Three Essentials

"We must have courage and determination, and must summon the necessary unanimity," said a distinguished British statesman the other day, in counselling his countrymen on the necessity of maintaining her trade. These words might just as well have been uttered by a Canadian statesman, for the qualities mentioned are all-essential to this country at the present juncture. Canada is now offering the 1919 Victory Loan and it must be pushed through to success with courage, determination and absolute unanimity, if Canada is to prove worth of her opportunity.

Great opportunities for trade lie within the grasp of Canada if her farmers, wage earners, merchants and manufacturers have foresight enough to reach for them. On the maintenance of our great overseas trade built up during the war rests our ability to carry on. One of the great objects of the Loan, apart from the rehabilitation of the returned soldier, is the raising of the capital necessary to enable the Government of Canada to continue its system of credits to Great Britain, France, Belgium and other countries, and at the same time pay cash to the Canadian producer. On these credits our present and future trade depends and all Canadians must unite to ensure an ample subscription to the 1919 Loan, which alone will render them possible.

A sad drowning accident occured in Clarksburg on Saturday, when John, the three-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Baxter, was drowned in the Beaver river. The little fellow along with a few other boys were playing along the bank and was last seen between ten and eleven o'clock in the morning. When noon came and the child did not turn up a search was made and it was not until one-thirty that the body was found away down the river. It is not definitely known where he fell in as there was no person around at the time. Upon recovering the body he was rushed to Dr. Kent's office where all that medical skill could do was done but of no avail, he had been dead too long.—Review.
