

It is never wise to date the female sex but a chance is being taken by the writer in this article, chiefly because of its historic value and interest.

In the winter season of 1904-1905, Lindsay had a very good Ladies Hockey team, fine in performance and fine in looks. The bloomer girls played exhibition games in Peterboro and Toronto with success.

The cute looking gentleman in the centre of the bevy of girls is none other than Fred "Goosie" Taylor, in the days when a hirsute upper lip was popular with the female gender.

Fred Taylor will be remembered by many local and former residents of Lindsay as one of the best centre players in the game of hockey, and also a good coach. In the above picture he was the loveable coach.

Fred Taylor played on many Lindsay teams. He was fast, he was tricky, and he was tough. The girls' team could be counted on to attract large crowds of fans and it was a thrill to see the fast skating girls handle the hickory and slam the elusive puck.

Shown in the picture are (back row) Polly Maunder, May Watson, Ruby Laidlaw and Katheline Watson. (Centre) J. Milne, Goosey Taylor, and Muriel Koyle. (Front) Vivian Laidlaw and Katheline Milne.

The Watson girls, tall and trim, were daughters of a gentleman named Adams Watson. The Milne girls, Kate and Jack are daughters of the late Mr. and Mrs. George A. Milne having been one of Lindsay's merchant tailors. It is understood that the Milne girls are residing on Yonge Boulevard, Toronto.

Muriel Koyle was the daughter of the parson and a sister of Leon Koyle, a great cover-point who played hockey with the champion Lindsay Midgets of 1908-1909. Leon is now a resident of Vancouver, but for many years was in the real-estate business in Saskatoon.

Polly Maunder, a daughter of John Maunder of the Central Hotel, a beautiful young lady, married W. J. House, hardware merchant of Trenton.

Ruby and Vivian Laidlaw were daughters of Grand Trunk railway engineer S. Laidlaw of Glenelg Street W.

* * *

Do you remember the concert in St. Andrew's Church, directed by the late Russell McLean with H. C. Hamilton at the organ?

Russell McLean was a popular trained soloist and a brother of the late Bill McLean. Members of the choir included: Sopranos — Miss O. Anderson, Miss B. Brown, Miss M. Cullon, Miss E. Flavelle, Miss E. Graham, Miss M. Gary, Miss Flora Jackson, Miss Florence Jackson, Miss V. Mercer, Miss Flossie Maunder, Mrs. Ford Moynes, Mrs. A. B. McIntyre, Miss C. Robertson, Miss H. Ross, Miss A. Smith, Miss M. Sullivan, Miss M. Thoburn, Miss Whyte. Altos — Mrs. G. F. Blackwell, Miss J. Faed, Mrs. P. A. Ferguson, Miss Hoadley, Miss Bessie Jackson, Miss F. Jones, Mrs. Kelly, Mrs. D. A. MacKenzie, Mrs. H. A. Nesbitt, Miss E. M. Randell, Miss A. Seaton, Mrs. W. R. Widless. Tenors — J. Coulter, M. Elliott, Sid Johnston, Mr. Kennedy, P. Morgan, J. Metcalfe, A. McKendry, W. Sullivan. Bass — George Adams, Alex Clarke, H. Curtis, Albert Greer, Ford Moynes, Tom Murtagh, Jack McCullough, and H. Thompson.

LADIES' HOCKEY TEAM (PHOTO) 1904-5

Back Row - Polly Maunder (Mrs. W. House)
May Watson, Ruby Laidlaw, Kathline
Watson,
Centre - J. Milne, "Goosey" Taylor,
Muriel Koyle,
Front - Vivian Laidlaw, Kathline Milne.

