

MISSING

Oakwood, (PNS) -- On Sunday, June 17, a Memorial Service was held in the Oakwood United Church for A.B. Seaman Milton Whymark, who was lost at sea when the Corvette Shawinigan was torpedoed.

The service was in charge of his pastor, Rev. F. R. Vanderburgh, M.A., B.D., who stated that while the service was for Milton, we wished to include others who were present in the congregation who had suffered deeply because of the war. The message which was for all, was especially for the Youth of our community. One of the selections by the choir, "Pass On The Torch" was especially appropriate. The Last Post was sounded by Byrnell Wylie.

The church was decorated with two large baskets of Spring flowers on each side, while in the centre a picture of Milton in a white Naval uniform was draped with a large Union Jack. Behind this was a basket of large flaming Oriental poppies.

Some of the friends who were present at the service were his widow, Mrs. Milton Whymark, from Halifax, N.S., his father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Art Whymark, of Oakwood, his sister, Mrs. Starr of Little Britain, with her husband, his brother Art and his wife from Toronto, and Mr. and Mrs. Golson, intimate friends from Toronto.

Again we extend the deep sympathy of the village and community to the bereaved friends.
