The Toronto-to-Hamilton Road.

On 18th inst., a deputation representing Toronto, Hamilton, Halton, York, Peel and Wentworth called on Hon. Dr. Reaume, Minister of Public Works. They proposed that the province should pay one-half of the cost of the proposed paved road from Toronto to Hamilton along the lake shore, the counties to pay a quarter and the two cities to pay another, in proportion to population. The total was estimated at $300,000. The Mail says:

"The one-half proposition did not appeal to the Minister. He pointed out that under the present Highways Act the province contributed but one-third of the cost of county roads. To give assistance to the extent of $300,000 would mean that the Act would have to be changed and then all the counties working upon good roads systems would feel entitled to secure additional grants.

A member of the deputation thought the Government could make up the sum by using some of the proposed Federal grant for highways, but Hon. Dr. Reaume stated that he had no assurance that a grant would be made this year, or if made, would be continued another year.

The Minister was urged to consider the advisability of raising the automobile tax from $4 to $10 and car-marking the money for provincial highways.

The deputation admitted that the proposition submitted was not in concrete form. They wanted to find out what the Government would do and then be in a position to go back to the various councils. Hon. Dr. Reaume took the opposite view. He thought the matter should assume concrete form so that he could have something definite to lay before his colleagues. Finally the deputation left with the understanding that a further interview with the Minister would be held when the proposition had been advanced a little more.

Parliament and the Railway.

Winnipeg Grain Growers' Guide, Dec. 11.

W. F. Maclean made a vigorous attack in the House of Commons a few days ago upon the frenzied-finance methods of the Canadian Pacific Railway. He declared that the people were being put into slavery by foreign capitalists, and said Sir Thomas Shaughnessy, the master financier of the company, owed his election as president to the proxies of a Dutch syndicate of shareholders. Mr. Maclean advocates parliamentary action to stop melon cutting and discrimination in rates. It is to be hoped that Western members on both sides of the house will support Mr. Maclean. Forces both government and opposition to show whether they are the tools of the people or of the C. P. R. One of the issues which must soon be settled is whether the government of Canada will control the C. P. R. or allow the C. P. R. to control the government.

Pays to Raise Turkeys.

That it pays to raise turkeys, has been found by a number of farmers in St. Mary's district. Mrs. Thomas Nagle, of the south boundary of Blanchard, sold last week 75 turkeys that averaged in price $2.05 each. A farmer of the ninth concession of East Nissouri, sold 65 turkeys that netted him $225. Other big sales of turkeys have been reported with as good results, and until the two or three weeks there was practically no cost attached to the feeding of the turkeys, as the birds picked their feed up on the farms till within a few weeks of their sale.

HOW, WHEN AND WHY A SECOND ADVENT

Denver Divine on Right Track, Says Pastor Russell.

No World-Burning—Satan to Be Bound—Sin, Sickness and Death to Be Conquered—Man to Be Delivered—The Power Vested In Messiah—His Kingdom Near—How It Will Appear.

Denver, Dec. 1.—This city is stirred. Seventeen pastors of all denominations have been discussing The Second Advent for a month. Now comes Pastor Russell telling us all that "The Earth abideth forever"—that it will never be destroyed by literal fire. According to him the great event of Christ's Com[illegible] blessings such as we [illegible] He seems to have the Bible on his side too [illegible] deals [illegible] Wherefore, St. Paul [illegible] hath highly exalted Him [illegible] above angels, principalities and powers, and every name that is named."

An Opposite Course From Satan's.

Pastor Russell then contrasted the course pursued by Satan with that followed by our Lord. Meditating ambitious designs, Satan found an opportunity in Eden. He beheld in our first parents a new order of beings designed to bring into existence a race that would fill the earth. Satan assayed to be ruler over this human creation; and by so doing, he not only became a rebel against God, but brought sin and death into the world.

Our Lord Jesus pursued an opposite course, and demonstrated His loyalty and obedience. St. Paul intimates that, although the Logos was much higher than was Satan, yet He was humble, and "meditated not a usurpation," as the Greek text declares. (Phil 2:6.) He thought not by robbery to be equal with God. On the contrary, our Lord willingly accepted the Divine proposal that He should be humbled to the human plane for a time, in order to carry out the Father's Plan. After our Lord had suffered death on man's behalf, He was raised from the dead and highly exalted, as One pleasing in the sight of Jehovah, and given a position "at the right hand of the Majesty on High."

To the Church, Jesus is God's unspeakable Gift. He is indeed a Gift to the whole world, unspeakable in value, but He is more to the Church than to the world. To His footstep followers He is the "Captain of their Salvation," their Bridegroom, their "Elder Brother," their great High Priest. Through Him they are privileged to be the Royal Priesthood. Through the merit of the sacrifice of Christ, they are privileged to "present their bodies living sacrifices, holy, acceptable unto God."

The Pastor then said that Justice must be recognized in the Creator's dealings with His creatures. The Scriptures assure us that Justice is the foundation of God's throne. In the past, endeavors to harmonize Love and Justice with our great Creator's dealings with humanity have involved us in difficulty. We were assured by the prominent creeds of the world that God had knowingly and willingly brought mankind into existence under such conditions that the great majority would spend eternity in torture. We were unable to Justify in any such arrangement. But while we desisted from criticising the Creator, we could not indorse such a course, nor could we see it to be in harmony with the Divine regulations governing ourselves.

Some, the speaker continued, knowing that the majority of mankind have not heard of the only way of salvation—through Jesus, are in perplexity respecting Divine obligation toward humanity. When we get the Bible view we see that God really owes His creatures nothing; that He has already given them all that strictest justice can demand for them; and that whatever He gives them now is of mercy.

The Scriptures declare that the world knows not God, and that only the consecrated Church see the "lengths, breadths, heights and depths of the Love of God," which passeth understanding. This class alone is in any sense prepared to give thanks to God now for His unspeakable gift. Their thanks go up, not only in words, but also in actions, which "speak louder than words." These thanks ascend as sweet incense to God as His blessings and mercies abound in all spiritual things toward them.

HAS MONEY TO BURN

Canadian Government Destroying Millions of Dollars in Old Bills

The Canadian Government has money to burn. During the past few months the stokers of the furnaces in the Finance Department have burned four and a half million dollars' worth of one-dollar bills, and over three million dollars' worth of two-dollar bills. And in eighteen months some twenty-seven and a half millions in small bills went up in smoke.

It may be explained, however, that this has nothing to do with the Government's aptitude for "reckless expenditure." The money burned consisted of worn or dirty Dominion notes and they were replaced with crisp, new, clean sanitary bills. The Treasury really lost nothing except the small expense of printing the new bills. Ept in a figurative sense the Government may be truly said to have "spoken to Third."

Lay Laws and Crime

[illegible] authoritative figures, [illegible] many murders take place in the United States as in [illegible] other country in the civilized [illegible]. There has been an annual average of nearly nine thousand murders in the United States for the last ten years. And it has been estimated that the number of murders which take place in the United States in thirteen years constitute as big a total death roll as that of the soldiers of the Union army who died on the Southern battle-field during the Civil War.

Cleveland, with a population of only a third greater than that of Toronto, has an annual average of fourteen times as many murders. The murder rate in the United States is nearly twenty times as great as it is in Great Britain.

During the year 1909, in London, with its vast population of between seven and eight millions, there were but nineteen murders committed, while in the same year, in Chicago, the number of murders was nearly three hundred. The fact is that Great Britain hangs murderers—and (it may be set down as a fact) has but few to hang. For nine thousand murders in the United States in one year, only a hundred and four persons were put to death by law.

There are weighty criminologists who say that the main reason why murder is more prevalent in the States than in Canada and England is because criminality is regarded far too lightly by the Americans. The criminal, they say, is often to be found among the powerful and socially highly-placed, and this has a two-fold result. It engenders a carelessness on the part of the general public as to the heinousness of crime, and it also tends to hinder the crime being brought home to the criminal.

Ex-President Taft speaking in New York contrasted the inefficiency and looseness of American judges with the strict code of justice of the English bench, and (according to him) a percentage of American lawyers, and even judges, are themselves thoroughly criminal in character.

Stole Money to Wed

Charles H. Doss, aged 22, of Leamington, stole $80 from his former employer in order to marry Miss Grace Dodge, of Leamington. The wedding took place and the young couple went to Detroit to live. A week after the ceremony Doss was arrested for theft found guilty and sentenced to two years in Kingston. Doss' bride who is but 19 years old, was not in court, and her parents say she will have nothing more to do with him after his release.
