An After-the-War Hero.

The war gave us many heroes. Peace will give us many more, but of a different kind—the heroes who make the best of it. Maimed, or blinded, or weakened, they have come out of the hospitals to face the future bravely and heroically, although very often every apparent possibility of livelihood or success has been snatched away by the war.

One of these new heroes is Hennequin-Reveur, a sculptor of Metz. When the war began he was called to the German colors with all the youth of Alsace-Lorraine, but because the Germans feared that his allegiance could not be trusted if he were ordered to take up arms against France, he was sent to the east against Russia. As quickly as possible he surrendered and marched off to Siberia with the German prisoners. Managing to escape, he made his way on foot to the English at Archangel, who helped him to England, and from there he crossed to France and volunteered.

For three years and a half he fought in the French army against the Germans; then he received three wounds, and when he came out of the hospital he had lost the use of both his hands.

Few people would blame a sculptor without hands for giving up his work; but Hennequin-Reveur believed that if God had given him a great and very original gift as a sculptor, He meant him to use it, and he set himself at once to make the best of it. His toes, he believed, could be trained to mix his clay, and he began to practice with them. His mouth and nose, he decided, must manipulate his tools, and with a determination truly heroic he began to train them also. Later, he learned of an electric contrivance that—when it would work, which was not always—helped him to use his fingers. He then set up his studio and began his old work of modeling.

When the artists of Alsace-Lorraine began an exhibition of their work in London last April, a number of striking and very original figures by Hennequin-Reveur, modeled by toes, nose and mouth, were prominent among the exhibits. The critics pronounced them only slightly less well done than his former work, and they added that they saw no reason why he cannot entirely regain his skill by such indomitable pluck and bravery.

Rich coal seams, estimated to contain 5,000,000 tons of coal to the square mile on the surface, have been located in Spitzbergen by a Scottish expedition under Dr. W. S. Bruce. Dr. Bruce led an expedition which left Britain in 1914 for geological and hydrographic research in the Spitzbergen lakes region.

TONIC TREATMENT FOR THE NERVES

Neuralgia and Other Severe Nervous Disorders Cured Through the Blood.

In many severe nervous disorders the best remedy is often a tonic. The most active tonic treatment is recommended by the highest medical authority to arrest the progress of such disease. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are a tonic that acts on the nerves through the blood, which carries to the nerves the elements needed to build them up and restore them to a normal condition.

Neuralgia, sciatica, nervous headaches and a number of more severe nervous troubles are properly treated by building up the blood with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and are often entirely cured in this way. If you are nervous you can help yourself by refusing to worry, by taking proper rest and sleep, by avoiding excesses and by taking out-of-door exercise. For medicine take Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and you will soon notice the beneficial effect of this tonic in every part of the system. Miss Annie L. Johnston, R.R. No. 1, Listowel, Ont., is one of the numerous sufferers from nervous troubles who has found a cure through Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Miss Johnston says:—"For a long time I was a severe sufferer from nervous troubles, with the result that I grew very pale and weak. Medical treatment did not help me, and various medicines had no beneficial effect, until finally a friend advised me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I began their use and took the pills regularly for several months, with the result that I not only gained in weight, but have recovered my full health and strength. I cannot praise Dr. Williams' Pink Pills too highly for what they have done for me."

To build up the blood there is one remedy that has been a household word for a generation, Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. They tone up the entire system, make the blood rich and red, strengthen the nerves, increase the appetite, put color in the cheeks and lips and drive away that unnatural, tired feeling. Plenty of sunlight, good wholesome food and fresh air will do the rest. You can get Dr. Williams' Pink Pills through any dealer in medicine, or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

He Didn't Salute.

Everybody has heard the message telegraphed by an unfortunate Hindu official to account for a delay at the railway station of which he was in charge. "Tiger dancing in platform," he wired, apologetically, and blame was averted. It was not a tiger which an English captain, in the old days at Cape Colony, offered as an excuse to the angry Dublin authorities, but it was an animal quite as useful under the circumstances.

His ship, the Marlborough, had failed, on entering Table Bay, to fire the salute which "their high-mightiness the directors" of the Dutch East India Company always jealously demanded.

As a consequence, she had no sooner come to anchor than she was boarded by an indignant wharfmaster, who forbade any man to set foot ashore until the mistake had been rectified. He was induced, however, to allow an officer to be sent to the castle with an explanation.

"The salute was not fired," the message ran, "because we had on board an elephant from Madras. This elephant has a great dislike of noise, and is of a most violent disposition. Therefore we did not resort to powder and gun to express our respect for the most honorable directors, fearing lest the elephant might be alarmed or angered and break loose and do much damage.

"But it is to no oversight or lack of courtesy, but to this beast only, that the silence of our ship is due; wherefore we have confidence that the directors will accept our excuses, in consideration of our elephant.'

The excuse was duly accepted, although there were suspicious Dutchmen who thought the elephant himself an excuse and doubted his actual existence.

You can never be tired of life; you are only tired of yourself.

Some London War Scars As a Memorial.

Erasing the scars of war in Europe is not confined to the gigantic work of reclaiming the battlefields, says a London despatch. Cities far removed from shellfire were severely scarred through neglect, principally because money or labor could not be found to keep in repair hundreds of thousands of houses, main thoroughfares and even country roads.

London suffered not only from enforced neglect of streets and buildings, but from Zeppelins and Gothas. Most of the damage is fast being repaired, but some will remain as mementoes.

Oxford Street, which had become so full of holes that riding over it on a bus was like riding a camel, is closed and slowly emerging from wreck into a first-class thoroughfare. Scores of other streets or parts of streets are undergoing the same treatment.

Some palatial London homes are in the hands of painters and plasterers for the first time since the war began.

"Singing Sands."

At certain points along the United States seacoasts "vocal sands" are found in patches, exhibiting a phenomenon that has never been satisfactorily explained. The beach at Manchester, New Hampshire, is famous for them.

These sands, when dry, yield a peculiar sound if struck by the foot, or even when stroked by the hand. At the same time a tingling sensation is felt by the fingers or by bare feet.

The sound resembles the distant barking of a dog, and it may sometimes be heard at a distance of 100 feet. Most curious, surely.

The most remarkable "singing sands" are found on the island of Kauai, in the Hawaiian group. By clapping them between the hands a faint hooting noise is produced. But the hootlike sounds are greatly intensified by putting a quantity in a bag and slamming it about.

HEALTH FOR THE BABY

The baby of to-day is the man or woman of to-morrow. Thus the success of the future man or woman depends upon the baby's present welfare. If the baby is sickly and ill nourished it is not to be expected that he will grow into a strong, active man who will hold his own in the business world a few years hence. Mothers, it is a duty you owe the future to keep your little ones well now. This can be easily done if Baby's Own Tablets are kept in the house. The Tablets are a mild but thorough laxative which regulate the bowels and sweeten the stomach and thus make baby healthy and strong. Concerning them Mrs. W. Orser, Elginburg, Ont., writes:—"I have a fine healthy boy three years and have used Baby's Own Tablets for him ever since he was a small baby. I certainly think them a splendid medicine." The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Some Job For Dad.

A school teacher received the following note: "Dear Madam, Please excuse my tommy today, he won't come to skule because he is acting as timekeeper for his father, and it is your fault. U gave him a example, if a field is 5 miles around how long will it take a man walking 3½ miles per hour to walk 2½ times around it? Tommy ain't a man, so we sent his father. They went early this morning, and father will walk around the field and tommy will time him, but please don't give my boy such examples agin, because my husband must go to work every day to support his family."

Minard's Liniment Co., Limited.

Gentlemen,—In July, 1915, I was thrown from a road machine, injuring my hip and back badly and was obliged to use a crutch for 14 months. In Sept., 1916, Mr. Wm. Outridge of Lachute urged me to try MINARD'S LINIMENT, which I did with the most satisfactory results and to-day I am as well as ever in my life.

Yours sincerely

Japanese Rules of the Road.

The Forecast prints the following English-Japanese copy of the rules of the road that govern motor traffic in Japan:

At the rise of the hand of policeman, stop rapidly. Do not pass him or otherwise disrespect him.

When a passenger of the foot hove in sight, tootle the horn trumpet to him melodiously at first. If he still obstacles your passage, tootle him with vigor and express by word of the mouth the warning, "Hi! Hi!"

Beware of the wandering horse that he shall not take fright as you pass him. Do not explode the exhaust box at him. Go soothingly by.

Give big space to the festive dog that make sport in the roadway. Avoid entanglement of dog with your wheel spokes.

Go soothingly on the grease mud, as there lurk the skid demon. Press the brake of the foot as you roll round the corners and save the collapse and tip up.

"He who has his eyes on the ground passes unheeded. For the sure way of awakening interest is to appear interested."

In Old Japan.

Inscriptions on a workman's cap or back, stating the occupation and name of employer, are said to be customary in many parts of Japan.

The Japanese are very much alike physically. Recent measurements taken of an infantry regiment showed no variation, except a couple of inches in height, or twenty pounds in weight.

The Japanese are expert gardeners. They give such individual attention to each blossom that wonderful results are obtained. Native gardeners have been known to help the buds of delicate and choice flowers to open by gently fanning them.

Thirty-five dollars a year is said to be sufficient to enable a man to live in Japan—that is, pay for board and lodging—and many have been known to manage on fifteen dollars a year.

A Japanese auction is a most solemn affair. The purchasers do not call out their bids or nod, but they write their names, together with the amounts they are willing to pay, on slips of paper. Then the slips, having been placed in a box, are looked through, and the articles awarded to the person who made the highest offer.

The Japanese festivals number five each year. They are easily remembered. 1st of first month—New Year, 3rd of third month—Feast of Dolls, for girls. 5th of fifth month—Feast of Flags, for boys. 7th of seventh month, the Day for the God and Goddess of Love. 9th of ninth month—Feast of Chrysanthemums.

A new baby aeroplane of Swedish make weighs only 700 pounds and has a speed of 80 miles an hour.

Newfoundland, the oldest British colony, was founded by Sir Humphrey Gilbert in 1583.

Tell it straight when you have any story to pass on—neither more nor less. The world spends years of time every day chasing down things that are not so. It hurts. It wears life out to no good purpose.

You can make your own celery salt. Get 10 cents worth of celery seed and run it through the meat chopper, using the finest cutter. Mix this with ten times its bulk of table salt. Put it in a well corked bottle and it will keep nicely.

RASCALS

Biliousness, Headache, Colds, Constipation, driven out with "Cascarets"

Why take nasty cathartics, sickening salts, or stomach-turning oils to drive these rascals out? Let gentle, harmless Cascarets remove the liver and bowel poison which is keeping your head dizzy, your tongue coated, your skin sallow, your breath offensive, and your stomach sour. Get a box of Cascarets at the drug store and rid your liver, stomach, and bowels of the excess bile, poisons, and waste which are keeping you miserable. Cascarets never gripe, never sicken, never inconvenience. They cost so little and work while you sleep.

Scotch Thrift.

Sandy—"I disapprove o' ye wearin' ane o' those reedeeculous hobble skirts, Janet."

His Wife—"Hoots, mon! Dinna ye see that it's made wi' aboot half the material?"

Worth It.

Billy and Bobby were cousins, and although very fond of each other, did not always agree.

One day Bobby's mother entered the room where the small boys were playing, and was immediately appealed to by her son.

"Mamma, mayn't Billie tell me my faults?" he asked.

"What do you want Billie to tell your faults for?" she asked, in astonishment.

"So that I can tell Billie his," was the unexpected reply.

Gallant Hero.

Old Mrs. Jones, who, at the best, was certainly not musical, attended church one recent Sunday morning when an anthem was sung by the choir, during which a certain Mr. Wood rendered a solo.

On returning home, the old lady remarked to a friend:

"Dear, dear! What a mess they made of that anthem, to be sure! Why, if it had not been for Mr. Wood, they would have broken down entirely in one part!"

Sure! High Heels Cause Corns But Who Cares Now

Because style decrees that women crowd and buckle up their tender toes in high heel footwear they suffer from corns, then they cut and trim at these painful pests which merely makes the corn grow hard. This suicidal habit may cause lockjaw and women are warned to stop it.

A few drops of a drug called freezone applied directly upon a sore corn gives quick relief and soon the entire corn, root and all, lifts out without pain. Ask the drug store man for a quarter of an ounce of freezone, which costs very little but is sufficient to remove every hard or soft corn or callus from one's feet.

This drug is an ether compound and dries in a moment and simply shrivels up the corn without inflaming or even irritating the surrounding tissue or skin. Clip this out and pin on your wife's dresser.
