International Stock Food

DON'T let your horses run down during the winter and get so soft that they will lose flesh badly when you start your spring plowing. If horses are not worked regularly during the winter, they need the splendid tonic effects of INTERNATIONAL STOCK FOOD, to tone up the digestive organs, enable them to get all the good out of their feed, prevent the blood from becoming overheated, and thus ward off disease.

LANGHAM, SASK., Jan. 26th, 1912.
"I have fed INTERNATIONAL STOCK FOOD for many years. I always have a 25 pound pail standing in my barn. I bought a pair of three year old colts and they were so worked down that my neighbors said I had been beat. When I bought the colts, they weighed 2400 lbs. I ploughed 25 acres and they weighed 2650—then I harvested 163 acres and threshed and hauled one carload to town, 6 miles, I weighed them again and they weighed 2850, and I said "They shall weigh 3000 before spring". Now, the Neighbors want to buy them but there's no chance". J. G. REMPEL.

Egg Circles

An important part of the poultry work of the Live Stock Branch of the Department of Agriculture, during the past year has been the organization of Co-operative Egg Circles. Ten circles in all have been organized under the auspices of the Branch, working in conjunction with the provincial and agricultural college authorities and the poultry producers Association of Canada. The preliminary work in connection with a number of others has been done, and from present indications it is apparent that this phase of co-operative work is likely to have a rapid growth in the near future. Being primarily concerned with the improvement of the Canadian Egg Trade the Live Stock Branch has encouraged the formation of these circles because the movement affords a means whereby the quality of eggs can be improved as they leave the farm, and the pernicious practice of holding eggs both on the farm and in the country store largely eliminated. Co-operative effort of this kind also affords a medium whereby the eggs in any given community may be collected and marked frequently and regularly, and insures to the consumer a new-laid egg of uniform quality at no great increase in cost.

At the time of joining the association the members agree to stamp each egg with a given number designated by the Board of Directors. This is done so that the eggs of each member may be identified when graded and payment made according to quality.

A manager is appointed by the Board of Directors whose business it is to collect, grade, sell the eggs and apportion the returns among the members according to the quantity and quality received. In most circles the eggs from each farm are collected at stated intervals, but in others the members deliver the eggs to some central point such as a creamery, cheese factory, store or house, from which the manager makes the shipment.

It is well known that at certain seasons of the year there is a wide difference between the price received for eggs by the farmer in the country store and the price paid by the consumer in the city. This difference is not nearly so marked in the spring of the year as it is in the late summer, fall and winter. In other words, as the quality of ordinary farm eggs become more uncertain the premium placed on new-laid circle eggs increases. While during the spring of the year prices received by circle members may not greatly exceed those paid in the local store, it is a fact that for the eggs produced in the month of December last year the majority of circles in the provinces of Ontario and Quebec received a price of from 45 to 50 cents a dozen.

A limited number of circles will no doubt be able to take advantage of the rapidly growing select trade in the larger. Canadian cities, but from the fact that the egg dealers in Ontario and Quebec have recently adopted a new system of buying on a basis of quality, it is likely that the product of the majority of circles will find its way to the consumer through the more recently established channels of trade.

The Live Stock Branch stands ready and willing to help on the Egg Circle movement in every possible way. Officers of this Branch are now in the field, and there is available a quantity of literature, including outlines of constitutions, by-laws, etc., dealing with the work, copies of which may be obtained on request from the Live Stock Commissioner, Ottawa.

A Narrow Escape

Mr. Albert Bacon, a farmer living on lot 17, 4th line, west, Caledon, had a narrow escape from death by a lightning bolt on Wednesday morning of last week. As stated in last week's issue, Mr. Bacon had three horses and two cows killed by lightning. He was in the stable at the time, feeding his stock and was knocked over and rendered unconscious by the electric current. He was just in the act of picking up a milk pail when the flash came, for the purpose of milking one of the cows that was killed. The manner in which the lightning affected the horses was peculiar. There were seven of them tied in stalls that stood side by side. A yearling colt in the back stall was knocked down and did not revive for a full half hour or longer. A two year old in the next stall was knocked over but was up again in a few minutes. A three year old in the third stall was killed as were the horses in the fifth and seventh stalls. The horses tied in fourth and sixth stalls were stunned, but not badly injured. The horses that escaped death are all burned badly about the heads. In some cases the eye lashes were burned off and the ears badly singed. The current took a splinter off a fork handle in the barn, struck a water pipe about 25 feet from the building, followed this a distance of 150 feet to a water trough and ripped one side of the trough. Mr. Bacon is quite nervous from the effects of the shock and subsequent excitement, but otherwise has not experienced any noticeable ill effects.—Orangeville Banner.

Who Owns the Hall?

An amusing mix-up has occurred in which a Brampton merchant and several farmers of the country are interested. Mr. James Martin, of Brampton, having learned that the temperance hall in Derry West village was closed and the building for sale, communicated with the grand lodge, to ascertain who owned it, as he wished to purchase it. He was informed that the building was the property of the grand lodge, the charter having been cancelled some time ago. Mr. Martin made an offer for the building and contents, which was accepted and removed a load of benches and other property from the place. The former members of the society met him on his next visit and informed him that they were still the owners and forbade him to remove anything. Mr. Martin explained his position, but as the members claim that the charter still hangs on the wall and that they have never given up the key and that they are still the owners of the property. He is awaiting expert advice before making a move. The situation is an interesting one as the Grand Lodge claims that by their constitution when a lodge has disbanded their charter is cancelled and the property reverts back to them. As the members were rather belligerent on the purchaser's second visit he is unwilling to take the law into his own hands by forcibly removing the contents of the building which he hoped to move from its present site and use for other purposes.—Orangeville Banner.

Be Careful!

You better be careful in the selection of your twine this year. Be sure you get the best. Beware of mixed twines, which are really composed of low grade manila. They are unsatisfactory at the best, and they will annoy you to death straightening out tangles and picking up loose bundles. Buy good sisal, standard sisal, or high-grade manila binder twine and save yourself annoyance.

When you consider the satisfaction that sisal, standard sisal and high-grade manila binder twine will give and the amount of extra labor good twine will save, you will more fully understand the value of McCormick twines. McCormick binder twine is made in four brands—sisal, standard, manila, pure manila. Every brand is up to the McCormick quality. You will get perfect satisfaction if you use McCormick twine.

Don't be misled, come direct to us and we will explain the twine proposition.
