To The Electors of South Grey

During an election campaign, many promises are made and many irrelevant issues are introduced to divert the attention of the electors from the main issue, which should ever be, the record of the Government in office; its Honesty of purpose, its appreciation of the welfare and needs of the people and its business-like efficiency in discharging its great responsibilities. Briefly, we are interested in Good Government.

I am sure we are in agreement when I say that the Drew Government's record has been such as to inspire respect and confidence, and its efficient record over the past five years has never been surpassed in the history of Ontario.

During the nine years immediately preceding the Drew Administration, the Government to which Mr. Oliver gave his support added nearly 140 million dollars to the Provincial debt. Since the Drew Government assumed office in 1943, not one cent has been added to the debt of this province, despite the increased obligations assumed in respect of Education, Highways, Hydro, Agriculture and Social Services. This record can best be appreciated when we give thought to the assistance given to Municipalities by the Drew Government, as compared to that given by previous administrations, and the savings which this represents to all of us in our property taxes.

In 1943, the Liberal Government contributed only some 8 millions by way of school grants, whereas the Drew Government assumes over 33 millions of the school costs. In 1943 the Liberal Government paid less than 5 millions of the Municipal expenditure on roads, whereas in 1948, the Drew Government will lift over 16 millions of this burden from the shoulders of municipal tax payers. Highway costs in 1947 amounted to nearly 61 millions of dollars, a sum twice as great as that expended previously in any one year, yet by efficient management, every cent of all increased obligations has been paid for in CASH. In addition to this pay-as-you-go policy, the Drew Government was able to reduce the Provincial debt by over 27 millions. Surely this is a remarkable evidence of efficiency, and a tangible expression of the Government's understanding of our needs. In other Departments of Government as well, greatly increased obligations have been assumed in order to assist us in the further development of the resources of this great Province, and to enable us to attain the highest standard of living ever enjoyed by any people in a similar area in the world to-day. If these efforts on your behalf meet with favour, give the Drew Government a mandate to carry on, and work for and support its representative in this riding.
