Lost His Sight

Attention has been recently drawn to the sad condition of Capt. Andrews, of Toronto, who lost his sight by saving the lives of others, having rescued from drowning eighteen persons. An appeal is to be made to the government to grant him a pension, with which it is to be hoped they will comply. Unfortunately, shall we say many lose their sight, not as Capt. Andrews has done by saving a score of lives, but by the desire to save a few cents by wearing cheap or other spectacles that are of inferior material, not properly ground, or that are not the proper correction. Others injure their sight by not wearing spectacles when they need them, thinking the longer they can do without them the better, whereas it is the reverse. We recommend that you do not allow false pride or other reasons to keep you from wearing spectacles when you need them, and when you do begin make sure that you are wearing the right kind for you. There is no way of knowing this but by having your eyes properly tested and glasses given according to the needs of each eye. I have made a study of the testing of sight by improved methods, and guarantee a perfect fit at reasonable prices.

The Public Library is open now on Wednesday instead of Saturday. It will also be open on Tuesday from 6.45 to 7.45 p. m. The executive committee would be very much pleased if those desiring books would apply to the librarian instead of forcing open the window to select books for themselves.

Two of our young ladies think they should be elegible as memberr of the Pedestrian Club which your Cor. spoke of some weeks ago, as one walked to Eugenia and the other to Flesherton.

Many have been the witnesses of the poor sidewalks in our valley and your Cor. is among the number. The other evening while walking down the street, he tripped on the end of a loose plank and was landed in the creek. He scrambled to the fence to collect his thoughts and while sitting there over heard the following remarks :— "What is the Mayor of the town doing that he does not attend to this sidewalk?" "Say, Bill, this here sidewalk rivals the school fence." "What is this? a board out? well, I reckon I'd make this township pay me a pretty sum if any accident should occur to me through these sidewalks, eh, Doctor?" "That looks like a wet moon, doesn't it George?" George's answer was not heard because of a great splash. At this juncture three young ladies came along humming their favorite, "sailing, sailing, sailing" but were forced to stop to "throw out the life line" to save the struggling unfortunate, who had so suddenly disappeared. They succeeeded in rescuing their friend, and the party passed on. As the last click of their footsteps was heard your Cor. picked up the plank which had become displaced, replaced it and started on his homeward journey.

Old King Sol had hardly shot his first ray across the eastern sky last Saturday morning ere a regiment of men and boys armed with poles and tin cans was seen wending its way towards the river. However, the finny tribes were on the alert for danger, as no great hauls were made by any one. Even the veteran D. failed to hook anything extraordinary.

On Saturday last there passed away to her heavenly home one of the oldest residents of this locality, Mrs. Elizabeth Ludlow, relict of the late Richard Ludlow. She had outlived her allotted three score years and ten by eleven years. Sixty-six of these were devoted to the service of her Lord and Master. Few Octogenarians have left a nobler monument. Sixty six years of faithful labor and self-sacrifice is a blessed privilege not accorded to many. The deceased was only fourteen when she united with the Methodist church. From that time until her death she was a consistent, active member, identified in the particular church where she was a member, with everything which in her judgment would advance and further the cause of Christ. She was born in Ireland and for thirty years was a resident of Inistioge. Her husband died about four years ago. A family of two sons and four daughters mourn the loss of a now sainted mother. One of the sons resides at Petrolia, the other in Dundalk; the daughters are Mrs. Corbett, Creemore; Mrs. Thompson, Mrs. Rutledge, Horning's Mills and one daughter who has resided with her. La grippe was the immediate cause of death although she has been suffering from heart trouble for about two years. Mrs. Ludlow's life is her best monument A very large number of friends followed the remains to its last resting place.—Dundalk Herald.
