Flesherton Station

From Our Own Corvespondent

Our annual union Sabbath school picnic was held on Tuesday afternoon in Mr. McKenzie's grove, and was one of the most harmonious picnics ever held here. We were glad to see so many of the parents take such an interest in the little folk.

A very interesting and profitable letter was received from our late Sunday school superintendent, Mr. J. E. Moore, now in California, to the teachers and officers of the school. The letter was read on Sunday and was highly appreciated by all.

Mr. J. B. Egan received word that his father had died on Monday morning.

Little Marie Egan took very ill Monday afternoon with convulsions. Dr. Carter is in attendance.

Misses Jenny Hemphill and Mary Wright took in the Niagara excursion last week.

Miss Minnie Sinclair is visiting friends here after an absence of five years.

Mrs. Purdy returned last week from a visit to her daughter in New York.

Stone's Settlement

From Our Own Correspondent

With one exception the farmers in this neighborhood finished gathering in their hay several days ago, which has proved to be an unusually good crop and was housed in splendid condition The fall wheat is now being harvested and a good yield is anticipated.

Judging by reports from other parts of the country we consider ourselves fortunate that so little damage was done by the frost of the 11th inst. In one or two instances potatoes were badly frozen, but the damage to other crops was very slight.

Mrs. R. Stone returned home last week after spending several days with friends in Meaford and elsewhere.

Master Norman Fletcher, who has been attending school at Creemore since Christmas, is home for the holidays. Norman is a smart boy and promises to become a clever scholar.

Mrs. (Dr.) Daynard and sister were the guests of Mrs. R. Stone last week.

Out of the six candidates from our school who wrote at the recent examinations at Flesherton five were successful. This speaks well for our teacher, Miss McLeod.

Our nobby little schoolhouse is at present undergoing a thorough renovation. H. Spicer is the renovator.

Mrs. Henry Stone spent the latter half of last week with friends in Glenhuron and Nottawasaga. She informs us that the drought in that section has been more severe than with us. Pasture fields present a dried up appearance and cattle look very lean, but fall wheat is excellent and a very large acreage.

We were shown a sample of peas grown on a farm on the east side of the township. They were badly frozen, and we were informed that the owner has a number of acres in a like condition. His loss will be extensive.

Obituary

One more of the old settlers of Artemesia has passed away, on July 14, in the person of Mrs. Mary Carr. Deceased was born in Yorkshire, England, in 1817, and emigrated to Canada with her husband and one child in 1852, living in Toronto Gore and Etobicoke townships until moving to Artemesia in 1862, where she remained until death. Deceased was of a nature that to know was to love and respect—generous, faithful and true, with an open heart ever ready to help the needy and helpless. She had chosen the pearl of great price—Christ's love—in her youthful days, in which she walked until God in his all wisdom saw best to afflict, over nine years ago, with a paralytic stroke, leaving her almost as a child ever since; and again last fall was sent a fatal cancer, of which she patiently suffered until death. Her affectionate husband and daughter tried faithfully to make the last years and months as easy and comfortable as possible.

Now the victory is won,
Now the battle day is past;
Safe upon the other shore
Lands the voyager at last.
Saviour, in thy gracious keeping
Leave we no wour mother sleeping.

A bright and happy wedding took place at the residence of Mrs. Bready, Harrington, formerly of Mt. Forest, on Monday, when her eldest daughter, Minnie, the well known teacher, was married to Mr. George Boyd, Esq., of Proton. The ceremony was performed at 5 p. m. by the bride's uncle, Rev. Mr. Bready of Michigan, assisted by Rev. Mr. Jackson, pastor of the Methodist church. The bride looked very attractive in a handsome dress of white silk with pearl trimmings, veil and blossoms. The bridesmaid was Miss Effie Bready, sister of the bride, who was becomingly gowned in cream organdy muslin. The groomsman was the bridegroom's youngest brother. After the ceremony the assembled guests, to the number of about sixty, spent a pleasant time with the happy couple in feasting and rejoicing. Many beautiful and costly presents bespoke the esteem in which the deserving young couple are held. They are now away on their bridal tour, which is to comprise a trip to Calgary, after which they will take up their residence in Proton. We join with their large circle of friends in wishing them much joy. Those present from Mt. Forest at the wedding were Mrs. Crabtree, Misses Gilroy and Mary Lewis.—Mt. Forest Rep.

A despatch from Coboconk says that Alexander Hume, a well known farmer of this section, has received from the War Department at Washington official notification that his two sons, Walter and Joseph Hume, were killed in the battle of July 1st before Santiago. Mr. Hume is overwhelmed with grief, and has the sympathy of a wide circle of friends. Nothing is known as to the manner of their death. The young men left here for northern Wisconsin about eighteen months ago, and were just the high spirited sort of fellows to be swept away by the war enthusiasm. A letter was received from them in June saying they had enlisted and were on the way to Santiago. Nothing further was heard of them until the notification of their death. North Victoria is sending not a few of her sons to the front. Albert Hartel, one of the Rough Riders reported by the Globe correspondent at Santiago as among the dangerously wounded at the first skirmish, comes from Minden, the next village to the Humes.

It is asserted in Popular Science News that spectacles for horses are among recently patented inventions. The purpose is said to be not to improve the sight, but by causing the ground in front to appear nearer than it really is, to induce the horse to take high steps After training with such spectacles, it is averred, the horse acquires and retains the habit of high-stepping.

Keep this a Secret

We are occasionally enjoined by a buyer of an engagement or a wedding ring to "keep this a secret." We ALWAYS do so; we divulge nothing of the kind; our interest in such sales being guaged not by sentiment but by hard cash, our profit.

Strict confidence is therefore invaluable.

Parties buying from us can do so private[illegible] if desired.

In Engagement Rings we are carrying a large stock and of greater variety than heretofore and at prices ranging from $1.50 to $15.00.

We have recently added a new line of Wedding Rings in 10k. gold, which are bound to be favorites.

WATCHES

I am just now making a specialty of Watches, and if you are desiring a timepiece—or even if you don't need one very bad—it will pay you to buy now while prices are at the bottom with McGinty.

I have some fresh, new goods in Japanese Stick Pins, Epworth League and Oddfellow Guards, Ladies' Skirt and Belt Holders, fancy Hat Pins, etc., the nicest, nobbiest things up to date. Just come in and look at them, anyway.
