From our own Correspondent

Mr. Bannerman of Orillia is talking of putting in a good supply of logs and running the veneer factory this winter.

Mrs. Rowland Hill of Manitoulin Island, who was visiting her sister, Mrs. Johnston, has returned to her home.

Mr. and Mrs. Ruthven of Alliston have been the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Hogg for the past two weeks.

Mr. Herb Johnston has gone to the Sault to work.

Miss Rowntree of Collingwood is visiting her cousins, the Misses Gordon.

Mrs. Fenwick has gone to Victor, N.Y., on an extended visit.

Miss Lizzie Cameron has gone to Mont Clair, N. J., for the winter.

We are sorry to hear that Mr. John Armstrong is very low.

Rev. Mr. Neilly of Hornings Mills preached in the Hall Sunday afternoon, Mr. Thom being absent.

Miss Artina Carr has returned from Emerson, Man., where she has been visiting with her aunt, Mrs. Wright, of that place, for some time past.

Kimberley

From our own correspondent

[Held over from last week.]

The harvest is past, the summer is ended and the chirp of the grasshopper is succeeded by the combined hum of threshing machine and the fall instalment of mosquitos.

On Tuesday the members of the Epworth League had an evening with "The Wesleys" Several essays were read on the lives of these authors, and these intermitted with hymns and quotations from their writings formed the program. A very profitable evening was spent.

Mr. Robt. Stewart is on a business trip to Powassen for a couple of weeks.

Mrs. Armstrong and Miss Burritt, who have been visiting in Kimberley and vicinity, returned to their home in Goderich on Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Rorke of Heathcote spent Sunday with Mrs. S. Stafford.

Miss P Kernan of Angus is the guest of Miss Jennie Graham.

Mrs. Jas. Thurston is spending the week with friends in Flesherton.

Miss Ada Burritt, who has been home for a few weeks, has returned to Toronto.

We understand that Miss Wright, teacher in U. S. S. No. 1, east, has resigned her position.

Mr. and Mrs. Alex. Fawcett visited Acton and Trafalgar friends recently.

Mr. Coulter of Eugenia occupied the pulpit of the Methodist church here on Sunday. We are always pleased to hear Mr. Coulter.

From Our Own Correspondent.

The world's fair at Feversham is now a thing of the past. Considering the poor quality of most of the fairs this year, the promoters of this one are to be congratulated on the very creditable measure of success attained by it. Too often such institutions are made the tool of sporting men instead of a meens of encouraging honest competition in agricultural products.

Mr. Robert Wellar has secured possession of the empty dwelling standing on the old Saijohn farm, now owned by Mr. Henry Guy, and moved it down to form an addition to his house. As the situation is excellent, when all is completed Mr. Wellar will have one of the most commodious farm residences around the village.

There was no service in the Church of England here last Sunday on account of there being harvest home services in Dundalk. Next Sunday similar services will be held here, both morning and evening.

Quite a number from here attended the corn social at Mr. Wm. McKee's on the 4th line last Thursday night, and report having had a good time.

Rev. T. Legate attended the district Epworth League convention at Creemore last Tuesday.

Miss field of Ravenna is visiting with her aunt, Mrs. Field.

Our fine weather seems near an end and the long delayed fall rains are to all appearance near at hand.

Mr. Hector Hay, merchant of Badjeros, and Messrs. John and Ed. Taylor of Maple Valley, visited friends in the village on Sunday.

Mr. Scott, sr., of McIntyre, is the guest of his son, the Dr., for a few days.

Miss Kelly of Maple Valley visited friends in the village on Sunday.

A certain young man from near Markdale seems to have been seriously affected by taking in the Osprey fair, by his appearance in town Sunday.

Miss Mabel Strachan has returned home after visiting friends in Alliston and Dunedin.

Priceville

From our own Correspondent

Tuesday and Wednesday of last week were the days chosen by the directors of the Artemesia Agricultural Society for their fall show. The first day was all that could be desired, but Wednesday was the very opposite of an ideal fair day. However, notwithstanding the drizzling rain and cool atmosphere, our little burg was the objective point of a number of residents of the locality and of surrounding villages and towns. The exhibits, with few exceptions, were up to the usual standard. The entries in dairy products ahd fruits were not so numerous as on former occasions, but the quality of the articles was good in nearly every case. in fancy work there was keen competition and the judges no doubt had no small difficulty in awarding the prizes. In live stock, draught horses and thoroughbred horses were at a discount, while grade cattle were there in abundance. There were about 60 head of cattle on the grounds altogether. In single drivers there were nine entries, and Messrs. Cairns and Burnett, the judges, took considerable time in selecting the lucky animals. Sheep and pigs were scarce. In poultry the entries also were few in each class. The concert at night in Watson's hall, under the auspices of the society, was a decided success, financially and otherwise. Messrs. Benson and Dundas of Markdale entertained the audience in a very creditable manner. T. B. will be henceforth a welcome visitor in our burg.

The Rev. J. S. Humphreys met with a painful accident lately. In jumping from a tree he stepped on a round stick which suddenly rolled, resulting in his ankle being very badly strained. It will be some time before Mr. H. can walk with his usual sprightly gait.

Mrs. Wm. Henderson of N. Y. State and Mrs. McInnes of Cheboygan, Mich., are visiting friends in this vicinity.

Mr. Bert Armstrong, principal of Kimberley P. S., supplied very acceptably for the Rev. J. S. Humphreys last Sundays. Mr. Armstrong also occupied the pulpit of the Proton and Greenside appointments on the same day.

The Methodist church is undergoing repairs in the shape of a new roof. Mr. R. Reily has the contract.

W. J. Blakeston and Miss M. Derby, the present teachers of the P. S., have been engaged for 1897.

Messrs. P. Watson and Bros. of Farewell Corners are putting a new roof on the Commercial hotel.

Mr. Robert McGowan is making extensive repairs on his mill property.

Mr. William Reid of the O. D. R. inflicted an ugly gash in his foot last week. The cut extends from the lower part of instep to the sole of his foot. Mr. R. will have to take a few days enforced holidays
