MR. WANNAMAKER'S ADVICE.

Tomkins. "Good morning, Mr. Wannamaker, I have called to see if you can give me a position in your establishment. I can turn my hand to almost anything."

Mr. W. "No, we are full in every department, and you are the twentieth man I have refused to-day. Why don't you take up a line in which there is less competition and better pay?"

Tomkins. "I'd only be too thankful if you can put me on track of such a position.

Mr. W. "When I was twenty years of age, I was a stranger in a strange land, with neither work nor money, when a friend of mine, a lawyer, advised me to take a book agency, saying he had educated himself by canvassing; like drowning men grasp at a straws, I took his advice, and in five years saved $5,000, and with this sum started my present business. It is just fifty years ago to-day that Mr. Bradley, the founder of the present firm of the Bradley-Garretson Company, Limited, of Toronto, sent me my first book prospectus, and to his beautiful letters and good advice, I owe much of my present success. Yes young man, if you have anything in you there is just as good a chance for you to-day with this old established House as there was for me. Write them and see what they have to offer."

Tomkins. "I have seen the advertisements of this firm, for agents, for years back, and have often thought of writing them, but have never done so. I will write to-day; and I am very thankful to you Mr. Wannamaker for your good advice."

If you should wish an easy shave
As good as barber ever gave,
Just call at my shaving saloon
At morn, or eve, or busy noon.

To suit the contour of the face.
My room is neat, towels clean,
Scissors sharp and razors keen
And everything I think you'll find
To suit the taste and please the mind,
And all that art or skill can do
If you'll just call, I'll do for you.
I shave the young, the old, the gay,
I'll shave you all for ready pay.
And clean the head as any time,
And for a shave I get a dime;
I do not mean a dime in trust
For that would make the barber bust.

Priceville

From Our Own Correspondent

Last year old King Sol, aided by the south wind, overcame Jack Frost early in March, hence a great deal of winter's work was left undone. Saw logs, cordwood, ties, piles, etc., lay in the bush all summer, causing a loss in this vicinity alone of hundreds of dollars. This year, however, the tables are turned and if the season's program has not been completed the blame cannot be attributed to the weather, stormy as it has been.

The following are making preparations for new barns, to be erected this summer: Alex. McLachlan, Chas. McKinnon. Times are good.

Mr. R. McGowan is putting another water wheel in his mill. We trust this one will prove satisfactory.

An intellectual treat is in store for Endeavorers on April the 4th. On that evening the Rev. Mr. Matheson, B.A., will deliver a lecture on Lord Byron in the Presbyterian church.

A number of Pricevillains (?) attended the lecture and views on Japan given in the Methodist church, Flesherton, last Monday evening It is not necessary to say that all returned home exceedingly well pleased with what they heard and saw

We are sorry to learn that Mr. Thos. Ginn still continues in a very low state of health.

The many friends of Mr. Duncan McDonald will be glad to know that he is steadily improving in health.

It is reported that a man who was asking for Charley last week from our villagers was seen with two companions standing at a bar not many miles from here. It is time such mendicant humbugs were made an example of.

Mr. C. E. Watson left for Georgetown last Saturday, where he intends working this summer.

Mr. Alex. Cameron is working for Mr. A. Tucker of Ebenezer. Thus one by one our boys are slipping away.

Mr. and Mrs. Switzer of Norval were the guests of Mr. C. C. James last week.

Miss Maggie Ferguson spent a week or so lately with friends in Holstein.

Miss Lizzie Campbell of Hopeville was a guest at the parsonage last week

Rev. and Mrs. D Campbell and Master Murray of Dromore visited friends in the village this week.

Again we are called upon to chronicle the death of one of our neighbors. On Tuesday morning, the 21st inst., Mrs. Robert Erskine passed away to the spirit land. Items From The North

Mr. James Elliot of Williamsford has been awarded the contract of carrying the mail daily from Durham to Chatsworth and return for the next four years. He will take charge of the route on April 1st.

Messrs Mitchell Bros., the big mill men of Berkeley and Holland Centre had a consignment of upwards of a thousand dollars worth of maple rollers on board the steamship Labrador when she was wrecked on the Irish coast on the first of March. Messrs. Mitchell Bros. fortunately had the timber insured for its full value.

M. George C. Sinclair of Arnott has a Cremona violin upwards of one hundred and fifty years old. Mr. Sinclair has refused big money for the instrument several times. He is also the possessor of a musket that was used in the war of 1812, which he prizes highly.

Mr. James Fraser of Toronto Line, near Arnott, makes a rule of feeding a few head of cattle for the market every winter and whether large or small he turns them out finished beef, and of course gets the best price going. Last Monday Mr. Fraser sold a pair of steers, rising three years old, to Mr. James Halliday, one of which weighed 1500 lbs, and the other 1325 lbs. The price paid was five cents per pound, or a total of $141.25.—Chatsworth News.

It Will or It Won't

Shiloh's Consumption Cure will either cure your cough, or it won't. One or the other—sure. Try it and see. If it cures, the druggist keeps the money you pay for it. If it don't cure, the druggist gives back the money. Every bottle carries a guarantee. 25cts., 50cts. and $1.00 a bottle. Good for Consumptions, Coughs, Colds, Croup, Bronchitis, and Throat Troubles generally.

Thos. McIlfaterick, a Red Wing farmer, died intestate last November. His widow sought to administer the estate. Mrs. John Hillis of Meaford, a sister of the deceased, also applied for administration, making affidavit that Mrs. McIlfaterick is not really Mrs. McIlfaterick, and that she was the wife of one Campbell when she entered into an alleged illegal marriage contract with the deceased On the other hand Mrs. McIlfaterick swears that her former husband was dead when she married Mr. McIlfaterick. Thereby hangs a law suit or two. The local judge found a way out of the difficulty by ordering that the estate be administered by the Trusts Corporation of Ontario. Mrs. McIlfaterick is still in possession of the farm, and Mr. T. C Sutherland of Meaford, acting for Mrs Hillis, served notice of action for ejectment. This action was subsequently dropped, but the following order was obtained at Osgoode Hall last Thursday:—"Re McIlfaterick—Hillis v Trusts Corporation of Ontario—Douglas Armour, for the plaintiff, obtained on consent, order for administration of estate of Thomas McIlfaterick, deceased." Mr. T. H. Dyre, of Thornbury, in behalf of Mrs. McIlfaterick, will move to have this set aside on the ground that no notice was given Mrs. McIlfaterick.—Standard.

Stop it! Stop it!

Don't imagine for a minute that a cough amounts to nothing. Thousands of people are in their graves to-day who let a cough take its course. Stop that cough at once with Shiloh's Consumption Cure, which all druggists sell at 25 cts., 50cts. and $1.00 a bottle. If it fails to help you, your money is refunded.

Potatoes are 80 cents a bag at Creemore.

Dougal Carmichael, a well known resident of Nottawasaga, died last week.

Mr. Wm. Manning, who claims the distinction of being the oldest man in town, celebrated his 86th birthday on Wednesday, 15th inst. He was around town receiving the congratulations of his friends, as bright and chipper as a lark. His father lived to be 92 and his grandfather 120, but he hardly expects to reach the age of the latter.—Creemore Star.

Mr. J. I. Smyth, who lives near Johnston's Harbor, captured a large golden eagle the other day, which is now on exhibition in one of Grafton & Co's. windows. The bird had been stealing Mr. Smyth's chickens. It is a ferocious looking creature with immense beak and talons. The capture was made by means of a trap.—O. S. Sun.

Henry Edmunds, of Bentinck, died recently under peculiar circumstances. Contrary to medical advice, He persisted in the use of milk from a cow suffering from "lump jaw." Some time ago a growth began to develop on his neck, and gradually grew worse, until Saturday last, when the lump burst, and the loss of blood therefrom caused death.
