William Stevens of Southampton, an old County Constable, who in his younger days was a live sleuth, has lived to demonstrate that running down criminals doesn't make a man enviously rich, by coming down to the Refuge at Walkerton last week to eke out the remainder of his days at the free foodery.

Two Cargill farmers were charged in the police court at Walkerton by another farmer with cruelty to his collie dog, which, it was alleged, one of them went after with a pitchfork. They pleaded guilty and were fined $5 and costs each, amounting to $19.

READY TO EXPLOIT CANADA.

Kaiser Planned to Give British Dominions Away Even In 1912.

The following sensational extracts, are from a brochure, the author of which is said to be Herr August Thyssen, a relative of the well-known German millionaire coal and iron master:—

"When the Hohenzollerns wanted to get the support of the commercial class for their war plans, they put their ideas before us as a business proposition. Business and commercial men were asked to support the Hohenzollern war policy on the ground that it would pay them to do so. Let me frankly confess that I am one of those men who were led to agree. In 1912 the Hohenzollerns said that war had become a necessity for the preservation of the military system upon which their power depends.

"I was personally promised a free grant of 30,000 acres in Australia and a loan from the Deutsche Bank of 750,000 dollars at 3 per cent. to enable me to develop my business in Australia. Several other firms were promised special trading facilities in India, which was to be conquered by Germany—be it noted by the end of 1915.

"A syndicate was formed for the exploitation of Canada. The syndicate consisted of the heads of twelve great firms, and the working capital was fixed at $100,000,000, half of which was to be found by the German Government. These promises were not vaguely given. They were made definitely by Herr von Bethmann-Hollweg, on behalf of the Emperor, to gatherings of business men, and in many cases to manufacturers. But not only were these promises made by the Chancellor, they were confirmed by the Emperor, who, on three occasions addressed large private gatherings. The Emperor's speech was one of the most flowery orations I have heard."

Fishing Reciprocity.

An arrangement which settles long-standing fisheries questions between Canada and the United States has been reached. It will remain in force at least during the war. The new agreement, which is regarded as another evidence of how the two countries are striving to break down all barriers that stand in the way of greater production, provides for complete reciprocity of port privileges for the fishing craft of the two countries. This will not only enable an important increase in the amount of fish produced to be made by the two countries, but will do away with the irritating delays to vessels of either country in the ports of the other.

The new pact is the first fruits of the work of the International Joint Commission, consisting of Hon. Chief Justice J. D. Hazen, of New Brunswick; G. J. Desbarates, Deputy Minister of the Naval Service, and W. A. Found, Superintendent of Fisheries, as Canadian members, and Hon. W. O. Redfield, Secretary of Commerce; E. F. Sweet, Assistant Secretary of Commerce, and Dr. H. M. Smith, Commission of Fisheries, as the United States members. This commission was named to consider the settlement of all outstanding fisheries questions between the two countries.

Following the return of the United States section of the Commission from public sittings on the Atlantic coast, the Secretary of Commerce, with the authority of the President, under their war legislation, issued instructions to all their customs officers to allow Canadian fishing vessels to come directly from the fishing grounds to the United States ports, sell their catches there, procure all supplies and outfits and clear back to the fishing grounds, thus doing away entirely with the obstacles they previously experienced. Following this action, the Canadian Government authorized by order-in-Council, under the War Measures Act, that United States fishing vessels shall be permitted to come to our ports for similar privileges without the requirement of a license. As there is a duty in Canada, such duty will have to be paid on fish sold in Canadian ports.

Placed on Equal Basis.

Canadian headquarters in London has abandoned the idea of different colors to distinguish service chevrons gained in France and those gained in England. Canadians are now permitted to avail themselves of the privilege granted by the Imperial authorities, which permits overseas troops without service at the front to wear chevrons dating from the day they left their homes for England, though the British troops may not wear them unless they have been at the front. Canadians in France and England are now on an equal basis. Those who left Canada in 1914 are entitled to the coveted red chevron, and others who left subsequently are entitled to a blue chevron for every succeeding year or portion, whether at the front all the time or part, or not at all.

Becomes a Town.

The village of Merritton is to blossom out as a full-fledged town, though unseparated from the county of Lincoln, and will have full control over its streets. This was the decision of the Private Bills Committee of the Ontario Legislature after listening for nearly an hour to a warm argument between village and county representatives regarding the inclusion of Merritton's main street in the county roads system.

Real Fighters.

A father and two sons from St. John's, Nfld., have enlisted with the British-Canadian recruiting mission at Boston. They have been in the trans-Atlantic service since war broke out and twice torpedoed.

Manitoba's Loan to Veterans.

The Manitoba Government is loaning returned soldiers, who at present own land ready for cultivation and are anxious to swell the army of food producers, $2,500 to assist them in their efforts.
