Result of a Neglected Cold.
DISEASED LUNGS

Which Doctors Failed to Help,

CURED BY TAKING

AYER'S Cherry Pectoral.

"I contracted a severe cold, which settled on my lungs, and I did what is often done in such cases, neglected it, thinking it would go away as it came; but I found, after a little while, that the slightest exertion pained me. I then who found, on examining my lungs, that the upper part of the left one was badly affected. He gave me some medicine which I took as directed, but it did not seem to do any good. Fortunately, I happened to read in Ayer's Almanac, of the effect that Ayer's Cherry Pectoral had on others, and I determined to give it a trial. After taking a few doses my trouble was relieved, and before I had finished the bottle I was cured."—A. LEFLAR, watchmaker, Orangeville, Ont.

Consulted a Doctor

County and District

In the course of a week or so Clarksburg will have its residence and business places lighted by electricity.

The Chesley sensation, which we copied from a daily paper last week, appears to have been much overdrawn. The coroner's jury decided that the girl Catharine Koch came to her death by inflammation of the lungs brought on by exposure, and no blame was attached to any one in the finding.

A report from Quebec tells of a farmer in the whiskey smuggling buiness who had a tin can made in imitation of the figure of a stout lady. This he filled and muffled up with shawls and carried in the seat beside him in trips from the Island of Orleans to Quebec. An upset the other day revealed the fraud.

(Dr.) Billy Falls has returned from his winter's sojourn as the guest of the county at Owen Sound. As an old man, unable to work he bitterly deplored having to associate with hardened criminals in the county gaol.—Thornbury Standard.

A Nebraska man who had a car or two of horses to sell wrote a friend in Washington, asking whether it would be advisable to try to sell them there. The friend replied :—"The people of Washing ride bicycles; the street cars are run by electricity, and the government is run by jack-asses. No demand for horseflesh."—Exchange.

David Cathcart is one of the oldest Orangemen in Canda. He has attained his 91st year and has resided in St. Marys since 1842. At the age of eighteen Mr. Cathcart joined an Orange lodge and has been a member in good standing for the past seventy three years. He has few of the infirmities of old age and can read the smallest print without spectacles. Alexander Jamieson, a fellow townsman, is the same age as Mr. Cathcart and joined the Orange body at the same time.

A Sunday school teacher was telling the class about the devil going around like a roaring lion seeking whom he might devour. "How fast can the devil run?" asked one of the pupils. "Hugh, Johnnie," said the teacher, such questions are very profane," "Well, I don't care," replied Johnnie, "he can't outrun pa, anyhow, because I heard pa tell a man on the street the other day that he caught the devil the night he came home from the lodge."

Ridgeway will have a bicycle electric railway. The Bridgeburg Review describes it as follows: Polls 5x5 are placed deep in the ground much the same as fence posts. The posts are 5 feet from centre to centre, and on these are placed a timber, which is the bed for a single rail on which the cars run. Hence the name "bicycle track." The road is absolutely safe; the inventor claims that it is safer that a trolley or a steam road. No trolley or overhead wires are used. Each car is independent and run by a storage battery.

Saturday being a holiday from school, Percy Breckon and Mack Dodds, aged respectively 12 and 13 years, got up early in the morning determind to have a good day's fun. They borrowed a trap and set it in Mrs. Breckon's bush, in the sand bank. They visited the trap in two hours time and to their delight found a fox in the trap. On looking around they found two young foxes about as large as rats and secured both and put them with the old fox in a large cage fitted up for the purpose. The boys set the trap again and about eight o'clock an unearthly sound was heard in that direction. The boys accompanied by Miss Dodds and Miss Breckon, armed with pitchforks, went to the woods and found another large fox in the trap, which was easily secured and added to the menagerie. The boys have had such good luck they intend to follow the business during this season.—Shelburne Free Press.

Priceville.

From our own Correspondent.

The political pot is beginning to simmer even in this quiet little burg.

The farmers of this vicinity are making excellent progress with the spring work, owing to the very beautiful weather we are having. It is reported that some of the South Line agriculturists are almost through sowing already.

Mr. John McLean of the North Line disposed of his stock, implements, etc., last Thursday. Mr. McLean intends leaving for Duluth in a few days.

The small boy, and the big one also, is yearning for the second of May. No mistakes this year.

James Tryon and Bert Watson have gone to the township of Whitby, where they have secured work for the summer.

Mr. A. Butters was taken ill last week, but we are glad to say that he will soon be around again.

Mr. Angus Kennedy is visiting at the old homestead after an absence of a number of years in Manitoba and elsewhere.

Mrs. McKechnie returned to her home in Georgetown last Friday.

Mr. Robt. Blakeston left last week for an extended visit among friends in Wingham, Mitchell and other places.

Mr. Robt. Riley is home for a few days. R. R. intends going to Parry Sound in a few weeks.

Mr. Hugh McArthur is the happiest man on the South Line. If you don't know the reason why, ask him.

Mr. James Innes is back to our burg again after a somewhat lengthened absence.

Mr. Peter McArthur is spending a few days in Durham this week.

Misses A. Cushnie and Ella Husband of Flesherton Station and Holland Centre respectively, were the guests of Miss Bertha James lately.

We are glad to learn that Mr. M. Cameron, after weeks of intense suffering, is now able to walk around a little.

Mrs. Munn, who spent the winter with friends near Stayner, is home again.

Dr. Sproule Welcomed Home

If Dr. Sproule ever had any doubts as to the reception he would receive on his arrival home they must have been happily dispelled when the evening train drew up at Markdale station on Saturday evening. The people had turned out in such force to welcome him that the station yard was completely packed with a mass of humanity. The Dr. was escorted to a carriage in waiting, and headed by Flesherton band and an immense torchlight procession a start was made for up town. Rousing cheers greeted the Dr. on every hand, and the procession was the finest ever seen in Markdale. When the Marsh house was reached Dr. Sproule mounted to the balcony and gave a short speech to the large crowd, after which by personal invitation the members of the Flesherton band and torchbearers adjourned to the Dr's spacious residence, where lunch was served. It was a happy home coming, and everybody, irrespective of politics, vied in doing honor to the now ex-member but shortly to-be-again member for East and Centre Grey. The whole affair was perfectly spontaneous, the people of Markdale not even knowing that the Flesherton band was to take part in the welcome until it arrived there. The Markdale band is just at present in an unfortunate position, being without a leader, and was consequently unable to take part in the ovation.

At Dundalk the train waited twenty minutes, when a hearty reception was given the Dr., who made a short speeck, and the Dundalk band rendered three or four pieces in spendid style.

Our band boys speah very highly of the citizens, and say it was the most enjoyable evening they have spent in a long time.

A Common Affliction

Permanently Cured by Taking

AYER'S Sarsaparilla

A CAB-DRIVER'S STORY.

"I was afflicted for eight years with Salt Rheum. During that time, I tried a great many medicines which were highly recommended, but none gave me relief. I was at last advised to try Ayer's Sarsaparilla, by a friend who told me that I must purchase six bottles, and use them according to directions. I yielded to his persuasion, bought the six bottles, and took the contents of three of these bottles without noticing any direct benefit. Before I had finished the fourth bottle, my hands were as

Free from Eruptions

as ever they were. My business, which is that of a cab-driver, requires me to be out in cold and wet weather, often without gloves, and the trouble has never returned."—THOMAS A. JOHNS, Stratford, Ont.
