STRENGTH FOR WEAK STOMACH

Can Only Be Had Through Rich Red Blood.

When the blood is poor and thin and the stomach in consequence is imperfectly supplied with oxidized blood and nerve force, the digestive process becomes slow and fermentations of the food goes on, with the formation of gas and certain acids. The pressure of the gas causes pain in the stomach; sometimes it affects the heart. When the gas is belched out through the mouth the patient is temporarily relieved, the sour risings in the throat, and the burning sensations in the throat and stomach are caused by the acid fermentations. There are plenty of things to neutralize these acids, or to "sweeten the stomach," as it is called, but they do not cure the trouble. Pure, rich blood which will tone up the stomach and enable it to do the work nature intended it to do, is the only road to a cure. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills make new, rich, red blood—that is why they cure even the most obstinate cases of indigestion. The following is a bit of proof. Miss Minnie Greene, of Hall's Bridge, Ont., says: "About a year ago I was greatly troubled with my stomach. Everything I ate caused me pain and distress. I would feel as though I was starved, but when meal time came the sight of food caused a feeling of loathing. There were days when I could not even hold milk on my stomach, and my head would ache so that I could hardly keep from screaming. Only those who have suffered from stomach trouble know the torture I suffered. I tried almost every remedy recommended, but found not the least benefit until I began taking Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. These I used for a couple of months and they worked a perfect cure and I am enjoying good health and able to eat freely all kinds of food."

If you are suffering from indigestion or any other trouble due to poor watery blood, begin to cure yourself to-day by the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Sold by all medicine dealers or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

PARIS TO BE FENCED.

Fence to be Twenty Miles and Cost $2,000,000.

Paris, France, is to be completely enclosed by an ornamental iron fence 10 feet in height.

This fence will be 20 miles in length, and its purpose is to prevent people from passing into the city without paying the "octroi" or local duties on foodstuffs, gasoline and intoxicating liquors, which constitute a large portion of the civic revenues.

The gates or entrances will be guarded by officials, the fence being the modern substitute for the walls of the past. What remains of the old walls of Paris will be levelled.

The cost of the fence will be about $2,000,000.

WHEN BABY CRIES.

When the baby cries continually do not put it down for pure ugliness—that is not the baby's nature—it is to be happy and laughing. Every baby should cry on an average of fifteen or twenty minutes a day—that is how he strengthens his lungs. But mothers if your baby gives sharp piercing cries or low sobbing wails, he is in pain and needs attention. Nothing will relieve the little one so quickly as Baby's Own Tablets. They regulate the stomach and bowels, expel worms, break up cold, and will make baby healthy and happy. The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

A platonic lover is usually a quiet chap who saves his money.

Little Dave was detected by his father in the act of stealing from one of his little playmates. The father, not believing in corporal punishment, concluded to try a moral lecture. After pointing out the wrong of such an act, he said: "Always bear in mind, my boy, that these temptations can be resisted if you turn a deaf ear to them." Dave's lip trembled as he replied: "But, father, what can I do? I ain't got a deaf ear."

Broker Arranges Marriages.

In Italy marriage brokers are a regular institution. They have pocket-books filled with the names of marriageable maidens in various ranks of life, and go about trying to arrange matches. When they are successful they receive a commission and very likely something extra as a voluntary gift from their customer.

WOULD SAVE LIVES OF BIRDS

Scientist Pleads for Restriction of New Guinea Trade.

The demand for furs and feathers to add charm to the women of the world is constantly running counter to the efforts of Governments and scientists to preserve the birds and animals whose lives are sacrificed to supply these adornments. Birds of paradise are found in far Africa, but the sale for their feathers for women's wear is so profitable that measures for their protection must be adopted by the Parliaments of nations, else they soon would be exterminated.

Prof. Schillings, the German naturalist who made a reputation for himself by his camera studies of animal life in the wilds of Africa, is urging the Government to take energetic steps to prevent the extermination of these birds in German New Guinea. He points to the example of British New Guinea, where the Government prevents altogether the export of the plumes of the bird. In the German colony, on the other hand, the authorities grant permits to shoot it to any man who clears and brings under cultivation 123 acres of original forest for the German New Guinea Company. Schillings hints that whites, with hunting rights, compel the natives to assist them in finding the birds by turning their guns upon them in case of refusal. Schillings appeals to the German Government to imitate the American example and prohibit altogether the importation of feathers for millinery and similar uses. Australia, too, he says, prohibits both the import and export of plumes of birds threatened with extermination. A law against such imports has been passed by the British House of Lords, but the Commons have not yet passed it, using the argument that Germany and France would derive the chief benefit from such legislation.

Professor Schillings is greatly concerned also about certain furbearing animals. He things it is only a question of time when the Polar bear, the musk-ox and the silver fox will be practically exterminated. Whales and seals are yearly growing scarcer in the Arctic and Antarctic waters; in the vast forests of Russia the sable is rapidly approaching extinction, and the same is true of the chinchilla in the Andes Mountains.

All the Tired Nervous Women

CAN FIND A CURE IN DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS.

Madame Perreault Tells How She Cured Her Kidneys With Dodd's Kidney Pills, and Found Health and Contentment.

Verner, Ont., May 19 (Special)—"I am very content. Dodd's Kidney Pills have made me well." Those are the words of Madame Eugene Perreault, a highly-respected lady of this place and mother of a large family. For twenty years she was a sufferer. But, let her tell her own story.

"I was always tired and nervous," she states. "I felt heavy and sleepy after meals. My limbs were heavy and I had a dragging sensation across my loins. My skin itched and burned at night. I had a bitter taste in my mouth, especially in the morning. In twenty years I hardly knew what it was to have a well moment. Then I commenced to use Dodd's Kidney Pills. Six boxes cured me."

Madame Perreault's symptoms were those of kidney disease. They are the symptoms of nine out of ten of the nervous, rundown, pain-racked women of Canada. Madame Perreault found a speedy and complete cure in Dodd's Kidney Pills. They simply cured her kidneys.

SUFFERINGS OF TURKS.

Terrible Scenes Witnessed After Fall of Adrianople.

A woman connected with the British Red Crescent staff gives an appalling picture of the treatment of Turkish prisoners after the capture of Adrianople. They were left without food or shelter. They stripped the bark from trees to make tiny smoke fires, but as their hunger grew they were forced to eat the bark and do without fires.

The majority lay in a dumb patience and silent misery more touching than any words or moans. Their eyes were sunken in their heads, their cheeks fallen into great hollows, their bones projecting through their skin with hunger, and their lips and tongues cracked, blackened and useless.

One or two drank literally with their last breath. While one man was being given water there would be another close beside him who would lick up the drops that fell, or try to put his finger in it and at least have that to suck.

Good Advice.

"My son," said the old hunter, "you are starting out to earn your living as a guide. Remember that some people will want to see bear, while others will want to see bear tracks."

"Yes, dad."

"If they're satisfied with tracks, don't try to show 'em bear."

HER "BEST FRIEND."

A Woman Thus Speaks of Postum.

We usually consider our best friends those who treat us best.

Some persons think tea and coffee are real friends, but watch them carefully awhile and observe that they are two of the meanest of all enemies for they stab one while professing friendship.

Tea and coffee contain a poisonous drug—caffeine—which injures the delicate nervous system and frequently sets up disease in one or more organs of the body, if its use is persisted in.

"I had heart palpitation and nervousness for four years and the doctor told me the trouble was caused by coffee. He advised me to leave it off, but I thought I could not," writes a Western lady.

"On the advice of a friend I tried Postum and it so satisfied me I did not care for coffee after a few days' trial of Postum.

"As weeks went by and I continued to use Postum my weight increased from 98 to 118 pounds, and the heart trouble left me. I have used it a year now and am stronger than I ever was. I can hustle up stairs without any heart palpitation, and I am free from nervousness.

"My children are very fond of Postum and it agrees with them. My sister liked it when she drank it at my house; now she has Postum at home and has become very fond of it. You may use my name if you wish as I am not ashamed of praising my best friend—Postum." Name given by Canadian Postum Co., Windsor, Ont.

Postum now comes in new concentrated form called Instant Postum. It is regular Postum, so processed at the factory that only the soluble portions are retained.

A spoonful of Instant Postum with hot water, and sugar and cream to taste, produce instantly a delicious beverage.

Write for the little book, "The Road to Wellville."

"There's a reason" for Postum.

TEACH HENS TO LAY EGGS.

English Agricultural Experts Tour North Wales in Special Train.

The Agricultural Organization and the National Poultry Organization Society of England are jointly responsible for a unique scheme by which it is hoped hens may be taught to lay.

What is known as the "golden egg" train left London recently bearing a party of poultry experts who are going to teach the hens in Wales how eggs really should be laid. The train consisted of three special coaches, fitted with every modern device calculated to encourage the most educated hens to lay prize eggs, and it will travel from station to station in North Wales for a fortnight. The poultry experts will lecture at each stopping place to the local chicken farmers.

A Lack of Obstacles.

A Scotsman who had worked for many years on the railroads among the Highlands of Scotland went to the United States in his later years, and settled on a section of homestead land on the plains of the far West.

Soon after his arrival there was a project for a railway through the district. The Scotsman was applied to as a man of experience in such matters.

"Hoot, mon," he said to the spokesman of the delegation, "ye canna build a railway across this country."

"Why not, Mr. Ferguson?"

"Why not?" repeated Ferguson, with an air of effectually settling the whole matter. "Why not? Dinna ye see the country's as flat as a floor, and ye hae nae place whatever to run your toonels through?"

KIND ACTION COST HIM $2,800

Motorist Must Pay for Injuries to Women He Assisted.

At least one modern good Samaritan has cause to regret his kindly action.

Prof. Gaston Daumas was automobiling in the forest of Fontainebleau, France, with two of his pupils on one of the few fine days of last summer. In the depths of the woods he passed another automobile which was in distress. Mr. Daumas stopped his car and inquired if he could be of any assistance. The other automobilist explained that it would take him some time to repair his machine, but he would be greatly obliged if the stranger would take the two ladies who had been in the broken down car back to Fontainebleau.

M. Daumas was inclined to shirk, as his car was only a 12 horse-power and the two ladies were of such generous proportions that to say the least their presence would crowd the car. His good nature, however, prevailed and a start was made. Before two miles were covered an accident happened on a descent. The automobile swerved and the two women were thrown from their seats and badly injured. One of the women later sued M. Daumas for $4,000 damages and the other for $600. It was in vain that M. Daumas pleaded that he was under no contract to convey the ladies and that they were trying to make him pay for an excess of good nature. The code was against him and the court awarded $2,000 to one of the plaintiffs and $300 to the other.

Fine Results in Two Weeks.

Miss Nettie E. Callaghan, a well-known young lady in Middleton, writes as follows: "I was affected for two years with a rash, and ugly looking pimples that spread over my face. My color was poor, and my blood evidently completely out of order. Certainly it was a most despairing sort of a case, because various treatments did but little to help me. A friend of mine in Toronto, Ont., advised me to get Dr. Hamilton's Pills, so I sent at once for five boxes. In two weeks I felt like new—looks improved, spirits rose, and I felt I was getting well. I have used this remedy for a long time, and now wouldn't be without it."
