Give Your Country A Leg Up--- Save !

Canadian patriotism demands the practice of thrift by all her sons. The men who are holding the lines at home are they who are making it easy for the business of the country to go on with little jar to its mechanism. The steady pulling together of all citizens in the production of goods and in conservation of all field crops marks the thrifty nation. Saving on the part of our citizens is going to be the greatest insurance we will have in Canada against a period of depression after the war. The combined capital of the individuals who make the country will form a fund of sufficient power to drive business along in a most satisfying way in spite of the prevailing hard times of such a period.

The saving man is therefore a real patriot. He has Canada's interests fundamentally at heart. May his tribe increase in these days when wealth is piling up under the spur of war time efforts. Save because it hits both ways. It is a high form of patriotism. And it gives one's country a leg up in a critical time. Put by that extra dollar now. The long procession of thrifty dollars will make a line that will not waver—Hindenburg or no Hindenburg.

Planely Accidental

Shelburne Economist

An aviator on his way from Beamsville to Borden, Monday morning, lost his way and came down in the field on the Creary farm, just west of the railway track, on the south side of Main street, to get his bearings. When he got the propeller whirring preparatory to leaving by some means or another the machine started to move before he got into the driver's seat. It went around and around in a circle and the onlookers had to make a wild rush for safety, one or two of them having narrow escapes. On the third turn the machine stuck its nose in the earth, breaking the propeller and bringing the plane to a sudden stop. The aviator (said to be a captain returned from service at the front) phoned Camp Borden, and later in the forenoon a non com. came over from Borden in another machine in which Aviator No,1 completed his journey to Bordeu, the non com. remaining in charge of the wrecked machine. About two o'clock an officer and mechanic came over from Borden in a third machine, with tools and an extra propeller. They went about a mile west in order to get a better landing place. The new propeller was soon in place on the damaged plane (C276). Then the non com. undertook to take it to Camp Borden. But the fates and the decided unsuitability of the ground decided otherwise. The machine did not rise quite high enough to clear the rail fence on the south side of the field. It struck the top rail of the fence, sending rails flying. The plane reeled drunkenly into the turnip field and brought up in an almost perpendicular position with its nose deep in the earth. The plane had a broken propeller and damaged wing and tail, but the aviator luckily was uninjured. A truck and mechanics came over from Borden Monday night and on Tuesday C276 was loaded up and taken to camp.

Willie Herd, aged 13, son of Robert Herd of Allen Park, met with a serious accident as a result of which his left hand is badly injured. He picked up a box of blasting cartridges on the road and proceeded to examine the same. On opening one of the six cartridges in the the box one suddenly exploded and literally blew off the first two fingers and thumb of his left hand and injured the third finger and palm as well.

Herman Messerschmidt of Hanover while learning to drive an auto lost his nerve and ran the car over an embankment. The car turned over two or three times, but those in the car were not badly injured. The damage consisted of smashed radiator, fenders, windshield and two hind wheels.

A driver of one of the McLauchlan and Sons' motor trucks, Owen Sound, had a narrow escape with his life when the drive shaft of the truck broke while on a steep hill letting the car go backwards going into the ditch and turning completely over. The driver escaped with only a few painful bruises.

THOUSANDS ON FARMS

Over 7,500 Persons Were Placed on Farms This Year.

Experience Shows Cold Nights Lowers Milk Flow When Cows Are Left In Fields.

(Contributed by Ontario Department of Agriculture, Toronto.)

SINCE Oct. 31st, 1917, the Ontario Government Public Employment Bureau have secured employment for 19,000 persons, of which 7,016 were men and 11,984 women. This work has been accomplished for the most part through the efforts of the offices at Toronto, Ottawa, Hamilton and London. Since April, however, new bureaus have been opened at Kingston, Port Arthur and Fort William.

In order that the best results might be gained through the campaigns for farm laborers the efforts of the Trades and Labor Branch, the Organization of Resources Committee and the Agricultural Representatives were co-ordinated. The province was divided into six districts, each centering around one of the bureaus. The organization is now such that each county, through the Agricultural Representative, is kept in touch with one of the Employment Bureaus. Thus the surplus labor in one part of the province may be shifted to a part where a scarcity is felt. Any farmer in Ontario, by communicating with the Agricultural Representative for his county, may learn how farm help can be obtained.

To date 7,800 persons have been placed on Ontario farms. Of these some 3,300 were men, 2,140 boys and 1,260 women. Several campaigns have been launched including, "Soldiers of the Soil" (boys between 14 and 19 years), "Haying and Harvest," "Sugar Beet Hoeing," "Threshing and Fall Ploughing," and "Flax Pulling." Over 250 boys were sent to the sugar beet fields of the Chatham district, and 125 are now pulling flax.

Of the 1,260 women sent the majority are on fruit farms. An effort was made at the Toronto office to send women to assist in the farm kitchens with the result that 70 women have gone to this work. During the winter a class was organized for the purpose of giving girls a training in chore work on the farm. In April a course was opened, at the Ontario Agricultural College, where about 150 women and girls have gone out to assist on mixed farms throughout the province. The results achieved by these women have been satisfactory from the standpoint of the farmer.

It is the desire of the Department that every farmer in need of help is supplied with suitable and satisfactory assistance, and it is toward this end that our offices are organized and into the fulfilling of which practically all the energy of our staff is put.

On account of the supreme importance of food production the greatest amount of effort, in all offices, has been put forth toward recruiting and placing men on farms, yet a large number of people have secured positions in other lines of work. Eight hundred and seventy-one men have been placed at factory and munition work, 3,200 general laborers, 3,000 builders and 1,624 at miscellaneous occupations. Women have been placed as follows: 1,690 domestics; 1,273 munition and factory workers, and 1,700 at clerical and miscellaneous occupations.—Dr. W. A. Riddell, Superintendent, Ontario Trades and Labor Branch.

Keep Cows Inside During Cold Nights.

The season for cold nights will be here all too soon, in this northern climate. While it is true that keeping the cows inside means more labor in cleaning the stable and more difficulty in keeping the cows clean, the extra fertilizing material collected in this way will probably pay for the extra labor. If this does not, the extra supply of milk received by keeping the cows in a comfortable stable at times when the temperature drops below freezing-point, will do so. Experience shows that cold has a very marked effect in lessening the milk flow, particularly for cows that have been milking for some time, when the natural tendency is for the cow to dry up and during which time every means should be adopted to keep the cow milking. Cows should milk at least ten months of the year. Leaving cows out of doors on cold nights, after they have been milking for six or eight months, makes a greater tendency for these cows to go dry.

Where cows are kept inside, the stuble should be cleaned regularly and some absorbent material like sawdust, shavings, chaff, or cut-straw, should be scattered along the passages, on the platform, and in the gutter. This helps very much in cleaning the stable and in keeping the cows clean.

Another advantage of stabling on frosty nights, is that it prevents the cows eating frozen feed, which is generally considered to be injurious to milk cows. They may be kept in the stable or yard until after the pasture thaws, and in this way the animals are protected against digestive troubles, and conditions are more favorable for maintaining the health and milk-flow of the animals. — Prof. H. H. Dean, O. A. College, Guelph.

Prevent Great Farm Loss.

If, through better care and management, the average life of farm machines could be increased by a single year what a tremendous saving would be effected. The amount a farmer loses each year through neglect of his machinery would pay for the erection of a plain weather-proof shed that would keep them in good condition.—Prof. John Evans, O. A. College, Guelph.
