FATAL WRECK ON THE C.N.R.

Train Derailed In Blinding Snowstorm, Carries Crew to Bottom of Gully, Near Leaside

A despatch from Toronto says: Forging through a blinding snowstorm under full head of steam, a Canadian Northern freight train on Monday morning left the rails at Leaside, and the engine, tearing free, crashed down the steep embankment, hurling a fireman and brakeman to horrible death. In miraculous fashion the engineer shot through the doorway and landed unharmed farther down the hill. At the jerk and sudden stop the train crew poured from the standing cars and rushed down to extricate their comrades. Nothing, however, could be done for the two. Fireman Thomas, of Parry Sound, and leading brakesman J. Smart, of Mt. Albert. The bodies were discovered close to the engine in a terribly mangled condition. A hurried police call was sent in to the city and ambulances and patrol wagons dispatched first to Rosedale and then to the Queen street crossing to intercept the dead and injured. Upon receipt of the message at the C. N. R. headquarters, a wrecking crew was immediately formed and dispatched to clear the line.

The three men in question were riding in the engine cab and were the only occupants of the fore part of the train. Had the main freight section followed the engine on its somersault down the hill the whole length of track would have been torn from its foundation.

WORST STORM OF WINTER.

Wind Reached a Velocity of 78 Miles an Hour.

A despatch from Buffalo says: Four lives were lost here on Sunday as the result of conditions accompanying the worst storm of the winter, during which the wind reached a velocity of 78 miles an hour, and the temperature went down to ten degrees above zero. In a rear-end collision between two Nickle Plate freight trains Edward O. Hansen of Pullman, Ill., was caught in the wreckage and burned to death. He was in charge of five new cars to be delivered to the Lackawanna Railroad here. His train was stalled by snow drifts. Carl K. Bartos, 38 years old, and Thos. Hundias, 22, laborers, both employed in clearing snow-clogged railroad switches, were hit by trains and killed.

WHEN THEY GO HOME.

Duke and Duchess of Connaught Will Stay at Clarence House.

A despatch from London says: The Duke of Connaught will stay at Clarence House, which for long has been his London residence, when he arrives directly after Easter. When he returns to Canada a few weeks later the Duchess will probably go to Germany and Sweden for a few months.

THE FINANCES OF ONTARIO

Expenditure on Current Account Amounted to $10,287,901, with Current Revenue of $10,042,000

A despatch from Toronto says: In the public accounts for the fiscal year ended October 31, 1912, which were presented to the Legislature on Wednesday, the total revenue for the year from all sources is shown to be $15,326,673.33. Of this amount $10,042,000.68 represents current receipts, $5,780,725.66 receipts on capital account, that is from the sale of stock, debentures, etc., and $1,505,916.99 is the balance carried over from 1911. The current expenditure was $10,287,591.59.

The total revenue for 1911 was $15,[illegible]82, of which $9,370,835.90 was on current account, $2,855,701.26 on consolidated fund and $3,177,569.66 balance carried forward from the previous year. For that year there was a deficit on current account of $249,190.13. For 1910 the figures are: total receipts, $15,769,119.30; current revenue, $8,391,004.68; capital account, $1,791,[illegible]; For this year the surplus on current account was $3,384.59.

The chief items of revenue are: Subsidies from the Dominion of Canada $2,397,196.08; interest received from the Dominion on trust funds, $149,011.08; lands, forests and mines, $2,920,204; liquor licenses, $805,151; law stamps, $126,720; estate tax, $65,944; Provincial Secretary—from corporation fees, companies' returns, automobile licenses, marriage licenses, etc., $343,053; game and fisheries, $135,554; supplementary revenue (corporation tax), $692,031; succession duty, $775,712; casual revenue, $166,839; insurance department fees, etc., $45,121; public institutions, $281,294; Hydro-electric Power Commission (interest), $181,707.

In the expenditure column the larger amounts are as follows: Civil government, $689,451; legislation, $281,426; administration of justice, $674,390; education, $1,963,251; public institutions maintenance, $1,313,969; colonization and immigration, $466,227; agriculture, $567,502; hospitals and charities, $411,108; repairs and maintenance, $133,479; colonization roads, $433. Interest charges on Crown lands, $579,869; Hydro-electric Power Commission, $170,684; hospitals for insane, $256,299; public works, $205,823.

During the year the Province advanced to the T. & N. O. Railway on capital account $1,210,789. Out of the $5,000,000 voted for the development of New Ontario there was expended $236,833. The Government's contribution to the good roads scheme under which counties receive back one-third of their expenditure under the act was $244,688. On new Government House $194,542 was spent. The new Provincial prison cost $274,561, and the final restoration of the west wing of the Parliament Buildings, $161,179. The new north wing that has been added to the Parliament Buildings, which was completed during the year, required $229,882 out of the 1912 revenue, and $50,000 was advanced on account of the new museum. The new Hospital for the Insane at Whitby required funds to the extent of $134,489.

During the year the Provincial Treasurer advanced to the Hydro-electric Power Commission in respect of the Niagara transmission line and the Port Arthur transmission line a total of $479,315, which is apart from the proportion which the Province bears for administration, etc., which appears in another column as $170,684.

The amount received from the T. & N. O. Railway for the year is $5,000 less than that from 1911, and $60,000 more than the revenue for 1910.

The succession duties show a considerable falling off. Over $1,000,000 was received for 1911, but even with the decreased amount the Provincial Treasurer's estimate has been somewhat exceeded.

POLICE ARE POWERLESS.

Suffragettes Suffer Indignities by Washington Mob.

A despatch from Washington says: Five thousand women, marching in the women suffrage pageant on Monday, practically fought their way foot by foot up Pennsylvania avenue through a surging mob that completely defied the Washington police, swamped the marchers and broke their procession into little companies. The women, trudging stoutly along under great difficulties, were able to complete their march only when troops of cavalry from Fort Meyer were rushed into Washington to take charge of Pennsylvania avenue. No inauguration has ever produced such scenes, which, in many instances, amounted to nothing less than riots. The marchers had to fight their way from the start, and took more than one hour in making the first ten blocks. Many of the women were in tears under the jibes and insults of the mob that lined the route.

In London, Too.

A despatch from London says: There was further evidence on Monday of the exasperation of a section of the public at the suffrage campaign of violence. For over two hours there were scenes of disorder outside the Pavilion Theatre, Piccadilly Circus, where militants hold weekly meetings. The theatre was in a state of siege. The demonstration followed the decision of the organizers of the meeting to refuse entry to men as the result of last week's scenes at suffrage meetings. The men thereupon determined not to allow any women to enter the theatre: "No men, no women," was the cry, and they formed a solid phalanx and refused to make a gangway for the women. Piccadilly Circus presented an extraordinary spectacle.

THE SPRING CLIPPING OF HORSES.

The modern practice among the best posted and most progressive horse owners and farmers is to clip all horses in the spring. It is done on the theory that in their natural state horses were not obliged to work, so could shed the winter coat in comfort over a period of several weeks. Since we oblige them to do hard work on warm spring days, the winter coat should be removed for the same reason that we lay off our heavy winter garments. Clipped horses dry off rapidly, hence they do not take cold as easily nor are they as prone to be affected with other ailments as unclipped animals whose longer hair holds the perspiration for hours. Because clipped horses dry off rapidly they rest better, get more good from their food and come out in the morning refreshed and fit for work.

Since the advent of the ball bearing enclosed gear clipping machine, the work of taking off the winter coat is easy. With the machine a horse can be clipped all over in half an hour, whereas with the old two-hand clipper it required several hours to do it.

Dairymen also now clip the cows all over two or three times a year. The flanks and udders are clipped every three or four weeks, so it is easy to clean the parts before milking. This means less opportunity for dirt and other impurities to get into the milk.

INCREASE IN CUSTOMS.

Big Gain in February Over Same Month Last Year.

A despatch from Montreal says: The returns of the Montreal Customs House for February, 1913, show an increase over the corresponding period of last year of $234,445.60. The detailed figures are: $2,036,468 for February, 1913, and $1,802,022.40 for February, 1912. The returns of the Montreal branch of the Inland Revenue Department for the past month show an increase of $62,176.57 over the corresponding period last year, the figures being $857,037.62 for February, 1913, as compared with $794,891.05 for February, 1912.

THE FRUIT INDUSTRY.

Shipments Increased 500 Per Cent. in Ten Years.

A despatch from St. Catharines says: The convention of Niagara district fruit-growers closed here on Friday afternoon. The extent of the industry is shown when it was stated that the shipments of fruit from St. Catharines had increased 500 per cent. in ten years. Where ten years ago the Grand Trunk carried only ten cars of fruit last year they carried over 500 cars. This does not include shipments by express and other railway lines and steamers. W. H. Bunting advised the growers to go more into apple-growing, and said the growers seemed to have gone "peach crazy."

SURRENDER OF TURKEY.

Placed Ottoman Cause in Hands of European Powers.

FARMERS' BANK FAILURE.

Sir William Meredith in His Report Puts Blame on Management.

A despatch from Ottawa says: Sir William Meredith's report as Royal Commissioner appointed to investigate the affairs of the Farmers' Bank and the relations of the former Minister of Finance, Hon. W. S. Fielding, and the Treasury Board thereto, was tabled in the Commons on Wednesday afternoon by Hon. W. T. White. The conclusions reached in the report may be briefly summarized as follows:—The whole blame for the failure of the bank, involving a net loss to the depositors of $1,806,437, is ascribed to the recklessness and fraud of those entrusted with the management of the bank. In so far as the Treasury Board is concerned the Commissioner finds that there is no ground for imputing any improper motives to the ex-Finance Minister or his colleagues, and the most that can properly be charged against them is "an error of judgment." This error of judgment lay in accepting the repeated assurances of Travers as to the correctness of the sworn statements of the bank's affairs without making a sufficiently searching inquiry as to the truth of the allegations made by Sir Edmund Osler, Mr. David Henderson, M.P., and others.

Sir William says that if the bank had been prudently and honestly managed there is no reason why it should not have succeeded, despite the irregularities on the part of Travers and his misconduct in connection with the application for the certificate. This would seem to indicate that the shareholders and depositors will not have much to go on in their demand for reimbursement from the Government.

Both Mr. Peter Ryan and the late Hon. Col. Matheson, Provincial Treasurer, are exonerated from any culpability in the matter. In regard to the latter the report finds that the Provincial Treasurer in making deposits in the bank acted with nothing in view but public interest.

THREE ENGLISH GIRLS.

Induced Young Men to come to Canada to Marry Them.

A despatch from Toronto says: On Monday three former London (England) girls, all very close friends, and who for the past fifteen months have been resident of Toronto, were married at Avenue to three young men with whom they kept company in the Old Country prior to their coming to Toronto, and who were induced to come to Canada by the young ladies. The triple wedding served as an illustration of the manner in which the population of this country is being augmented by following their sweethearts and their husbands from the crowded centres of the Old World.

EMPEROR LOST SUIT.

Court Decided Kaiser Could Not Terminate Lease.

A despatch from Berlin says: Emperor William met with a decided legal setback Friday last, when he lost a suit brought against him, as a tenant farmer, by one named Schst, whom he boasted during a recent speech before the German Agricultural Council that he had "Thrown out because he was no good" from a plot of land rented from the Imperial estate at Cadinon. The District Court decided that the Emperor was not entitled to terminate the lease of the tenant, which runs until 1915.
