ANNUAL CIRCULAR.

Office and Salesroom, Rideau Street, No. 1, East End, Sappers' Bridge.

OTTAWA, MARCH 1st, 1870.

The subscriber in issuing his eighth ANNUAL CIRCULAR, would remind his friends, to whom he returns thanks for past favours, that he continues to give his personal attendance to the sale of every description of goods and property confided to his management.

His lengthened experience in the management and proper system of selling Household furniture at private residences, together with all the details of arrangement, expeditious delivery &c, would lead him again to solicit further sales in this line from those contemplating the disposal of furniture, by auction, he would be glad to have an early intimation in order that satisfactory arrangements may be completed for the approaching Spring sale, it is desirable to select an early day.

Account sales have been promptly rendered and statements made out in a concise business-like manner, always accompanied with the proceeds in cash.

To executors and Administrators of Estate, Official and other Assignees, and public corporation, this mode of selling property forms a speedy, legitimate and efficient way of closing estates Legacies, &c, and removes a vast amount of responsibility.

Sales of groceries, hardware, crockery and general merchandise confided to his management will receive every attention. He need not remind his friends of his capability of conducting such sales satisfactorily.

The proper advertising and necessary precautions adopted by him in conducting underwriters' sales of damaged goods and produce sold for account of whom it may concern, or for "breach of contract" should be borne in mind by merchants, shippers and consigners, more especially as certain legal forms are necessary in such cases.

Appraisals and valuations made

Again soliciting your business favors, the undersigned ventures to hope that an active experience of years is some guarantee that he may be reasonably expected to carry out what he promises.

Dr. A. Trask's Magnetic Ointment Cures Croup or Hattles.—DR. BINGHAM, of Utica, New York, says: "I have used Dr. A. Trask's Magnetic Ointment in my practice a number of years, and can say with pleasure I deem it one of the greatest discoveries of the age; for the cure of Inflammation of the Lungs, Inflammation of the Bowels, Inflammatory Rheumatism, and in Childbed Fever, it operates with perfect success. In cases of Burns, Bruises, Frozen Limbs, it acts like a charm;

DR. J. P. KENNEDY, of Chittenango, New York, says: "It has stood the test trial, and has not been found wanting. Its astonishing cures of Inflammation of the Lungs and Croup and the wonderful success in subsiding the torturing pains of Rheumatism, and relieving Nervous Affections, entitle it to a high rank the list of remedies for these complaints."

DR. A. W. BELDING, of Knowlesville, New York, says: "I have used it in several cases of Special Irritation and for the worst cases of Piles, and sundry other complaints, and find it a superiore article, and well worthy the notice of all."

Purchasers should be sure and ask for Dr. R. Trask's Magnetic Ointment, and see that the words "A. TRASK'S MAGNETIC OINTMENT" are on the wrapper.

Shoes for Theatrical Characters.

From the Shoe and Leather Reporter.

Within the past ten years theatrical shoe-making has been domesticated among us. Once the customer of a theatre could be relied on to furnish the "make up" of a character in its details. The "stars" usually providing their own wardrobe complete from Paris or London, no great demand was made upon native resources. But with the advent of new and magnificent theatres, supporting first-class stock companies, running a play often for an entire season, the costumer's art became a most important auxiliary, and theatrical shoemaking a business itself.

Thus we find that at the opening of Booth's Theatre, a little over a year ago, Mr. Somers, a theatrical shoemaker, furnished sixty-five pairs of shoes, of five different styles, for 'Romeo and Juliet.' The material for these shoes, a prain white kild, was imported, and, with the design, furnished to the shoemaker, who returned them to the customer to be stained, to represent different materials.

Since the introduction of the "Black Crook" era in dramatic history, a regular and most profitable business has been conducted in the making of satin slippers for the ballet. These are worth from $2.50 to $3.50 per pair, according to the quality of the satin, which costs from $3 to $4 a yard; with heels the price is from $4.50 to $5.50 for ladies, and about twenty per cent higher for gentlemen.

The ballet dancers always use the best satin, flesh-coloured, and seldom use a pair of slippers the third time. These dancing slippers never vary in fashion, always being made to fit the foot closely, yet permitting perfect flexibility; they are of fine black kid, and very popular among the ladies of Europe for house wear, a fashion that has not obtained as yet, outside the profession, to any extent in this country.

Circus people and gymnasts are also regular customers of theatrical shoemakers but the most expensive and artistic workmanship is called into requisition for such actors as Edwin Booth, Edwin Forrest, J. W. Wallack, E. L. Davanport, G. H. Clark.

The following items from the account of the above named theatrical shoemaker with Edwin Booth will give some idea of the styles and prices in this branch of business:

One pair turret-topped, plum coloured morocco boots, for Sir Giles Overreach	$28 00
One pair scarlet silk high-tongued shoes, for Cardinal Richelieu	12 00
One pair silk velvet Venetian shoes, with cut point front and back toe and instep	12 00
One pair red morocco Roman sandals for Brutus	10 00
One pair King Richard strapped shoes long pointed toe, of plum-coloured velvet, (very elegant)	16 00
One pair buckled-top boots, King Charles I. style, plum-coloured morocco, made very high and to fold over, lined with the same material, using three skins	25 00
One pair black silk velvet shoes with three straps for Hamlet	12 00

At a meeting of the British and Colonial Emigration Society held in London on the second inst., Sir James C. Lawrence said the First Lord of the Admiralty had publicly intimated his intention to apply three troopships for the emigration of discharged labourers at Woolwich, Deptford, Chatham, and other Government towns, on condition that the victualling expenses—12 5s per head—were paid, and, continued Sir J. Lawrence, if there was any room in the vessels, after preference had been given to the Government employes, then it might be placed at the disposal of the society on the same terms. Another gentleman said that five hundred families were ready to emigrate from Deptford alone. It further appeared that each of the troopships could carry a thousand souls and that the committee had chartered three steamships from Temperleys, Carter and Darke, owners of the Avon and other vessels, one of which would sail on the fourteenth, another on the 28th of April and the third on the 12th May, for the conveyance of emigants to be sent out under the Society's direction. They would contain at least eight hundred statute adults. Before adjourning the Committee directed the Secretary to chorter still another vessel so as afford increased accommodation to the thousands who have signified their intention of flocking to Canada. The Times of the 3rd inst., says:—

The intelligence of the proposal of the Admiralty to send out discharged artisans from the Government establishments to Canada in Her Majesty's troopships has, been received with great satisfaction and a large number of candidates have already applied to have their names entered as intended emigrants. Two evenings in the week have been set apart at Deptford dockyard for receiving names.

ONLY A COLD LET IT GO AS IT CAME.—Deceive not yourself with such words. In this changeable climate of ours, a cold once contracted must be expelled instantly, loose no time, or health and even life itself may be sacrificed to "only a cold." Get Dr. J. Briggs' Renovator, the great Throat and Lung Healer. Sold by Druggists and Country Merchants. 1244 a

CHIROPODY.—If there is one misery more to be dreaded, or one pain more excruciating than the toothache, it is the pain and misery arising from corns upon the feet. Dr. Briggs the celebrated Surgeon Chiropodist, has invented a "Corn and Bunion Curative, and which since its introduction to the people, has become one of the most popular remedies of the age. We cheerfully recommend those who are in any degree afflicted with corns or bunions or frosted feet to give Dr Briggs' remedy a trial. There can be no mistake about it. Sold by druggists' 1244 a

BREAKFAST.—EPPS'S COCOA.—GRATEFUL AND COMFORTING.—The very agreeable character of this preparation has rendered it a general favourite. The CIVIL SERVICE GAZETTE remarks:—"The singular success which Mr. Epps attained by his homœopathic preparation of cocoa has never been surpassed by any experimentalist. By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of digestion and nutrition, and by a careful application of the fine properties of well-selected cocoa, Mr. Epps has provided our breakfast tables with a delicately flavoured beverage which may save us many heavy doctors' bills." Made simply with boiling water or milk. Sold by the trade only in ½lb ¼lb and 1lb tin-lined packets, labelled—JAMES EPPS & Co., Homœopathic Chemist London, England. 1138SW6m
