LOCAL & OTHER NOTICES.

Bad roads.

Job opening for a foundry here.

Are very bad holes in the sidewalk, Authorities should look after them.

The rain which fell on Monday and Tuesday last swept all the leaf.

Mr. Irving wishes to let the people that he is still on the war path with celebrated Pumps.

J. F. Doll, of Flesherton, is showing some beautiful things in watches. Give him a call.

Revival services which were began in the Mount Forest C. M. Church last week, and which we learn have been very successful, are to be continued for several weeks.

Those who have seen J. F. Sproule's new stock say it is the most fashionable and cheapest in town. Ladies should see those elegant Tam O'Shanters.

Mr. Donald McLeod makes his bow to the public this week in the form of an advertisement, which will be found in another column. Be sure to read, it is of interest to all.

We received a communication this week from Dr. Christoe anent the Society Bonus, but from its length and the crowded state of our columns we are obliged to omit it this week. It will appear in our next.

Mr. Rome of Maxwell, formerly of York, will remain a week or two in Markdale, any person wishing to have their pictures enlarged, will do well to call at Mr. Hull's residence and examine specimens of work.

The Governor-General has appointed Wednesday, November 3, a day of national thanksgiving all over the Dominion. It is to be hoped that it will be strictly observed by all loyal citizens.

Auction sale on the premises of Walker Douglas, 1½ miles North of Markdale, on the 3rd November commencing at one o'clock, when a quantity of stock and implements will be sold. 14 month's credit on approved paper.

Mr. Thomas Flesher having removed to Manitoulin Island, requests us to state that Mr. T. Hall is now the authorized agent for the Gore District Mutual Fire Insurance Company. To whom we recommend those in want of insurance.

A prize was offered for the mother who presented the greatest number of her own children at an Indian State Fair. Mrs. Smith and Mrs. Line were accompanied to the fair by nine, but Mrs. Line gave birth to a tenth on the grounds, and so took the prize.

An auction sale will take place at Eugenia on Monday the 8th Nov. commencing at 1 o'clock; when a quantity of household furniture, stock of lumber the property of Henry Lee Esq., will be sold. 12 month's credit will be given on approved paper.

An extensive credit sale of farm stock, implements, household furniture, etc., will take place on the premises of Mr. Moses Johnston, lot 19, con. 11, Euphrasia, on Saturday, the 6th of October, commencing at 12 o'clock. Moses Johnston, proprietor; Geo. Hall, auctioneer.

We call attention of our Dundalk readers to the advertisement of George Mon which appears in this issue of the Standard Mr. N. keeps a good general stock, and we believe they are first-class. Those wishing to get up goods should give him a call as he is selling at bottom prices for cash or produce.

Leap year will be out in about two months, and while a good number have taken advantage of the long year, there are a few yet we would like to see safely into partnership (for life.) To those who contemplate such, we would advise them to examine Wilcox's stock of gold rings; he has a fine assortment at prices from $2.50 up.

An extensive credit sale of stock, implements, furniture, and musical instruments, will take pace in Flesherton on "Fair Day," Monday, 8th day of November. Terms of sale; sums over $5—twelve month's credit. Sale to commence at 12 noon. House, lot, and the Flesherton skating rink will be offered for sale; terms which will be made known at sale.

The Durham organ case was to be considered before an adjourned meeting of the Presbytery of Saugeen; meet in St. Andrews church, Mount Forest yesterday, we have not learned the result, but, trust, however, it will be finally settled, and that the controversy which has been going on for some time past will be brought to a close.

Hallow E'en falls on Sunday this year which no doubt will be a great disappointment to our mischief-loving "small boys" and some of those of larger growth. Our devil says, however, that they (the "small boys") are not going to be deprived of their just dues but intend celebrating the following honored day, on Monday Nov. 1st. So friends look out for your gates.

I cannot help but tell the truth; I find the kind of goods to back me up in what I say. They speak for themselves, no matter what people say. Come all and see for yourselves. If you are not satisfied that you are not getting good value for your money, you don't take the goods and we will part by shaking hands, looking pleasant, hoping we shall soon meet again. I will find me in the same place, days on duty. A. McIntyre.

Supposed to be stolen.—Saturday last says the Mount Forest Confederate a man came into town and offered a black looking mare for sale to John O'Brien. He held it at a fair price at first, but came down in one sum to another until he expressed willingness to accept $20 for the animal. Thinking from the manner in which the man acted that things were not altogether square Mr. O'Brien caused inquiry to be made of Mayor Swan as to what he thought best to do in the matter. Further conversation was had with the man regarding the horse. A second visit was made to the mayor, when the stranger, becoming through some means aware that he was about to be arrested, jumped on the horse's back and made off along the town line east. Constables McGuire and Godfray, with Mr. O'Brien gave chase. They followed the chap for about two miles and were just about up to him when he dismounted, jumped the fence and made across the field to the bush. Here search was made for him without avail. The scouts came home without their man. They however hoodled the horse and brought it to town. It is now being cared for by the authorities. The beast is a dark bay, fifteen and a-half hands high and about five years old. No trace has as yet been obtained of the owner.

The 5th of November is to be celebrated this year in Markdale, by an orange procession, a Bazaar, Dinner, and a grand concert in the evening. From the array of talent the concert promises to be a first-class one and we would recommend all who wish to enjoy some really good music to attend. Tickets will be issued from Orangeville and Owen Sound and intermediate stations at single fare, good to return next day.

Last week we announced the marriage of Adam Holly to Miss Jessie A. McKenzie. A day or two since we received a letter from Miss McKenzie denying that she was married and politely requesting us to contradict the report which we now do we are exceedingly sorry the mistake occurred. The marriage was sent to us, and of course we published it, we are sorry we are not to have the pleasure of congratulating Miss Jessie on the supposed happy event.

Swindling the Grocer.—The following is the latest dodge to get over the unsuspecting grocer: A woman entered a grocery store near the corner of Brant and Adelaide streets, Toronto, the other night, with a coal oil can in her hand, and after ordering a large amount of groceries, handed the proprietor the can and told him to fill it while she stepped across the road a minute. The proprietor went to the barrel and commenced to pour in the oil, but stopped when he saw it running over the floor. Upon turning up the can he made two discoveries, viz., that it had no bottom and that the woman had vanished with the groceries.

Sad Death.—On Wednesday inorning a man named Geo. Robson, well known in this vicinity, was found drowned in the river near the bridge at Durham. Whether he walked deliberately into the river or wandered off the road and fell in is not known. an inquest was held and the jury returned a virdict that "deceased came to his death by drowning while under mental derangement caused by excessive drinking."—Orangeville Advertiser.

The Emerald on her last trip down brought news of a disaster to the Jane Miller, which left here for Manitoulin on Tuesday night of last week. It appears that on Friday last she was lying off shore with anchors down at Michael's Bay, when it came on to blow, and before she could get steam up she was driven ashore. Capt. Port scuttled her to keep her from further injury till assistance arrived, but as there has been heavy weather since, it is feared she may prove a total wreck. Insured in the Phœnix for $3,000.—O. S. Times.

Night Classes.—Arrangements have been made by the Y. M. C. A. to open night classes for young men in their Rooms. Classes in Book-keeping, Writing, Drawing, Arithmetic, Physiology, Chemistry and other subjects will be formed. These will be conducted by competent instructors in each subject. The classes will be free to members of the Association; and others may obtain tickets for the full course by payment of $1 Laterary evenings will also be given at regular intervals during the winter—tickets for the course 50 cents. Persons wishing to join the classes should send in their names at once to Mr. John A. Platt, Sec'y Y. M. C. A.—O. S. Times.

Fire in Durham.—Just after six o'clock on Tuesday evening last the rear part of the furniture store of Mr. Geo. Mathews, of this town, was discovered to be on fire. The alarm was at once given, and a large number of residents were soon on hand, and went to work with a will. The furniture was quickly taken out of both the store and dwelling of Mr. Mathews, and water fetched from the neighboring pumps in pails and poured on the building. For some time it appeared as if the devouring element was going to gain the mastery, as large volumes of smoke poured from the side of the building, which is of wood, and the flames burst out, but those at work went at it with renewed energy, and by tearing off the inner sheeting of the wall, and breaking up the flooring, the fire was put out in an hours time. It appears the fire started under the floor, and spreading to both sides was burning up the wall between the outer and inner covering. It was a narrow escape for the building. The loss will probably not exceed $100. There was no insurance, we believe, on the building.—Grey Review.
