Thanksgiving Day, 1897

Genesis 8: 22.

Most Gracious Lord, the wondrous ways
In which Thou dost Thy people lead
Again inspire the songs of praise
Which from our grateful hearts proceed.

All nature moves at Thy command:
All creatures in Thy bounties share.
For all that live in sea or land
Are kept by Thy protecting care.

Thou leadest us in paths of peace
Where constant streams of blessing flow.
And as our days on earth increase
All that we need Thou dost bestow.

Seed time and Harvest come from thee:
Summer and Winter Thou dost send
In cold and heat that love we see
On which our brightest hopes depend.

In all the produce of the fields
Fresh tokens of Thy love we find;
And all that each fair season yields
Declares Thy care for all mankind.

For earth's rich harvests gathered in
This day our fervent thanks we give.
Grant us Thy grace that saved from sin
We each may for Thy glory live.

Colborne, Nov. 1897. T. WATSON.

Lady Bank

From Onr Own Corresp ndent

We have been having a little foretaste of the coming winter. It tasted good but it did not stay with us long enough.

A missionary sermon was preached here on a recent Sunday by Rev. Mr. Barclay of Collingwood, chairman of the district, which was higly appreciated.

The aunual teameating of the Methodist church will be held on New Years Day for which preparations are now being made.

Six Dundalk young men spent the whole deer season in this visinity and went home with only one deer, which a young man of Euphrasia shot for them in compassion. Come again boys. Bring 36 hounds instead of 18 and you may have some success.

Mr. W. Whewell of Dakota is visiting the parental home.

Mrs. Findlay has returned from a visit to friends at McIntyre.

Swinton Park

From Our Own Correspondent.

A number the farmers are busy taking up turnips and we believe a few have not got up their potatoes yet.

A happy party was given at Mr. D. McMillan's last week. A very pleasant time was enjoyed.

Mr. J. Hardy had three days threshwith the steamer this season. How is that for big farming.

An exciting event took place at Mrs. Heard's threshing last week. The event was a fight by two neighbors. We believ no heavy blows were struck, but as it was just about time for dinner, considerable chewing was done which resulted in the loss of a lip and a few other marks. We wonder if the concerned parties ever stop to think that such work belongs to the brute race and not to humanity.

Miss M. C. Hardy is visiting in Owen Sound at present.

Mr. A. Matthewson spent a week in the Queen city lately, seeking employment, but returned home without securing any.

Kimberley

From Our Own Correspondent.

Business in our village is rather quiet this week, owing to two of the mills being shut down for a short time.

We are glad to welcome Mr. Robert Stewart home from Muskoka.

Last week Mr. John Stewart met with what might have been a very serious accident. While working with a gun it went off, and the charge striking a small bottle lying near, sent the pieces of glass flying in all directions, one striking him near the eye and making a severe wound, which, we are glad to say, is healing nicely.

We are pleased to have Mrs. Baker of Bay View with us again for a couple of months.

Mrs. Walter is visiting friends in Flesherton this week.

Miss Ethel Hurdis home from Eugenia, where she has been staying with her aunt, Mrs. Smalley.

Rev. Mr. Plunkett is now a resident of our village, having rented the house recently occupied by Mr. Bell.

Miss Stafford entertained a few friends on Saturday evening last.

We suppose our young men will not be hanging around any longer waiting, Micawber-like, for something to turn up, since having had such an opportunity of finding out what the future has in store for them, but will go to work at once to make everything come true which the fortune teller has told them.

We understand that the trustees of the East Mountain school have hired Miss Hattie Shore for next year at a salary of $115.

Miss L. Soul of Duncan has been engaged here as junior teacher for the next year. The salary attached is $110. We are pleased to have Miss Soul with us.

Notes from Farming

The relatively high prices which calves bring this fall is another evidence of the scarcity of good stockers in the west. It is the first time in 15 years that anything like a regular business has been done in this line in the Western States. In the early eighties many New York State calves were sent west to meet the demand for stockers.

Latest reports from Winnipeg indicate that the oat crop in Manitoba this year is considerably below the average. At many country points the quantity in sight is reported not to be sufficient to supply the local demand. Dealers have already secured quantities of oats for shipment to provincial points, which feature has advanced the price. The quotations for oats at Winnipeg at present are the highest known for several years

That Manitoba is able to produce wheat of the very best quality is admitted by wheat dealers everywhere. Another evidence of the fact is shown by the report of the Dominion Government inspector at Fort William. Up to Oct. 19th, 5,595 cars of this season's crop had been delivered there, representing approximately 4,250,000 bushels. Of this amount 75 per cent graded No 1 hard; 22 per cent No 2 hard; and of the lower grades there was only two per cent. These figures indicate that the entire crop is practically of the finest milling qualities. The early movement of the crop and the rapidity with which it has been carried to the lake front, is shown by these figures. Up to the same date last year only 2,407,000 bushels had gone into Fort William elevators.

Cash collections of $2303 was taken up in the Grand Valley Methodist church on a recent Sunday.

Acting through her soletior, Mr. W. L. Walsh, Orangeville, Sarah McFee, of Hillsburg, has issued a writ against the C. P. R. company asking damages. Miss McFee was boarding a train at Inglewood one day last July when for some reason or other, the train started just as she was stepping to the platform. She was thrown to the ground and had one of her legs broken besides sustaining other injuries.

The Township of Melancthon will vote on local option at the coming municipal elections. The petitioners become responsible for the costs in case there is no municipal election and the by-law fails to carry. If there is a municipal election, or if the by-law carries (whether there is an election or not) the township assumes the cost.

Some time ago John Warnica, pathmaster near Painswick, cut down some trees edjacent to Ashford Warnica's property for the purpose of widening the road. The latter laid an informanin against the pathmaster for willfully destroying ornamental and shade trees without the authority of the council, and in the police court before Magistrate Ross secured a conviction with fine and costs. The case was appealed and argued beforre the Divisional Court in Toronto on Monday and Tuesday, with the result that the conviction was quashed, and the fine and costs ordered to be paid baid back to the pathmaster. The Judges held that as the Ontario Tree planting Act contained the phrase "planted and growing", and the trees referred to were merely "growing," the conviction was bad, and also that under the Criminal Code there was no offence as the pathmaster had done no "wilful" act.—Barrie Advance.
