A NEW DEPARTURE.

Said a most estimable lady to us a few weeks ago, "I can never forgive my parents for one sad neglect in my earlier education. They gave me everything else but that which I now feel the greatest need of, "a musical education." "I can never go out any where but I feel my ignorance and am ashamed." "I can never forgive them." This is strong language but we felt it was justifiable. It is not the present but the future of their children parents should regard. The general and wide-spread knowledge of music, the absolute necessity of making it a branch of education—its tremendous influence for good, morally and intellectually, over our growing youth—that family being justly regarded as lacking in refinement, in moral and social status, as behind the times whose children have no knowledge of music—no musical training. The impossibility of many families purchasing an instrument has induced us to make a NEW DEPARTURE so as to place a first class instrument in tone, music, and durability within the reach of all. Hereafter there can be no excuse for neglecting the musical training of the family. We will, for a reasonable rent per month, place a First Class, Bran New Instrument in any family circle. The monthly rent will be so low as to be within the reach of all. For further particulars address,

W. RUSE, Big 20, Bowmanville.

On Friday in the Soudan the British forces attacked Osman Dinma at Trinkitat and gained a splendid victory. 1000 rebels killed and Baker Pasha's guns and amunition recaptured. Tokar was also retaken. On the news of the victory reaching her Majesty she telegraphed her thanks to General Graham and the brave troops under his command.

No citizen of the United States can import a foreign-built ship. In this direction the principle of protection has been carried to the limit of prohibition. As a result their foreign shipping trade has been protected out of existence. A business that in its general ramifications gave profitable employment to thousands of the people and furnished one of the strongest defenses against foreign aggression has been utterly thrown away. If the people of that country had a chance they would be preeminently a seafaring people and reap a share of the profits of commerce: but they have been "protected" off of the high seas.
