NEWS NOTES.

We must apologize to our readers this week for the small amount of reading matter this week. What with moving to our new premises, and the rush of work, we were unable to get out the paper in its usual shape.

An attempt was made to shoot Guitteau on Saturday last, a horseman approached the prison-van in which he was conveyed from the court house to the jail and fired into it, slightly cutting the prisoner's wrist.

A meeting of clergymen and others interested in the suppression of the "Social Evil," which is said to be largely on the increase, was held in Toronto on Friday of last week. Although representatives of the press had been invited to attend, it was decided, after the meeting was convened, to exclude the reporters, as many of those present did not wish what they had to say to appear in the papers; accordingly the reporters withdrew. It appears, however, they had a spy in the group, one Rev. E. Ransford, said to be an Episcopal minister, who took notes and furnished a full report to the Globe. The rest of those participating in the meeting are highly indignant at this piece of treachery, and who can blame them.

A serious fire occured in Brockville on the 19th inst., destroying a vast amount of property. Mr. Allen Turner succumbed from excitement and exhaustion during the fire.

The first Locomotive over the Bay of Quinte Railway, arrived at Desoronto, (late mile Point,) on the 21st inst. It is expected the road will be opened for traffic in the course of a week or ten days.

Toronto City Council have decided to have nothing to do with the Provincial Exhibition next Fall.

The man who attempted to shoot Guitteau has been arrested and liberated on bail, and his case indfinetely postponed.

The Bishop of Manchester, in sermon the other day, stated he had his doubts as to the benefits from Moody & Sankey's revival meetings, as he thought hollering glory Hallelujah was not all that was necessary to save a man.

Small pox has broken out in several places simultaneously in the Northwestern States, particulary in Minnesota and Iowa. It is causing considerable alarm among the inhibatants of the unfected localities.

Immense destruction is being done in central Illinois from floods.

The first Beet Sugar factory in Canada was opened at Coaticooke, Quebec, on Monday of this week.

There were nearly fourteen hundred delegates present at the Conservative convention held in Toronto on Tuesday last.

It is stated in the Mail that Lord Lorne, accompanied by H, R. H. Prince Louise will sail for Canada about Jan. 12th.

From what Sir John McDonald stated in his speech at the conservative convention, it is not probable that the general election will be held before 1883.

A Chaudiere woman a short time ago undertook to kill a calf. She laid the animal on a saw-horse, and, with the assistance of her daughter, cut the young bovine's head off with a saw.

OUR TABLE.

The "New Northwest" a monthly paper, quarto form, and printed in Philadelphia, is to hand. It professes to be published in the interest of Railroad investments, land and settlement From the cursory glance we were enabled to give it, it appears to be merely a huge advertising Scheme to advance the interest of the Northern Pacific Railway,

"Fated to be Married."—A tale by May Agness Fleming: Toronto News Company, publishers. This is a very interesting story, as are all the writings of the above author: to be had of all news dealers. Price 15 cents.

Vennor's Almanac, for 1881, is to hand, besides the predictions of the weather for the next twelve months, it contains a vast amount of useful information. Price 25 cents.

THE EXAMINATION FRAUDS.

The examination, by Dr. Hodgins, Deputy Minister of Education, into the irregularities in connection with the Intermediate Examinations, which has been going on at Owen Sound for the past two weeks, was brought to a close on the 22nd inst. To give a detailed account of the proceedings would occupy more space than we have at our disposal; suffice it to say, that the result has proved that these examinations have been conducted, for some time past, in a very loose and unsatisfactory manner. It was proved that the examination papers had been tampered with; that bogus papers had been substituted for the original ones, and various othe irregularities. We give below Dr. Hodgin's remarks at the close of the trial, which we copy from the Toronto Mail:—

"Dr. Hodgins.—In closing the enquiry, the most painful part of this painful case were the revelations which had been made of violations of honor on the part of the pupils concerned.—He then enumerated several points which the evidence had established, among them being that the answers of the candidates in 1877 and 1881 had not been properly secured, and that reasonable care had not been exercised in obtaining for them places of temporary deposit, the safety of which was unquestioned; that access had been fraudulently obtained to these papers in the years named in the absense of a proper sense of personal responsibility in the absolute security of these answers; that fraudulent access has been had the answers of the candidates of the intermediate examination of 1881, and the result has been the extensive abstraction of some papers and the substitution of others in the mathematical group; that there is a remarkable coincidence in a considerable portion of the subject matter of instruction given to the Lantin class on Thursday and Friday of the examination week and the printed questions on which the candidates were examined on the Saturday of that week; that the copying of notes, prompting of each other, surreptitious passing of papers, and other irregularities among the candidates were indulged in by a considerable number of them, only a few of them were detected and punished; that at least two persons were dismissed for improper practices at the examination were, one within the year, and the other within three months, reported as having been awarded third class certificates; that the practice of copying from notes, prompting each other, and passing papers by so many pupils in high and public schools as brought out in the official erquiries of 1877 and 1881 has caused feelings of grave apprehension for the future of these pupils; this exhibition of dishonesty is especially to be deplored in the case of such of them as have aspired to the honorrble profession of teaching.

IN MEMORIAM,

We have this week to chroniele the death of one of Upper Canada's (Ontario) early pioneers, a race that are now fast passing away to "that bourne from whence no traveller returns."—Most of our readers are only too familiar with the trials incident to pioneer life; but in the days to which we refer there was no frontier settlement from which to draw supplies, nor obtaint remunerative wages for their labor during the harvest season, as was the case in our own early settlement. The pioneers to which we refer were the men who moulded our present laws, and laid the foundation-stone of the monumental greatness of our Dominion; and we trust their memory will be long remembered by an appreciative public.

MAURICE WURTS, the subject of this sketch, was born in the State of New Jersey, in the year 1798, and in the year 1802, his parents removed to Upper Canada; but whether voluntarily, or by reason of the confiscation of their property by the American Government—a custom cruelly practiced by the Americans of that day—we have no means of ascertaining. They landed at Little York (Toronto), and settled in the vicinity of what is now Markham Village; and they, in common with all other United Empire Loyalists, received grants of land from the British Government. When quite a young man he married a daughter of Christian Warren, Esq., long a Justice of the Peace in Niagara, also one of the noble U. E; Loyalists, and settled in the township of Chingacousey, County of Peel, and was the first man who drove a waggon team west of the point were Streetsville now stands. His wife preceded him to the "long, long home" three years ago; and since that time the subject of this memoir has resided with his son, Joel Wurtz, Esq., at Lockport Farm, in the Tyrone neighborhood, Artemesia, where he passed peacefully away "to the better land" on the 23rd ult., deeply regretted by all who had the pleasure of his acquaintance. May his ashes rest in peace.

ADDRESS AND PRESENTATION.

The following is the address presented to Mr. Eaton upon his departure from Markdale, and his reply thereto:

A. W. Eaton, Esq

DEAR SIR,—We have learned with regret that you are about to leave our Village, to reside in another section of the country; therefore, we embrace this opportunity of presenting you with this token of the respect and esteem in which you are held by the people of Markdale.

Your generous disposition, gentlemanly conduct, and estimable social qualities, have endeared you to us by ties of affection that will not readily be severed.

Wherever you may locate, or in whatever line of life you may be engaged, rest assured you shall always carry with you our best wishes for your prosperity and welfare.

Please accept the accompanying purse, not esteeming its intrinsic value as worthy of consideration, but only the friendly spirit which prompted the gift; and believe us ever, yours truly, T. S. SPROULE, T. MULLARKY, JOHN WELSH, T. HILL, on behalf of the others.

To T. S. Sproul, T. Mullarky, John Welsh, T. Hill, et al:

GENTLEMEN,—This sudden and unexpected compliment, with your presence, has so taken me by surprise, that I am at a loss to find language sufficiently expressive to convey to you my heartfelt thanks for this kindly expression of your friendship and generosity.

Associated as I have been with you for many years, in the pursuits and engagements of life, and endeared to you by the very strongest ties of affection, at this juncture, I find it impossible to sever my connection with you without experiencing the deepest feelings of regret.

The friendly sentiments contained in your complimentary and sympathetic address, shall ever be remembered by me with pride and pleasure, as significant of the estimable friends I have left behind in Markdale. For it, and your generous gift, accept my most sincere thanks, and believe, me gentlemen, to remain, ever yours truly,

A. W. EATON.

OSPREY.

From a Correspondent.

Osprey seems pretty quiet just now, not even a wedding for people to gossip about, but we are looking for better times as the winter has evidently arrived.

People in this section seem unanimous in wishing for more snow. Fall plowing is much further advanced this season than any previous year.

On Thursday last the infant son of Mr. W. Hopper, 9th con. Artemesia, got his arm badly injured while playing, but under proper treatment is likely to recover.

The semi-annual meeting of the Presbyterian Congregation, Feversham was held in the church on the 10th inst., when general business was transacted, and the congregation found to be in a good financial condition.

Ordination of Elders took place in the McIntyre church on the 19th, there was a good attendance.

We had the pleasure of seeing a copy of the Flesherton Advance last week. Pity to see people so jealous, envying those two gentlemen at the Station the pleasure of each other's company, and the music they enjoy in leisure hours. Pity on the small boys if they stand with open mouth this weather. Diphtheria or some unpleasant consequence will be the result.

LYNCH LAW IN OHIO.

When mulatto Davis was lynched at Athens, Ohio, on the 22nd inst., for outraging an old white lady, he was taken to a bridge with a rope around his neck. He was asked to confess. He inquired what would be done with him if he confessed. The mob told him that he would be taken back to the goal to be delt with by the law. He hesitated, and again asked if they would not hang him if he confessed. Being assured that they would not, he said, "I'm the man." At this there was an instant cry of "throw him off." The other end of the rope was made fast to the bridge, and they gave him three minutes in which to pray, but he did not attempt to pray. He said he was ready to die when the time expired. He was hurled off the bridge, and his neck was broken by the fall.

THE NEWS ITEMS.

From our Correspondent.

We have just got our season's crop into the granary, and the yield is very satisfactory, being better than we have had for some years past.

Game is plentiful, and hares, rabbits, and partridges furnish abundant employment for the sportsman; and if you could pay us a visit, we promise you a good day's sport and a hearty welcome; and if you desire larger game than the above, deer are to be found in large numbers, and bears are more plentiful than we could wish.

Mr. John Sanders, of your locality, has been in this good neighborhood of Tyrone during the past seven weeks, and has given the entire community the most successful "threshing" ever inflicted upon an unoffending people. We intend to get him to repeat the dose this time next year, for the people all are highly pleased with his style of doing it—it was our grain he threshed.

There is a very general feeling that a change should be made in the personnel of some of the members of our Township Council. Webster stands well with the ratepayers, as an independent pains-taking man, and as Ward No. 1 immediately adjoins us, we have a good opportunity of ascertaining the opinion of his constituents, there is not much likelihood of opposition to his re election. There are, no doubt, other good men in the Council, but we are unacquainted with their management of the affairs of the respective Wards they represent.

In your next issue give us the latest weather predictions for the coming winter,

And oblige

MANY TYRONIANS.

MELANCHTON COUNCIL.

Mr. McDowell moved, seconded by Mr. Corbett, that in regard to the petition of David Martin and others praying for the establishment of a new polling sub-division at River View, the council consider that the change would be judicious, but it is too late this year as the Voters Lists are made out and cannot be changed.

Mr. McDowell moved, seconded by Mr. Corbett, that whereas Wm. White is desirous of procuring a tavern license on lot 8, on the 9th Con. S. W., it is resolved that a reduction of $20 be made by this council on said license, in consequence of half the license year having expired.

Mr. Corbett moved, seconded by Mr. Hogg, that in regard to the drain affecting George Scott, we would recommend that he get it run, and if same is not parallel with drain, and contractor's certificate to his willingness to the shifting of same by our Engineer, (Scott paying any additional expenses necessary thereby), that the Engineer proceed at once to re-locate the drain to suit parties interested.—Carried.

Mr. McDowell moved, seconded by Mr. Hogg, that whereas the townline between the townships of Mulmur and Melancthon north of the sideroad is impassable, and the township of Mulmur has granted the sum of $50 to open said road on condition that the council of Melancthon grant a like amount, it is resolved that this council supplement the said grant, and Mr. Baily be appointed to let and inspect the same.—Carried.

Mr. Corbett moved, seconded by Mr. Hogg, that By law 81 for the establishment of deviation of road now read a first and second time, be now read a third time, and signed, sealed, and engrossed in the By-law book.—Carried.

Mr. Bailey moved, seconded by Mr. Hogg, that this council do now adjourn to meet again on Monday, the 21st inst.

JAMES BROWN, Clerk.

The first volume of the census returns is almost completed, and will shortly be put in the hands of the printer, and will probably be ready for distribution when Parliament meets. It will embrace all facts and figures relating to the census proper, that is to say, the population, nationalities, origin, ages, condition, etc., of the people from one end of the Dominion to the other. The work is being carried on under Dr. Tache, Deputy Minister of Agriculture, with the utmost care and attention to details, and will no doubt prove a valuable and interesting addition to our official literature.

Mechanical Orguinette.

An Automatic Reed Organ

"The Orguinette may now be called a celebrated instrument. In tone it is akin to the Cabinet Organ, but the organ must be manipulated by an artist in order to produce music; the ORGUINETTE is on the other hand entirely mechanical in its action, and at a trifling expense it can be made to furnish an unlimited supply of all kinds of music. —Toronto Globe."

"The Orguinette is indeed a musical wonder. It is a miniature reed organ, with as strong and melodious a tone as the Cabinet Size. It surpasses the Cabinet Organ for this reason that the ignoramus in music can play it as well as the most accomplished professor. THE ORGUINETTE is strong and accurate in its mechanism, and consequently not liable to get out of order."—Montreal Gazette.

"The Orguinette is the most perfect automatic musical instrument yet invented; its repertorie is unlimited, the tone is remarkably good."—Montreal Star.
