SWP

SWP means Sherwin-Williams Paint (Prepared). This is the best paint for you to use because it is made of pure materials—pure lead, pure zinc, pure Linseed Oil, and pure coloring pigments which are thoroughly mixed and ground in scientific proportions by powerful machinery.

It is better than the old fashioned hand-mixed paint because the materials are put together according to correct chemical formulae which have been tested out in a practical way. • Its fine grinding makes it cover nearly 50% more surface than hand-mixed paint.

SWP is an economical paint because it will cover the greatest amount of surface, wear longest, and look best.—Ask us for color cards.

Medicinal Plants

To describe, or even to give a list of the five hundred varieties of plants that come under the head of medicinal, as given in a more than ordinarily interesting Bulletin by Assistant Dominion Botanist, J. Adams, M. A., would take up an exceptional amount of space. Mr. Adams entitles his publication "Medicinal Plants and Their Cultivation in Canada." It is Bulletin No. 23, Second Series, of the Experimental Farms, and can be had free by addressing the Publication Branch, Department of Agriculture, Ottawa. Director Grisdale, of the Dominion Experimental Farms, makes a correct estimate when he says "Such information as is contained in this publication should be of value to many of our farmers." Dominion Botanist Gussow explains that the bulletin owes its preparation to the numerous inquiries received from time to time relating to the cultivation of plants possessed of certain medicinal or health restoring properties. Mr Adams, who was formerly lecturer on Botany and Vegetable Materia Medica at Dublin, Ireland, suggests that no farmer runs any risk by devoting a small plot of about an acre to drug culture as an experiment for a few years. But for anybody to go headlong into the business as a speculation would be unwise.

After dealing with soil, climate, cultivation, collection, drying, imports and exports, and explaining the terms used, Mr. Adams gives prominence, with faithful illustrations in outline, to the medicinal plants in demand, These briefly are:

American White Hellebore or Indian Poke, flowers May and June, poisonous, occurs in swamps and wet woods from New Brunswick to British Columbia; price 8 to 10c per pound.

Hop, flowers July and August, ripe September and October, occurs in thickets and on river banks from Nova Scotia to Manitoba, cultivated in Ontario and British Columbia, from 25 to 55c. per pound.

Golden Seal, flowers in April, ripe in July or August, native in woods of Ontario, must be cultivated, $5.45 to $5.75 per pound.

White Mustard, flowers all summer, occurs in fields and waste places, 8c. per pound.

Black Mustard, occurs in field and waste places, 10c. per pound.

Seneca Snakeroot or Mountain Flax, flowers May or June, grows in rocky woods from New Brunswick to Alberta, 40c. to $1.15 per pound.

Sacred Bark or Bearberry, occurs in moist situations in the mountains of British Columbia, from 8 to 10c. per pound.

American Ginseng, collected about September, occurs in woods in Quebec and Ontario. $5 per pound.

Caraway, flowers May to July, occurs on waste ground in Eastern Canada, 6 to 9c. per pound.

Peppermint, flowers July to September, occurs in wet ground from Nova Scotia to Ontario; 9 to 16c. per pound.

Spearmint, grows in wet ground from Nova Scotia to Ontario; 7 to 20c. per pound.

Mr. Adams, in addition to giving description and exact illustrations, in every case quotes the market price. Following the plants in leading demand, he comes to those used in moderate or small quantities, such as Irish Moss, Ergot, Male Fern, White Pine, Hemlock, Balsam Fir, Juniper and so on. These occupy 24 pages, two to five to a page, and then we have foreign medicinal plants which might grow in Canada. A list of 54 publications and a comprehensive index add to the instructiveness and interest of an exceedingly valuable bulletin.

The Color of Lakes.

Some lakes are distinctly blue, others are of various shades of green, so that in some cases they are scarcely distinguishable from their level, grass surrounded banks. A few, too, are almost black. The lake of Geneva is azure hued, the lake of Constance and the lake of Lucerne are green, while the color of the Mediterranean has been called indigo. The lake of Brienz is greenish yellow, and its neighbor, Lake Thun, is blue.

Good Old Days.

The high cost of living wasn't much of an item in the old days, when a lime package of cornstarch was used to powder the baby after his bath, make mother's face beautiful and produce a bowl of blancmange for dessert.—Cincinnati Inquirer.

His Business.

"There is a man who can always be depended on at a pinch."
"Who is he?"
"A policeman."—Baltimore American.

ADDRESS AND PRESENTATION

An enjoyable time was spent Thursday evening at the home of Mr. Down, when about 40 young people gathered to spend an evening with Miss Wright prior to her departure this week. After a jolly time playing ball and other games on the lawn, the young people were called to order. A presentation was made to Miss Wright, and an address was read by Miss Mary Winters, after which cake and lemonade was served and several patriotic pieces were sung after which the company dispersed. The following address was read:

Dear Friend:—We, the young people of Hatherton, who are present this evening, wish to show you in some way our appreciation of your untiring efforts in school work during your two and a half years stay among us, and also in our social gatherings. You have always been willing to give of your time and talent in making them a success. We feel sorry to part with you as our teacher and companion but wish you greater success in future. We ask you to accept this fountain pen and box of note paper, not for their value but as a mark of the esteem in which you are held by us. Yours in bonds of friendship, signed on behalf of the section—Mary Winters, Wilma Down, Emily Seeley, Louie Winters.

On Saturday morning last says the Review-Herald, what might have proved a fatal accident, occurred on the farm of Mr. Joseph Lee, quite near Clarksburg. Mr. Lee's son aged about fourteen years, a student at Thornbury High School, was showing how a gun should be handled to his little sister, aged nine years, when the gun was accidentally discharged. The bullet passed through the first finger on the boy's left hand, entered the nose of the little girl, and lodged in the back of her throat. Dr. Moore was speedily in attendance and removed the bullet, the little girl displaying great fortitude and patience during the operation She is doing nicely now, and unless unlooked for complications should arise, will speedily recover. That the wound was not more serious was doubtless due to the fact that the force of the bullet was lessened by first passing through the boys' finger. The boy didn't know the gun was loaded, which explains a good many accidents, fatal and otherwise.
