ANNUAL CIRCULAR.

Office and Salesroom, Rideau Street, No. 1, East End, Sappers' Bridge.

OTTAWA, MARCH 1st, 1870.

The subscriber in issuing his eighth ANNUAL CIRCULAR, would remind his friends, to whom he returns thanks for past favours, that he continues to give his personal attendance to the sale of every description of goods and property confided to his management.

His long-tested experience in the management and proper system of selling Household furniture at private residences, together with all the details of arrangement, expeditious delivery &c., would lead him again to solicit further sales in this line from those contemplating the disposal of furniture, by auction, he would be glad to have an early intimation in order that satisfactory arrangements may be completed for the approaching Spring sale, it is desirable to select an early day.

Account sales have been promptly rendered and statements made out in a concise business-like manner, always accompanied with the proceeds in cash.

To Executors and Administrators of Estate, Official and other Assignees, and public corporation, this mode of selling property forms a speedy, legitimate and efficient way of closing Estates Legacies, &c., and removes a vast amount of responsibility.

Sales of groceries, hardware, crockery and general merchandise confided to his management will receive every attention. He need not remind his friends of his capability of conducting such sales satisfactorily.

The proper advertising and necessary precautions adopted by him in conducting auctions, sales of damaged goods and produce sold for account of whom it may concern, or for breach of contract" should be borne in mind by merchants shippers and consignors, more especially as certain legal forms are necessary in such cases.

Appraisals and valuations made.

Again soliciting your business favors, the undersigned ventures to hope that an entire experience of years is some guarantee that he may be reasonably expected to carry out what he promises.

A ROWE.

OFFICE AND SALE ROOMS—City Auction Mart, York street, near the Market.

The subscriber in issuing this his spring Circular, begs to return his best thanks to his friends and the general public of Ottawa and Country, as well as his many consignors at a distance, for the very liberal patronage bestowed on, and confidence placed in him, since his advent as Auctioneer of this city, and to assure them that constant desire and endeavour will be, to merit continuance of the support and patronage liberally extended to him.

He can refer with pleasure to the many testimonials he has received from those who placed property in his hands for disposal, that quick sale, excellent prices, and immediate returns are his credentials.

SALES AT PRIVATE RESIDENCES.

In soliciting public patronage in this branch business he would respectfully intimate, that in the future as in the past, it will be his unceasing care to study the interest of his patrons; and that by careful attention, promt cash returns, and moderate charges, to merit a continuance of that patronage heretofore so liberally bestowed upon him.

Spring Furniture Sales at the Mart will commence immediately, and from time to time will be duly announced. He will hold weekly sales of Horses, Cattle, &c, &c. on the Market, the notice of which will be given. Trade Sales of Merchandise, Farm Stock, Real Estate, Libraries, Works of Art, &c., &c., as well as consignments, from a distance, will meet with best attention, and be conducted on very moderate terms.

ANOTHER INDIAN WAR.

Twenty thousand Sioux to be on the War-path within a Month—Sheridan's Headquarters at Pembina—Troops Hurrying to the Indian Country—Piegans praying for Peace.

Special despatch to the World.

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 25.—There is now an imminent, almost certain, prospect of an Indian war. The advices received yesterday and telegraphed you last night are supplemented by still more startling news, official and unofficial, received to-day at the headquarters of the army.

TWENTY THOUSAND SIOUX ON THE WAR PATH.

Within a month at least 20,000 Sioux are expected to be on the war-path. These, with their allies of the Cheyenne and other northern tribes, will make a formidable force.

THE CAUSE

is, as usual, the failure of the Government to live up to its treaty stipulations. The Indians say that, having been neglected the past winter, they intend to avenge themselves this summer.

SHERIDAN'S HEADQUARTERS AT PEMBINA.

In view of the threatened conflict, and also in order to keep a sharp watch on the Red River difficulties of our neighbours across the border, General Sheridan had decided, several days ago, to establish his headquarters on the 1st of May at Pembina, in the northern part of Minnesota.

HURRYING TROOPS TO THE PLAINS.

The Seventeenth and Fourteenth Regiments of Infantry have been ordered to Sioux City, Iowa, to go with all dispatch. The former regiment has been stationed in Virginia, and the latter in Kentucky and Tennessee. The shifting of these regiments from points so remote to the very heart of the Indian country is sufficiently ominous, together with the movement, already chronicled, of five companies of the Seventh Cavalry to Fort Hayes, for active service under General Custer.

A SERIOUS CONFLICT.

It seems not at all unlikely, judging from the tenor of current despatches from the Far West, that the administration will soon have forced upon it, in advance of further special legislation by Congress, the responsibility and expense of one of the most serious conflicts yet initiated, with the savages of the plains.

The Piegans Anxious for Peace.

General A. Sully, Superintendent of Indian Affairs for Montana, has forwarded to Hon. E. S. Parker, Commissioner of Indian Affairs, the following copy of a letter from Rev. Father C. Imoda, Catholic missionary in Montana Territory:

DEAR SIR,—I have the pleasure to inform you that having been on a visit to the Indian camps on Belly River in the British possessions, there I met a large camp of Piegans, most of whom were those that fled from the Marias after their misfortune of January last. Being called by the Mountain Chief into his lodge, he spoke at length of their late misfortune and of the desire he and his people have of making a lasting peace with the whites. Having told him that I was glad to hear what he said, but desired to know if the other chiefs were of the same mind, we arranged to have a meeting of them, which was held on the 17th of March, and it is from notes taken on the spot that I have the honor to report the following as the expression of their wills:

The Mountain Chief complained of the false report of his having declared war against the whites. He strongly denied having said anything that could be so understood. He said he had been stripped of his lodge and made poor, but he is satisfied that his young men have been beaten, and thinks that now they will mind their chiefs and not go any more to trouble the whites. He desires now to make with them a good and lasting peace.

Asa-a, chief of the band of Fried Grease Indians, complained that, while he has been friendly with the whites, his band suffered more than the others. He was not ill disposed toward them, and desired that a lasting friendship should be established again.

The Boy Chief said that it was his desire that the past be forgotten, and a good peace be made with the whites. He complained of the Pen d'Oreilles, and desires that the whites will exercise their influence to bring them to a lasting peace with the Piegans.

Stojes, of Lame Bull's band, says that his family has
