

Wed Oct 20/65

On the Main Street

with FORD MOYNES

Eighty-three years is a good span in the life of an individual. Congratulations are in order to Clarence Sedgwick of Haliburton, a citizens of the north country who is well known to many in Lindsay and district.

For a long period he was associated with the old Grand Trunk Railway and later with the Canadian Railway as a bag-gageman.

His friends include a host of Haliburton inhabitants who loaded him down on his trips with long shopping lists and consequently he is known familiarly to many Lindsay merchants.

He has lived in retirement for some eighteen years, and Clarence Sedgwick's friends wish him many more happy birthdays.

* * *

Forty-three years ago a group of residents at the summer resort of Pleasant Point on Sturgeon Lake organized the first Union Church association, and the event was marked recently by the holding of a special service.

One of the key organizers of the union was the late Dr. Herb Irvine, and as a matter of coincidence, the beautiful bouquet of flowers at the pulpit platform recently was placed in memory of Dr. Irvine.

For many years Dr. Irvine was associated with Dr. J. A. Neelands in the dentistry profession in Lindsay, and the business which is now conducted by Dr. C. V. Laidley was founded by Dr. Irvine.

It is interesting to note that the constitution of the Pleasant Point church was penned by L. M. Frost, who has been a summer resident at the Point for as many years, as the church is old.

The union is very fortunate in having Professor Arthur Burrige, formerly on the staff of McMaster University, as Director of music and Hilton M. Brown of Lindsay has been the efficient treasurer of the church for several years.