By Wheel to Hamilton

During the past week The Advance man took a bicycle trip to Hamilton, a short description of which may be of interest to our readers. The start was made Thursday morning after a heavy thunder storm, which left the roads in anything but a nice condition. Only 22 miles was made before noon across the township of Proton. After dinner the run was made by Arthur, Fergus and Guelph to Berlin, over some of the finest roads in Canada. After leaving Guelph for Berlin we passed through some of the richest farming country that Canada affords. This section is largely settled by frugal Germans who have amassed fortunes. Their farms are magnificent, their barns large and commodious, their residences are mansions. Seven miles from Berlin a thunder storm made it necessary to seek shelter for half an hour. Hail stones fell as large as good sized hens' eggs, but owing to the nature of the soil this storm did not affect wheeling and a mile further on the road was comparatively dry. In the little village of Breslau we saw a typical German village, the architecture of which carried one in imagination to the far away fatherland. Berlin was reached a little after 6 p. m., a run of 72 miles. Berlin is a stirring town. Its residents appear to vie with each other as to which shall build the costliest and most beautiful residence, and some of the architecture shown is superb, while the surroundings of these residences are bowers of beauty with flowers and shrubbery picturesquely arranged. On Friday morning the route was through the very picturesque village of Preston, noted for its mineral springs, thence through the busy town of Galt, and on through West Flamboro to Dundas and Hamilton. A short distance east of Galt we saw the first yellow field of wheat. All crops throughout this route were magnificent and simply enormous, the hay crop, which was being cut, appearing to be particularly heavy. The beautiful Dundas valley has had its praises sung by all who have visited it and we need not dwell thereon, but the road we have indicated gives a much better view of it than can be had from the railway, or in fact from any other point of vantage. The whole valley is spread out before the charmed eye, including the town of Dundas and the city of Hamilton, six miles away. The run down the mountain is very picturesque in its windings, with trickling springs of ice cold water to quench the thirst. The 6-mile run from Dundas to Hamilton is also charming with hills and hollows, groves, orchards, artificial stone work to protect the roads, etc. Hamilton of itself is, to our fancy, the prettiest city in Canada, with its clean and well paved streets, its charming little parks, and above all its picturesque environments. Its cable railway to the top of the mountain and lookout hotel is probably the chief attraction to tourists. From this point every detail of the city and every public institution can be taken in at a glance. Space forbids a more lengthy attention to the charms of Hamilton, which are many and varied. The home trip was made by train Saturday afternoon.

Presentation

Miss Nicholson was presented with a Bible by the members of her class of the Fourth Line Sabbath School, accompanied by the following address:

Miss Victoria Nicholson

We, the teachers and officers and pupils of your class, wish to express our gratitude to you for the good you have done among us, by presenting you with this Book of Books as a small token of our love for you. Wishing you prosperity in the future. Signed on behalf of the teachers, officers and the pupils of your class of the fourth line Sabbath School.

HATTIE MORRISON,
ALICE MCCALLUM,
LOUISA THOMPSON,
LAURA HOLMAN.

Miss Nicholson desires through the Advance to publicly thank the friends who so kindly remembered her.

A Port Law Surprise

A Pleasant surprise awaited Mr. and Mrs. Fred Nicholson on their return home from their trip. Quite a number of friends had assembled on their return home and gave them a warm reception. After all had partaken of a sumptuous dinner, the following address was read:

To Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Nicholson,

We, the officers, teachers and Bible class of the fourth line Union Sabbath School, feel that we cannot allow this most interesting occasion of your marriage to pass without presenting you with some little token of appreciation. We ask you to accept this lamp and cruet as a slight mark of the esteem we feel for you. Since assuming the duties of superintendent and Bible class teacher, your never failing presence in our weekly prayer circle, the impartial and truly christian spirit displayed by you on all occasions toward those with whom your duties constantly led you, have only served to deepen our respect and love toward you. We sincerely hope that you may be long spared to labor for the Master among us. Wishing you every happiness,

MR. J. THOMPSON, Assist. Sup.
W. H. DOWN, Secretary.

In reply Mr. Nicholson thanked the many friends for their extreme kindness and was thankful if in the past they had been a blessing to any, and trusting that our labors together in the future would be crowned with still greater success.—COM.

Also the phenomenal eight year old Stallion Electric with 22 new standard performers and the leading sire of 1897.

ANTILLO is a grand type of the Electioneer possessing in a marked degree their smooth frictionless gate, and is very fast, stands 16 hands, weighs over 1200, and in style and conformation is perfection. He won first prize, Silver Medal and Sweepstakes at the Industrial Fair in Toronto in 1895. His colts are all large, handsome and game. He is acknowledged by all to be the best stock horse in this country. His oldest colts rising two that were broken this winter show great speed and beautiful action.
