Mr. J. B. Sloan of Eugenia met with a very serious accident on Thursday of last week. While attempting to change a belt in the mill his arm was caught and drawn around a large pully. Mr. Sloan was thrown violently upon his back, and when found by his son a minute afterwards was quite unconscious He was removed to his residence and Dr. Carter called. We understand that the victim is recovering, but being an elderly man 73 years of age, the shock to his system will no doubt prove a serious matter.

The Thornbury Standard says: "No matter how TheAdvance wiggles or takes advantge of a compositors error, the bald fact remains that at no time during the past season did the price of oats at Flesherton reach within from 2 to 4 cents of that paid in Thornbury market." The above statement is emphatically untrue. There has not been a better market in this county than we have had right here during the past winter and we defy the Standard to prove otherwise We have proved from it's own columns and that of another Thornbury paper the untruthfulness of its contention and yet this blessed prevaricator attempts to "wiggle" out of it by intimating a "compositor's error!", It is a little late in the season to get heated over the matter, but it is quite plain that the Thornbury market is away behind ours or their papers are totally unreliable in publishing their market reports. Which horn of the dilemma will you perch upon, dear boy?

PERSONALS

Ex-Principal Tomlinson and family left town on Friday for Weston.

Master Merv. Vanzant, who has been attending Parkdale high school, returned home last week.

Mrs. W. J. Blakeston of Priceville spent Sunday with her sister, Mrs Percy Lawrence.

Mr. W. Bunt, of Woodbridge, who has purchased Mr. J. E. Moore's stock, arrived in town and took over the business on Friday.

Mr. J. E. Moore, Miss Flora Moore and Mrs. J. Gadd left on Saturday for San Jose Cal., going by way of the Canada Pacific to Vancouver, from which point they will take steamer for San Francisco. It is rumored that Mrs. G. is going to the Golden State under contract and hopes to get through without being De Barried. Her success will be chronicled in the near future. These were all good citizens and we are sorry to lose them, but wish them all manner of success in the land to which they have gone.

Mrs. Chas. Symons and daughter, Miss Ada, of Vancouver, B C., are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. Barnhouse. Mrs Symons is the latters sister, and it is eleven years since they met. The two ladies are on their way to England for an extended visit, and will sail from New York next week. Mrs. Symons was a pioneer citizen of the "City by the sunset sea."

Address and Presentation

A number of pupils and officials of the Flesherton Station Sabbath School waited on Mr. J. E. Moore at his residence here on the evening previous to his departure for California and presented him with a purse containing some gold accompanied by the following address:

To J. E. Moore Esq.

DEAR SIR.—It is with feelings of regret we have learned of your purpose to remove from among us and we feel that we cannot allow you to go without giving some expression to our appreciation of you as a man and laborer in the vineyard of our Master, to the value we attach to your untiring and faithful labors in the church and Sabbath School, to our esteem for you as a citizen, and our attachment to you as a friend. In the capacity of Sabbath school superintendent, your quiet and unobtrusive work, your genial friendship, cheering counsel, and kindly Christian deportment have given help and comfort that you little suspect, and have ever tended to strengthen your associates, both young and old, in the pursuit of virtue, and quicken them in the ways of piety and religion. To you the Flesherton Station Sabbath School owes more than we can express. Always willing, and always in your place, the school has been constantly benefitted by your prudent advice and earnest teaching. We cannot adequately express the high respect and esteem in which you are held. Still we wish to bid you an affectionate farewell and tender you our most ardent wishes for your future prosperity, usefulness and happiness in your new home. As a slight memento of our esteem and affection we present you with this pocket book. Though of little value, you will, we feel assured, regard it as a token of our sincere respect and brotherly love.

Signed on behalf of the school. This 1st day of April 1898.

PARSLOW—WILCOCK—At the residence of the bride's parents, by Rev. J. Mahan, on Wednesday, March 31, John Parsow to Miss Maggie, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wm Wilcock.

In the mountain village of Feversham there lives a farmer and a blacksmith who, until a few weeks ago were the best of friends, but a dead collie dog came between them. They are now standing with daggers drawn. The facts as related as follows: The farmer owned a dog which contracted the bad habit of biting, its master's friends not being excepted. The blacksmith—a victim— not thinking he was intended for dog's meat, protested and called a Winchester into action, and in the encounter which followed the Winchester got the best of it and collie is now no more. The farmer invoked the strong arm of the law and dragged the blacksmith before a local majistrate. The blacksmith sought the services of Lawyer Bruce of Collingwood, who succeeded in securing a dismissal of the case.—Bulletin

The Thornbury bicycle-rim factory was totally destroyed by fire a week ago Saturday night. The Standard says: The fire started near the boiler and was noticed first by Mr. Bob Tyler, who slept in the building. The loss is estimated at $15,000. The machinery was worth about $8000 and the stock inside about $4000. of which $1000 was finished bicycle rims, etc., ready to be shipped on Monday. The building was a large four story structure, and was insured for $2000. There was no insurance on the stock or plant. Other losers are Henman Bros. who had all the oak timber for their trading vessel in the dry kiln; and Mr. Bob Tyler, who lost everything he possessed, including $100 in money. Twenty-five or thirty hands are thrown out of employment on account of the fire.

PROSTRATED, EXHAUSTED.

NO SLEEP—NO REST.

ALL do not appreciate the words of John G. Saxe, who sang, "God bless the man who first invented sleep!" But appreciation is not wanting to those who have suffered as Mrs. White, of Mara Township Ont., who became so ill with nervous troubles that, to quote her brother, Mr. Donald McRae, a well-known resident of that illustrious section of North Ontario: "My sister had not slept a night for over three months. She could not have stood this much longer, and it was only when death seemed imminent that South American Nervine became the good physician. After taking the first dose of the Nervine she slept all night, and gained in flesh until perfectly well, and has now no sign of nervousness." This is a wonderful medicine in the severest cases of nervousness, and the greatest flesh-builder to be found anywhere in the world.—25.
