The dog poisoner is still a resident of Flesherton, notwithstanding the fifty dollar standing reward which has been offered for his capture. On Sunday evening Mr. Fred Bunt lost a valuable Newfoundland dog by poison. Pity the wretch could not be run to earth.

We neglected to notice last week that Mr. J. D. Clark, editor of the London Advertiser, and son in-law of Mrs. J. W. Armstrong of this place, had been advanced a peg. He has recevied the position of private secretary to the Minister of Justice. If not too late we would like to add our congratulations to those of his other friends.

The brave soldier boys returned home from Camp Niagara on Saturday afternoon, and after arrival had luncheon at the armory. The boys say they never had a more enjoyable outing. On arrival at Niagara they were awarded a salute from the U. S. fort across the river and again when they were leaving. The fraternal feeling was very marked this year and those who paid a visit across the lines were banqueted and had he freedom of the country.

Rev. D. C. McDowell, well known in Flesherton, where he was stationed some years ago, died at his home in Bowmanville on Sunday after a brief illness, aged 75 years. His widow and seven children survive him. The children are Dr. E. C. McDowell, Norway, Mich.; F. M. McDowell, Toronto; Mrs. Rev. J. J. Hare of Ontario Ladies' College, Whitby; Mrs. T. E Higginbotham and Miss A. McDowell, Bowmanville; Mrs. Dr. Leitch, Toronto; Mrs. T. C. Nichols, Uxbridge.

Rev. Joseph Ward, M.A., B.D., occupied his pulpit in the Methodist church, Flesherton, on Sunday morning last, for the first time. His sermon was founded on 1st Corinthians, 3rd chapter and 21st and 22nd verses, and partook more of the nature of a talk from pastor to people, dealing with the relationships which should exist between them. His remarks were very timely and in good taste. We predict for Mr. Ward a successful pastorate and publicly welcome him among us. The evening service was withdrawn owing to the Presbyterian anniversary services being held at that time.

Binder twine, it is said, will be enormously high this year on account of the war. The famine in this article prevails in Canada and the United States. The World of a recent date said there will be a shortage of at least 10,000 tons. The total consumption in Canada is about 80,000 tons, and the shortage for Manitoba and Ontario will be at least 2,000 tons. Agents from the United States are said to have been through Canada picking up all they can in tons and car-loads, and it is more than likely that the price will go to 25 or 30 cents in a few days.

The Advance has much pleasure this week in welcoming Mr. T. J. Sheppard and family, recently of Tottenham, to town. Mr. Sheppard will be an acquisition to our village both socially and in a business sense Mr. and Mrs. Sheppard, before leaving Tottenham, were made the recipients of an address and a well filled purse by the Presbyterians of that place, with which church they had been intimately associated for four years, Mr. S. in the capacity of choir leader and treasurer. The Tottenham Sentinel speaks very highly of this talented family and says: "We wish Mr. and Mrs. Sheppard success in their new home, and hope they may be long spared to exercise their talents as they have done here."

Full particulars are to hand regarding the sad and untimely end of Alfred Chislett, son of the postmaster at Flesherton Station, and whose remains were interred in Flesherton cemetery on Wednesday of last week. These are as follows: On Wednesday June 29, he obtained employment with the Storrs Nursery Company of Painsville, Ohio. On the following Sunday he volunteered to assist the party whose turn it was to remain on duty that day, and was going to his boarding house for dinner on his bicycle. To avoid going up a steep hill and to shorten the distance about a quarter of a mile he rode along the railroad between the two tracks. A freight train was approaching him in front and to avoid this he got too near the other track and was struck from behind by an express which he apparently did not hear. He lived for about three quarters of an hour in an unconcious condition. He spoke twice, saying, "let go my foot." Everything that possibly could be done for him was done. His uncle, Alfred Down, was phoned for and reached the place shortly after his death. The young man left home two years ago to learn the florist business in Cleveland, Ohio, and was shortly expected home on a visit. The funeral, as we have said, took place to Flesherton cemetery on Wednesday of last week. He was an estimable young man, and the floral tributes placed upon his casket testified to the high esteem in which he was held.

Anniversary Services

The Presbyterian anniversary service held on Sunday evening last was well attended. Mr. Rogers, of the Bible Training Institute, Toronto, preached from Mark 1st chapter and 17th verse, which, as is always the case with Mr. Rogers' sermons, was listened to with deep attention and profit. The choir, which has recently been augmented by three splendid voices, was in excellent form and added much to the pleasure of the service. A duet between Mr. T. J. Sheppard and Miss Joy was a particularly pleasing feature. Mr. Sheppard has a fine tenor voice, and also sings bass, and his sister-in law, Miss Joy, has a marvelous tenor-baritone voice. On Monday evening the annual social evening was held and was largely attended. Strawberries and refreshments were served in the basement, and we unhesitatingly pronounce this one of the very best collations we have ever had the pleasure of sampling. The ladies had provided an abundance of the very best things that culinary art can produce. An adjournment was then made to the body of the church where a very choice program was rendered. This consisted of an opening anthem by the choir, a duet by Mr. Rogers and Mrs. Blackburn, another by Mr. Sheppard and Miss Joy, given by special request, and a quartet by Mr. Sheppard, Mrs. Sheppard, Miss Joy and Mrs. Blackburn. These pieces were all of more than ordinary merit and were very highly appreciated indeed. Added to this, which was of itself extraordinary value for the money, was a large series of lime-light pictures of foreign scenes including some lovely scenes of Scottish scenery, with scenes in London, Windsor, etc, interspersed with humorous views to to please the little people. Altogether this was, in fact, a double feast for a single admission. Rev. Mr. Matthewson spoke for a few minutes on mission work, but could not in the time at his disposal do any justice to the theme and did not attempt to do so. This entertainment is an annual affair and the funds are devoted to wiping off the church debt, which still amounts to eleven hundred dollars, but is gradually being cleared away.

A very brilliant meteor exploded in the northern sky on Tuesday evening, the noise of which was distinctly audible. In all probability it exploded from fifteen to twenty miles north of Flesherton and half a mile above the earth. We gather this from the altitude and position in which it was seen at various points throughout the county.
