$3,500,000 WILL BE SPENT BY C.P.R. ON FARMS FOR SOLDIERS

J. S. Dennis Amplifies Announcement Made by Lord Shaughnessy and Upholds Latter's Views on Enlistment, Transportation and Shortage of Labor in the West

The providing of employment for returned soldiers is a question that is demanding nation-wide attention, and it is with great satisfaction that Canadians learn that the Canadian Pacific Railway is to take action in this regard.

Mr. J. S. Dennis, assistant to the president of the C.P.R., has just returned to Calgary, and was asked details of the scheme planned by Lord Shaughnessy. Mr. Dennis replied:—

LORD SHAUGHNESSY'S DECISION

"The decision of Lord Shaughnessy to provide through the Department of Natural Resources of the Canadian Pacific Railway farm homes for our returned soldiers is a further proof, if any were needed, of his willingness at all times to devote his great energy and ability, and the resources of the company, to the solution of the problems facing Canada as part of the empire.

The extent and magnitude of the work of preparing 1,000 farms will be realized when it is noted that it involves: Building 1,000 houses; building 1,000 barns; constructing 1,300 miles of fence; digging 1,000 wells; breaking and cultivating 50,000 acres; the buildings will require about 20,000,000 feet of lumber to erect. The preparation of these farms will entail an expenditure of about $3,500,000.

ENLISTMENT QUESTION

"One thousand farms will, of course, provide for an extremely small proportion of returned soldiers who will want to obtain farm homes, and the Dominion Government must adopt some general policy of providing these homes. However, the Canadian Pacific Railway has led the way in trying to solve the pressing and troublesome question and no doubt before long the Dominion Government will announce its general scheme.

AN IMMENSE PROJECT

"The enlistment of the 250,000 additional men called for by the Government, will, of course, double the number to be taken care of after the war is over, and also causes a serious present problem. The western provinces have responded nobly to the call of the empire in enlisting men to fight our battles, and already there is a serious shortage of labor of all kinds, due to this enlistment. In the effort to meet this shortage, the Dominion government is now advertising in some 4,000 papers in the United States for 50,000 laborers to come west and help put in the crop this spring. They find that there is no chance of getting this number of men, and have announced that from 3,000 to 5,000 is the greatest number that can be obtained.

SHORTAGE OF LABOR

"The recognition of this shortage of labor by the Department of the Interior, and the efforts they are making to meet the situation by bringing men from the United States is a contradiction of the statement made at a meeting in Montreal a short time ago by Gen. Sir Sam Hughes, Minister of Militia, that the enlistment of men in the west was not causing any shortage of labor, and is a proof, if any were needed, of the soundness of the policy of recruiting advocated by Lord Shaughnessy at the same meeting. Every true Canadian realizes that Canada must ultimately send her last man and spend her last dollar to enable the empire and her allies to bring the war to victorious termination, but why enlist men before they can be used.

TRANSPORTING TROOPS

"It is now recognized that under the most favorable circumstances it will be the end of the year before all the men now enlisted can be transported across the Atlantic, and after that date, at most, 10,000 men a month can be sent forward. Many of the battalions now authorized are very much below their full strength, and it will be many months before they will have succeeded in enlisting their full quota of men. Why then go on authorizing additional battalions and removing men from the useful employment of helping feed the empire or supply it with munitions until they can be utilized in the firing line?

WESTERN CANADA'S LOYALTY

"Of the men already enlisted, western Canada has provided much more than its share on the basis of population. As western Canadians we are proud of that fact, but why drive a willing horse off its feet, particularly when its energies can be utilized in the meantime to such great advantage in other ways, and it can be kept in good condition for the time when its full strength can be properly applied in the supreme crisis?"

With hogs selling at $11.00 per hundred weight on Tuesday, the highest in the history of Shelburne, the squeal of a pig these days is something of an aristocractic sound, and the noise threatens to become even more expensive still, as there is little indication of a drop in price. The prodigal son, who herded among swine, would feel that he had been in high society if he could see what each of his old chums is worth in these days.—Free Press.

A remarkable record of growth has been made by William Williams, a Goderich boy, who enlisted five months ago with the 70th Battalion at London. In the five months his height has increased frim 5 feet 2 inches to 5 feet 7 inches—an average growth of 1 inch a month. In the same time his weight has increased from 130 to 151 pounds.

William Welsh of Brampton was sentenced to six months at the Central Prison Farm for being drunk and disorderly. By the time he is released the "wet" season in Ontario will be over. Walsh has been giving the police considerable trouble lately. He enlisted last fall and was in training at Hamilton until his unquenchable thirst got him into trouble and he was discharged.

Beeton public school was burned down recently. The school was a four roomed one, solid brick and built in 1881. There was an insurance of $4,000 on the building but none on the contents, the total loss being $11,000. A new school of more modern design will be erected as soon as possible on the same site and work will be begun at once taking down the walls, the greater part of which are still standing. The basement can be used for the new structure, as the walls were not injured.

Mr. Durham Smith caught some very large salmon trout last Friday. He had set a net in the bay for suckers and was rather surprised when he found he had caught one of the largest trout seen around here for some time. Two of the fish hung in front of Gilson's Meat Market for a little while Friday morning and one of them measured 45½ inches in length, and the fish weighed 24½ lbs. and 16½ respectively.—Thornbury Review.
