Columbia Records — Note the Notes

Columbia Grafonolas

Records, Needles, Catalogues

The Columbia is the perfect talking machine. Compare all others, then hear this and we are not afraid of the result. We can sell machines on easy terms to responsible people.

All the best appointed city homes have their parlor machines and there is no reason why the farmer should not have the best music of the day in his home, including band music, vocal artists, and performers on all kinds of instruments. You can have it on a Columbia Grafonola, as perfect as the original, and for much less than you would pay for a Common Organ. They range from $20 up.

The Perfect Columbia

Is a marvel of recording instruments and the Columbia records, made in Canada, embrace thousands of selections from which to choose.

Making Good Progress

Those who were instrumental in bringing the two little Belgian girls, Margrette and Susanna Weers, to Owen Sound, through contributing to the Girls' Club scheme of raising funds for the purpose, should note with pleasure that the name of the eldest of these girls appears this month on the honor roll of her class at Dufferin school. Both little girls, the eldest of whom is fourteen, and the youngest thirteen, are markedly bright children, but it shows wonderful adaptability for a student in a foreign land, as these children are, to be able to be among the few who figure on the honor roll of a class of twenty or more. The little Belgians have accomplished a great deal since coming to their new home, where they study under the difficulties of an absolutely foreign language, and their presence in the class should be a stimulus to some of their Canadian school mates.—Sun.

Advertise Your Business

Don't imagine for one moment that advertising will not bring you results in your immediate field. That's an error that many merchants make, when they assure themselves that their store is so well known that it doesn't require newspaper advertising—that the trade will naturally drift his way anyhow. There isn't a store anywhere in the world that has so secure a footing as that—not a single store—and you are not doing business in a field but that your sales can be increased by careful newspaper advertising. If this is not true, why is it the stream of mail orders is constantly going out of our own town to catalogue houses? And are these sales made by these catalogue houses the result of persistent advertising in the very field you feel that you have cultivated to the limit? Whenever you get such an idea fixed in your mind, and real y believe that there's nothing more to conquer, you are simply turning over ready money to the man that does possess the broader vision—you are ceding territory and rights to others that careful paper advertising would retain in your possession.

Art Wesley, editor of The Bruce Herald and Times, of Walkerton, himself married less than a year ago, and therefore an authority, writes as follows:—"Five happy, laughing, wedding couples on whom the nuptial knot had just been tied, drove into Walkerton on Tuesday and had their pictures taken. It is always well to get them taken before the smile comes off, for pictures of married couples when taken later always seem to be minus the smiles. It is therefore, nice for the grooms to look back and see how happy they once were before wrestling with coal bills and the raise in flour. Know nothing, fear nothing, probably accounts for the smiles on most wedding photos, but the man who is caught laughing later should be viewed with suspicion.—Telescope.

NAVAL WIRELESS.

It Is Almost Impossible to "Jam" a Well Organized Service.

Many suppose that it is possible for an enemy to disrupt and suspend all wireless communication at will by producing very powerful waves of irregular length—in other words, by interference or "jamming." According to Commander F. G. Loring of the British navy, such tactics are seldom successful. It is very hard, if not impossible, to "jam" a well organized wireless service, for there are many ways, both technical and methodical, to defeat such an intention. If the enemy attempts interference he must put his own wireless communication completely out of action for the time being, with no certain prospect of seriously inconveniencing the communication of his opponent.

Commander Loring also believes that the risk of having the signals of the fleet intercepted by an enemy is very slight. "Co-operation between operators, with full knowledge of each other's methods, is extremely important when handling difficult code messages, and the more skilled the organization the more difficult it is for a strange operator to take down with the necessary accuracy the groups of a code message. He cannot ask for the repetition of doubtful groups, and he has no intimate and daily familiarity with the methods of the sender to assist him in his task.

"And, after all, giving the enemy every advantage, giving him a perfect record of the signals, the key of the code to his hand and equal facility of skill and language to translate it for use—a most improbable combination, it must be admitted—he has still failed to prevent the all important information from reaching its destination."—Exchange.

SWP

SWP means Sherwin-Williams Paint (Prepared). This is the best paint for you to use because it is made of pure materials—pure lead, pure zinc, pure Linseed Oil, and pure coloring pigments which are thoroughly mixed and ground in scientific proportions by powerful machinery.

It is better than the old fashioned hand-mixed paint because the materials are put together according to correct chemical formulae which have been tested out in a practical way. Its fine grinding makes it cover nearly 50% more surface than hand-mixed paint.

SWP is an economical paint because it will cover the greatest amount of surface, wear longest, and look best.—Ask us for color cards.
