OUTLOOK IS ENCOURAGING

Pause In the Flow of Money to Canada Is Only Temporary, Says Sir Thomas Shaughnessy

A despatch from Montreal says: Sir Thomas Shaughnessy, President of the Canadian Pacific Railway, in an interview on the financial situation, said:

"The pause in the flow of money into Canada has been beneficial in that it has enforced on Canadians that careful and economical handling of money in business and in private affairs which has been the real secret of Canada's past prosperity.

"The flow of immigration into Canada cannot cease, for it is due to economic conditions which show no signs of changing. Wages, the price of good land, and the opportunity for work, are all in favor of Canada, as compared with Great Britain and Europe. The United States, our former competitor for this immigration, is now inclined rather to restrict than encourage any further influx. The poorest laborer coming into a new country, such as Canada, is the incarnation of capital, for he brings with him the capacity to work and to transform some undeveloped natural resource into a thing that can be used, and thus by his labor he creates wealth.

"Canada, therefore, must welcome the immigrant for many years to come, and must continue to provide increased facilities of transportation, colonization and housing. To provide such facilities the European capitalist and the investor will, in my opinion, continue to furnish the money, for, owing to the propaganda carried on by the Dominion and the Provincial Governments and industrial bodies, for labor and for the profitable investment of capital, the opportunities in Canada are thoroughly realized across the water, and it is only the temporary financial stringency, due chiefly to the Balkan war, which has caused any apparent slackening of such investment.

"The splendid crops in the West and the large constructive programme carried on by big enterprises, has caused money to circulate which might otherwise have been lacking, and the Western farmers, who contribute so much to Canada's progress, are, therefore, looking forward to next year with bright hopes. Manufacturing conditions in eastern Canada are also satisfactory, and a considerable number of American manufacturers are realizing that it pays them to have branch Canadian factories and to employ Canadian labor. This is a movement which we heartily welcome, and which I am sure will prove a good investment for the Americans concerned."

Comment on Events

Canadian vs. American Eggs.

During the last fiscal year Canada imported from the United States 7,569,067 dozen of eggs, for which her people paid the enormous sum of $1,621,367.

Over 90,000,000 eggs among over 7,000,000 people means that Canadians during the year eat on an average twelve American eggs each. Furthermore, Canadians have been the cause of giving work to at least 300,000 American hens if they each average 300 eggs a year. Where, oh where, is the patriotic Canadian hen? Why does she not perform her duties properly? Does she not exist? Are there not 300,000 hens in all this vast land of ours which will wipe this stain from our poultry yards? Will Canadians allow American eggs to decorate their breakfast table? Will they not rather refuse to eat those dozen eggs which come from American hens? Shall we as a nation increase our hens or diminish our eggs?

It is said that farmers can not live by chickens alone. But there is no objection to them keeping other things besides chickens. What we as patriotic citizens demand is a good honest Canadian egg well and truly laid by a Canadian hen. We appeal to the women of Canada. It is they who are primarily responsible. We know their exacting duties call for much of their time, but if the women of Canada were determined that the great American egg should dominate us no more we are sure that the Canadian hen would almost crow over its rival.

Are You a Talosopher?

What's that—you don't know anything about talosophy? Listen: Talosophy is a new cult, invented by W. V. Backus. It is defined as the art or exercise of appreciation. For instance, when you meet with courtesy in shop, factory, store or street car, you express your thanks and report the matter to the superior officer or employer of the courteous person—just as you have been accustomed to "holler" about discourtesies. You go about looking for nice things to report and you find them—and the more nice things you find the fewer the unpleasant things become. You bombard busy employers with report cards and in that way contribute to their felicity and the revenues of the postal department. You may, of course, find places where you simply won't be able to report all the courtesies you receive, but that needn't discourage you from making personal acknowledgments.

The Colicless Cucumber.

Small boys, step up and shake hands with this venerable gentleman. His name is Science, and he just has presented to the aching world the soothing assurance of a colicless cucumber. Don't see how that affects you? That shows that your mind has not been trained to carry a thought to its logical conclusion, says the New York Herald. Can't you understand that the advent of the colicless cucumber presages the coming of the crampless green apple. The immature peach when consumed will carry with it no moral pointing consequences. Happy days are in store for childhood.

Immense Commerce.

The Sault Ste. Marie Canal—popularly known as the "Soo"—will carry more freight this season than Suez, Manchester and all the famous canals of Germany taken together. The "Soo" has transported an average of more than 10,000,000 tons per month since navigation opened, and its total record for the year will not be less than 75,000,000 tons. Figures like these make traffic on other artificial waterworks look petty and tame. The great lakes carry more commerce than any other body of water less in size than the open ocean, and the most important stream of trade on the lakes has to pass through the "Soo" Canal.

Progress in Far East.

Japan has shown how fast an Oriental nation can pick up and pull abreast of the leaders. Little more than fifty years ago Japan was the home of an unenlightened people. To-day she is neck and neck with the leaders of civilization, and already she has humbled in open war a mighty European power; and Japan has a population of only forty-seven millions. China is following in Japan's footsteps and what will happen when China, with her four hundred millions, pulls to the front? India is under the watchful eye of Britain, but India has a population of two hundred and ninety-four millions of people, who will speak for themselves.

POTATOES FROM CANADA.

Will Be Excluded From the United States Market.

A despatch from Washington says: Potatoes from Canada and Europe not already under quarantine will be excluded from the United States if plans framed by the Department of Agriculture carry. Already warned of an impending potato famine, the Department experts said the present restrictions against diseased potatoes must be extended further to prevent ruining future American crops.

SIX KILLED, THIRTY INJURED

Desperate Fight Between Police and Indians in South Africa.

A despatch from Durban says: Later details of the affray on the Blackburn sugar estate show that a body of fourteen police was attacked by three hundred Indians armed with sugar cane knives. In a desperate fight six Indians were killed and thirty wounded, some of them dangerously. Three policemen were wounded and a European civilian was stabbed and left unconscious by the Indians.

$4,000,000 SUBSCRIBED.

For the New York Y.M.C.A. and Y.W.C.A.

A despatch from New York says: The campaign for a $4,000,000 fund for the Young Men's Christian Association and the Young Women's Christian Association, which has been in progress for the last fortnight, closed successfully on Wednesday night, when it was announced that a total of $4,061,500 had been reached.

MAKING A WILL.

Have you made your will? If not, why not do it now. If you delay, in the event of your death your property might not be distributed as you would desire. The advantages of making a will are clearly and briefly explained in a pamphlet recently issued by the Union Trust Company, Limited, Toronto, who will send it free to anyone on request. Our readers are advised to secure a copy at once.

ST. LAWRENCE NAVIGATION.

Early Opening Will Be Facilitated By New Ice-Breaker.

A despatch from Ottawa says: Tenders are being called and will be received up to January 8th for the new ice-breaker to be used in the St. Lawrence. The steamer will be the lragest of its particular kind in the world, and in conjunction with those already in operation is designed to do much to facilitate the early opening of navigation in the St. Lawrence channel.

GALICIAN WEDDINGS.

Police Will Attend Them in Future to Prevent Rows.

A despatch from Winnipeg says: Murders and stabbings have become so frequent at Galician weddings lately that the city has been forced to take action, and will send police to each ceremony hereafter, for which a permit will have to be issued.

The total Federal estimates for the year 1913-14 were about $200,000,000. After deducting from the usual percentage of lapsed votes, possibly $175,000,000 will be spent by March 31, 1914. Of this amount $50,000,000 will be on capital account, nearly all of which, under the practice which hitherto has prevailed, the Government would be justified in borrowing; but the greater portion will be paid off out of the current revenue.

Great Britain.

The Chief Whip of the Liberal party says there will be no British general election until 1915.

Premier Asquith, speaking at Leeds, denied there was any division of opinion in the British Cabinet on the home rule question.

A drunken man was the last to shake Gen. Bramwell Booth's hand prior to his departure for England from New York.

Three persons are dead, and several are ill, due to eating squirrels which had fed upon chestnuts from a blighted tree near Glastonbury, Conn.

General.

Lieut. Tieges, a German artillery officer, was sentenced to ten years for the wanton murder of a junior officer.

General Villa's victorious rebel forces have commenced their southward march through Mexico to meet the Federal army at Chihuahua.

NEW AUTOMATIC GUN.

Capable of Firing Eight Hundred Rounds a Minute.

A despatch from London says: The new automatic machine gun for air craft, the invention of Colonel Lewis, a retired United States army officer, was given exhaustive tests on Thursday at Bisley in the presence of a distinguished gathering of British army officers and foreign military attaches. The new gun resembles a large rifle in appearance, but it has an outer jacket covering the barrel. It weighs only twenty-seven pounds. The action is totally automatic and the gun is capable of firing eight hundred rounds a minute. With the gun mounted on a Grahame-White aeroplane, Lieutenant Stellingwelf of the Belgian army scored eleven hits in fourteen shots, from an altitude of 600 feet, on a target of white sheets twenty feet square. Those present were greatly impressed with the demonstration.

HISTORICAL EVENT.

Fathers of Confederation to Be Commemorated.

A despatch from Quebec says: The Quebec Board of Trade has under consideration a project for the celebration of the fiftieth anniversary of Canadian Confederation on July 1, 1917, the preliminary work of which and the framing of the act took place in Quebec. It is proposed to commemorate the historical event by the erection of a suitable monuemnt to the Fathers of Confederation on the site of the former Parliament buildings, now known as Frontenac Park, opposite the Archbishop's Palace at the head of Mountain Hill.

"MADE IN GERMANY."

Germany's Imports From Britain Greatly Exceeds Her Exports.

A despatch from London says: In view of the prevalent impression in Britain and abroad that the British markets are flooded with goods "made in Germany" it is interesting to note the statement appended to a bill regulating commercial relations between the two countries just framed by the German Federal Council. The statement shows that Germany's trade with Britain and her colonies far exceeds her trade with any other country, and that Germany's imports from Britain exceeds her exports to Britain in ever-increasing degree. In 1909 the difference was £12,500,000; in 1910, £14,000,000; in 1911 nearly £16,500,000, and in 1913, £24,500,000.

ST. ANDREW'S BALL.

The Duke of Connaught Will Attend at Montreal.

A despatch from Ottawa says: His Royal Highness the Duke of Connaught will visit Montreal on Friday and Saturday of this week. On Friday, December 5, he will attend the St. Andrew's Society ball. Princess Patricia may accompany the Duke, but the Duchess will not go at the present time.

WIFE WON.

Husband Finally Convinced.

Some people are wise enough to try new foods and beverages and then generous enough to give others the benefit of their experience. A wife writes:

"No slave in chains, it seemed to me, was more helpless than I, a coffee captive. Yet there were innumerable warnings—waking from a troubled sleep with a feeling of suffocation, at times dizzy and out of breath, attacks of palpitation of the heart that frightened me.

(Tea is just as injurious as coffee because it contains caffeine, the same drug found in coffee.)

"At last my nervous system was so disarranged that my physician ordered 'no more coffee.' I capitulated.

"Determined to give Postum a fair trial, I prepared it according to directions on the pkg., obtaining a dark brown liquid with a rich snappy flavour similar to coffee. When cream and sugar were added, it was not only good but delicious.

"Noting its beneficial effects in me the rest of the family adopted it—all except my husband, who would not admit that coffee hurt him. Several weeks elapsed during which I drank Postum two or three times a day, when, to my surprise, my husband said: 'I have decided to drink Postum. Your improvement is so apparent—you have such fine color—that I propose to give credit where credit is due.' And now we are coffee-slaves no longer."

Name given by Canadian Postum Co., Windsor, Ont. Read "The Road to Wellville," in pkgs.

Postum now comes in two forms: Regular Postum—must be boiled. Instant Postum is a soluble powder. A teaspoonful dissolves quickly in a cup of hot water and, with cream and sugar, makes a delicious beverage instantly. Grocers sell "There's a Reason" for Postum, both kinds.

FEEDING THE UNEMPLOYED

Seventeen Thousand Three Hundred Men Are Out of Employment at Winnipeg

A despatch from Winnipeg says: Seventeen thousand three hundred men are out of employment in Winnipeg at the present time, according to W. Hammond, past president of the Building Trades Council, at the executive council of the Amalgamated Trade Unions in the Labor Temple. He arrived at his figures by a consideration of trade unionists now idle. He says 25,000 will be idle by Christmas. There are in Winnipeg over thirteen thousand trade unionists. Over fifty per cent. of these are idle. These are mainly men skilled in the building trades. These men have helpers amounting to at least a number equal with their own. That makes nearly fourteen thousand. He estimates that, conservatively speaking, there are three thousand five hundred other idle men in the city—clerks, office men, railroad construction men and laborers.

Several Western cities are feeding their unemployed under municipal organization, notable among these being Vancouver and Brandon. The towns in Northern Saskatchewan and Alberta have passed the crisis by reason of the fact that many men have gone from them to the lumber camps of the country.
