Canadian Lumber

Canada's position in the lumber market of the world today is pre-eminent, owing to the fact all her pre-war competitors are obliged to use their lumber for reconstruction at home. The demand for Canadian lumber in Britain is unlimited, and will be for years, but Canadian exporters have been warned to keep the excellent reputation they won during the war.

SIMPLE, BUT EFFECTIVE

Motorists, forced to stop along the roadside at night, may be saved from death or injury by the skull-shaped device seen above. The new gadget is carried folded up in the car. Its warning signal is said to be visible 350 yards in either direction.

SPOTS OF SPORTS

By FRANK MANN HARRIS
("A Six Bit Critic")

During the recent highly-publicized squabble between the race-track operators and the horsemen, a spokesman for the Ontario Jockey Club tried to lift the matter above the sordid levels of commercialism, stating that the priscipal aim of the august body he represented was "to improve the breed of Thoroughbred horses" or words to that general effect. Our personal reaction was that somebody should take the gentleman quietly aside and tip him off that, to modern ears, that particular record sounds badly scratched and should be tossed into the discard bin. We almost expected him to dig up the ancient one about the necessity of racing in order that our Cavalry troops might be assured an adequate supply of remounts—which always used to be fished out and dusted off when the racing racket was under fire in days gone by.

* * *

For by this time everybody over the mental age of ten knows very well that horse-racing exists for just two reasons. The first and principal of these is to make money; asd the second, to give a lot of folks who already have plenty of money a chance to cop a gob of personal publicity. There are, of course, those who solemnly profess to love the noble Thoroughbred solely for his noble self. But somehow or other, whenever we hear such statements we always find ourselves reaching for the salt. For if there wasn't any racing, we very greatly doubt that many of these ardent horse-lovers would be found keeping a Thoroughbred just as a pet.

* * *

Why, for that matter, should they? Off a racing strip the Thoroughbred is just about the most useless form of animal life you'll run across, requiring as much care and attention as a year-old baby and—nine times out of ten—without as much sense. A greater amount of downright drivel, both prose and poetry, has probably been written regarding the horse than on any subject with the possible exception of Love. Stripped of all the glamour and flossy verbiage, the Thoroughbred race-horse always has been — is — and always will be at bottom a tool for gambling.

* * *

As for the "improvement of the breed" we hear so much about, what of it? If they ever did breed a horse that could run a mile and a quarter in two minutes flat, he would be a great curiosity. So would a pair of crap dice made of first-water diamonds. But for all practical purposes, a pair made of ordinary ivory or plastic are just as good.

* * *

All of which no doubt sounds like the wail of a sore loser, and as though we were suffering from an isgrowing grouch at the sport of horse racing. This, we protest, is by no means the case. We have personally had more fun and excitement at various race-tracks than anywhere else we can recall. But we are under no illusions as to why we enjoy the game.

In the past we have written many times about the Olympic Games, and what fomentors of international disagreement and ill-will they have always proved to be. But it remained for the coming one—that of 1948—to set a new record along these lines. With more than a year to go before it opens its doors, the coming Olympic revival—by means of the Barbara Ann Scott incident — has stirred up more hard feelings throughout Canada against our friends south of the border than anything else could possibly do.

* * *

So why not lend a hand to the movement, already gathering strength, aimed at calling the whole silly business off? Instead of shipping an assortment of our athletes and—of course—their accompanyisg horde of beribboned officials over to London, let's spend the money to send the people of those hard-pressed Islands something they could use to better advantage. Almost anything would do.

LIFE can Begin AFTER 40, IF..

Around 40 our energy lessens. But, experience has taught us to do our work with less effort. The years ahead should yield the greatest accomplishments, the most enjoyment and happiness. They can, too, if we avoid the kidney and bladder disorders such as Backache, Headache, Rheumatic Pains, Lassitude, Loss of Sleep and Energy which so often attack those around 40. For over half a century Dodd's Kidney Pills have been helping men and women to keep kidneys and bladder in good order. If you are nearing 40, or past it, for the sake of your health and a happier future use Dodd's Kidney Pills today! 125

What Is Wasted In Cutting Tree For Industries?

While most people supposed the lumber industry already was using everything about a tree except the breeze that blows through it—witness the uses to which sawdust is put—two thirds of a tree cut for lumber is wasted.

So the United States Department of Commerce states. The Department recommends improved methods in logging and sawmilling, more use of wood pulp in lamination, plastics, pressed products, modified wood, alcohol, wood sugar, and lignin products. And as another step to reduce waste, it recommends conversion of single-product industries to multiple-product industries—much, it seems, as the packing industry has branched out to make use of by-products.

What is wasted in a tree? The tops, limbs, high stumps, unmerchantable logs, sawdust (sometimes), slabs, edgings, and other refuse, according to this report.

It is no news to anyone that lumber has skyrocketed since 1939. The Real Estate Boards, again quoting the Department of Commerce, sets down the figures. The amount of lumber you could purchase for 35 cents then, it says, costs around $1 now. And a house that could be built for $1,000 worth of lumber in 1939 would have a $2,828 bill for lumber, supposing it were built in February of this year.
