In days of yore, how many can recall the horse power mower used by farmers when threshing? What about the old cleaning mill in the barn, the harvest bee when farmers from the neighborhood gathered to help each other garner the grain, the old granary with its many bins of wheat, oats and barley?

Remember the excitement and the danger when two sides were chosen to erect a neighbor's barn and the race which took place to erect the framework of the barn? It was a very dangerous job and occasionally was marred by accidents.

Remember the big "spread" prepared by the women, when a long table literally groaned under the many wonderful "vitals"? Much could be written and said about those good old days.

An interesting and pleasing presentation took place at the weekly luncheon of the Kiwanis Club held at the Armoury Thursday night.

Kiwanian Norman Skitch presented the Club with a beautiful and highly colorful banner of royal blue, trimmed with gold and enhanced by a long cord of gold. On the banner appeared in gold letters the names of five Lieutenant Governors, Arthur T. Claxton, Robt. Ivan Moore, Ford W. Moynes, Wm. D. Whyte and Don. Blakely.

In making the presentation Kiwanian Skitch mentioned the many years his father, Kiwanian Percy Skitch, had been a member of the Club. He is at present attending Kiwanis meetings in Daytona, Florida.

President Ken. Richards accepted the gift and members endorsed their thanks and appreciation with a round of applause.
