,000 bushels into the United Nations' food basket.

Nine of every 10 hogs slaughtered are beng rushed to seaboard ports to meet the United Kingdom's urgent request for more bacon. Canada will try to add 3,000 pounds to each of its 11,000-pound monthly shipments in October and November.

* * *

Canadian Federation of Agriculture statistics show that in the five years, 1939 to 1944 inclusive, Canada exported to the United Kingdom 2,600,000,000 pounds of bacon and pork; 197,000,000 pounds of beef (in 1944 and to June 1945, inclusive); 601,500,000 pounds of cheese; 180,000,000 dozen eggs; 189,000,000 pounds of evaporated milk. Canadians travelling in England say the best known of these products are dried or powdered eggs, unmistakeably a product of Canada with a picture of a scarlet-coated Royal Canadian Mounted Policeman on the package. This food has given sustenance to millions of homes, but as shipping space eases, more and more shell eggs will be sent. British housewives will be glad to get good Canadian shell eggs again because powdered eggs, though healthful, are not as tasty a dish.

Approximately 50 per cent of the total milk production in Canada goes into butter, 20 per cent to fluid milk sales, 10 per cent to cheese, 3½ per cent to concentrated milk products, 1½ per cent to ice cream and 15 per cent is fed and used on farms.

Milk production has increased in Canada from 15.8 billion pounds in 1939 to 17.6 billion pounds in 1944, an increase of 11"6 per cent. 1944, an icrease of 11"6 per cent.

U.S. Obligation To Great Britain

This newspaper, the New York Herald Tribune believes that the moral obligation which we owe to Great Britain and the special position which she occupies with respect to world trade rehabilitation—which is of major importance to our own recovery—alike dictate that we should lean over backward to be liberal in the terms on which aid is extended.

Millions of Books Burned in Raids

The books the Nazis burned were not only in German bonfires. More than 1,000,000 books were destroyed by fire in German bombing raids on England, the British Library Association discloses, most of them in municipal libraries. Some 54,000 children's books went up in flames, and thousands of special collections housed in the libraries are gone forever.

Ninth Victory Loan Truly A War Loan

There exists no magic wand one can use to waft military forces from the scenes of battle to their normal home surroundings overnight. Unfortunately, long after the enemy cries surrender, the cost of war goes on.

The Canadian people must meet the cost of bringing the troops home, the maintenance of our forces of occupation in Germany. Pay of the men who are waiting demobilization goes on. Cheques to dependents keep going out until the soldier has his discharge paper.

There are heavy domestic expenditures, made heavier by the unprecedented demands of this period of re-construction in the country, which are included in the total of the Ninth Victory Loan objective. But of this we can be sure. The major portion of the money which Canadians will provide for the purchase of bonds in October and November is needed to cover the cost of war.

Britain To Replace Merchant Ships

Britain is to replace all shipping losses suffered by those United Nations who placed their merchant ships at the disposal of the Allied cause during the war. Seven British merchant ships, for instance, have recently been sold to France, and a further three are to follow. Besides this, the British Government has granted widespread facilities for the building of French merchant ships in British shipyards. Similar concessions are being granted by the British Government to other United Nations.
