The Young Folks.

THE BLESSING OF A SONG.

"What a friend we have in Jesus,"
Sang a little child one day
And a weary woman listened
To the glad song's happy lay.

All her life seemed dark and gloomy,
And her heart wasted with care;
But the song out baby's treble,
Of our sins and grief to bear

She was pilloring out the Saviour,
Who could carry every one;
And the song she so by listened
Showed that dear lamper so!

Her and grief were heavy burdens
For a fainting soul to bear;
But the baby singing leads her
Take it to the Lord in prayer

With a simple, trusting spirit,
Weak and worn she turned to God,
Asking Christ to take her burden,
As he was the sinner's Lord.

Jesus was the only refuge;
He could take her in and care,
And he blessed the weary woman
When she came to him in prayer

And the happy child still singing,
Little knew she had a part
In God's wondrous work of bringing
Peace to a troubled heart.

CIRCUMSTANCES WERE DIFFERENT.

"You are the plaintiff in this case, I believe?" said the attorney for the defence to Mr. Ferry.

"I am."

"And you are suing Train for ten feet of ground more than you own?

"But I do own it. That's why I am suing for possession?"

"You think your lot extends ten feet east on what Mr. Train claims as his?"

"Yes."

"How long have you claimed this ten feet of ground?"

"Ever since I had it surveyed two years ago."

"Why did you not bring suit for it sooner?"

"I was trying to obtain it amicably, without going to law.

"Mr. Ferry, so recently as last January, you laid no claim to this ten feet of ground now in dispute."

"What's that?"

"Did you not one day last January, tell Mr. Train that your lot came only to the point which he claims as his? Now refresh your memory and remember that you are under oath. The occasion I refer to was on Tuesday afternoon, and Mr. Maddox was present."

"Well," replied Ferry, after a thoughtful pause "that was when we were shovelling the snow off our pavements."

WHAT GOUGH BELIEVED.

Joel Stratton, the man through whose kind words John B. Gough was converted, should have a monument for giving to two continents this great temperance apostle, whose gratitude was well shown by the shower of gold which poured into the lap of Mrs Stratton, when her husband had left her destitute. Gough went into the prisons and among the slums, and thousands of drunken men and erring girls were saved. Gough believed in not only in rescuing the drunkard, but also believed in the annihilation of the liquor traffic. He died while speaking, and his last words as he fell with paralysis, "Young man, keep your record clean," rang out all over the land. His life after all, was a grand success and shows that no drunkard, however low, but may be rescued and rescue others.—Oakland Enquirer.

The Voice of the Bee.

The bee, says a writer in the Horticultural Times, has threefold voice organs, which are the vibrating rings of the abdomen, and a true vocal apparatus in the breathing apperture or spiracle. The buzz is produced by the first two, and the hum, which may be "surly, cheerful, or colloquially significant," by the vocal membrane. A number of bee's notes have been interpreted. "Hum" is the cry of contentment; "wuh wuh-wuh" glorifies the egg layings of the queen, "shu u u" is the note of the young bee at play, "e e e e" means the muster of a swarm, "p r r r" the slaughter or expulsion of the drones; and the "tu tu-tu" of the newly hatched young queen is answered by the "qua qua qua" of the queens still imprisoned in their cells.

THE YOUNG PREACHER

Help the young preacher. The first years of his ministry are years of "trial" in a sense quite aside from that in which his conference nomenclature views it. His character as a minister is forming, his courage and faith are under strain. So fatefully is life dependent upon life, that you may help to make or destroy the young disciple sent to minister to your spiritual hope. As you strengthen him, he will strengthen you; as you wound him by neglect or unkind criticism, you hurt yourself. Help the young preacher with your prayers, your sympathy and your purse. There may come a time when you will reflect on your course with gratitude and pride, seeing how he who was least among his brethren has become as the greatest. Your pride in that day may be excusable as a father's who looks at his own son.—Pacific Advocate.

PAT'S FAREWELL.

A sergeant in the 7th Regiment of Infantry, who was very short, was recently drilling a squad of recruits, amongst whom was an Irishman who was very tall. The sergeant had several times spoken to him about his not carrying his head steady. At last, in desperation, the sergeant went up to him and, reaching up, placed his head in the desired position. Says Pat "Is this where I have to keep my head all the time?" "Certainly it is." "Then be gorra, sergeant" says Pat, "I'll have to say good bye to you for, I'll never are you any more."

Parmelee's Pills possess the power of acting specifically upon the digestive organs, stimulating to action the dormant energies of the system, thereby removing disease. In fact, so great is the power of this medicine to cleanse and purify, that diseases of almost every name and nature are driven from the body. Mr. D. Carswell, Carswell P. Severe colds are easily cured by the use of Buckle's Anti Consumptive Syrup, a medicine of extraordinary penetrating and healing properties. It is acknowledged by those who have used it as being the best medicine sold for coughs, colds, inflammation of the lungs, and all affections of the throat and chest. Its agreeableness to the taste makes it a favorite with ladies and children.

We gave her one of these wonderful powders and in a very short time she said in an astonished kind of way, 'Why, my headache is quite gone,' and it did not return again." CONSUMPTION CURED.

An old physician, retired from practice having had placed in his hands by an East India missionary the formula of a simple vegetable remedy for the speedy and permanent cure of Consumption, Bronchitis, Catarrh, Asthma and all throat and lung affections, also a positive and radical cure for Nervous Debility and all Nervous Complaints, after having tested its wonderful curative powers in thousands of cases, has felt it his duty to make it known to all his suffering fellows. Actuated by this motive and a desire to relieve human suffering, I will send free of charge, to all who desire it, this recipe in German, French or English with full directions for preparing and using. Why suffer from disorders caused by impure blood, when thousands are being cured by using Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery? It removes Pimples and all Eruptions of the skin. Mr. John C. THE ART OF CHARMING

A man says that a woman to be clever at conversation must have a good memory. She must keep in mind so much as she knows of the tastes and prejudices of those present.

"As you said the other day—" is a pleasant remark. "As your favorite author has it," which shows a flattering regard for one's preferences.

All these tricks if you call them so must be studied. Don't try to make a man think how clever you are. Make him think how clever he is. Brighten him up. Lead him to say witty things. You may even coax him up to a joke. Be he as ghost as Pharaoh's ghost. Remind him of clever things he said the other day.

Never mind if they are inventions of your own. Never mind if he knows they are; so long as he does not imagine that you know they are, you are all right.

Tell bright things about him. It won't take long to make him feel, especially, if he is really a dull fellow, that he is a lot smarter than even he thought himself and he will correspondingly adore you. A man is apt to frizzle under the fire of your own humor and wit and brightness, and of course a man is never comfortable when he feels—ill.

THEY SMELLED VERY BAD

A joke was played on a well known cigar traveller the other day by a customs[illegible] says the Kingston News. The traveller called and was passing his board of cigars in a way common to himself when the customs officer invited him to take one. The traveller lit it and smoked. The smell was so strong and disagreeable he threw it away. He tried another with the same result and six proved to be foul. He stopped trying the cigars and said he would compare to the firm about the uniform cigars being manufactured. The travellers left the city without knowing that the cigars he smoked had been [illegible] with tobacco of rubber combs which had been [illegible]

How to Raise Flowers in a House

A tiny garden can be made by cutting a piece of sheet wadding to fit the top of a bowl or a wide mouthed jar, which is filled with water just high enough for the bottom of the wadding to touch it. Four or three small bits of charcoal will keep the water pure, and when all is arranged the top of the wadding is covered with seeds of mignonette, sweet peas, or any other easily grown plant. The seeds pierce down through the wadding and are nourished by the water. While leaves and blossoms, in a reasonable time, conceal the top. Ho pers Young People.
