FLESHERTONSHAVING PARLORS
A. N. LeSard, Prop.
If you should wish an easy shave,
As good a barber ever; save
Just call at my shaving saloon
At morn, or e've, or busy noon.
I'll cut and dress the hair with grace,
To suit the contour of the face.

My room is neat, towels clean,
Scissors sharp and razors keen
And everything I think you'll find
To suit the taste and please the mind
And all that art or skill can do
If you'll just call, I'll do for you.

I shave the young, the old, the gay,
I'll shave you all for ready pay,
And clean the head at any time,
And for a shave I get a dime;
I do not mean a dime in trust
For that would make the barber bust.

Our neighbors are beginning to get an idea of the cost of keeping an army in the field, something they have not known for a generation, although the plethoric pension list has increased instead of diminished since the close of the civil war. Before the war with Spain the army consisted of 25,000 men, and cost $4,500,000 monthly. For the year ending on the first of July, 1899, the figures are not exactly stated as regard the number of men owing to the return and disbandment of volunteers but the cost is estimated at $240,000,000, or twenty million monthly. Add to this cost of maintaining the navy, $75,000,000, not taking into account the proposed increase, and it will be seen what an expensive luxury empire is.

What Is Shiloh's?
A grand old remedy for Coughs, Colds and Consumption; used throughout the world for half a century, has cured innumerable cases of incipient consumption and relieved many in advanced stages. If you are not satisfied with the results we will refund your money. Price 25 cts., 50cts. and $1.00.

DONALD McLEOD

From the Philipines
CALUMPIT, May 2.—I wrote you three days ago. As it is a little quiet I will try to give you a short description of this place. We are still in the fine planter's home of which I spoke in my last. This is a splended and extensive plantation. This elegant house is very different from those of Ontario. There they are made to keep heat; here they are made to keep cool, and the air circulates through allapartments. This is the most beautiful farming country I ever saw. I can look out of this beautiful home across the level country and see all kinds of tropical verdure, cane, rice, coffee, banana groves and pineapples, and many other kinds of truck that I never saw before. The sweet potatoes are now fit for use and we have all the green corn we want, also watermelons. With this there are any amount of chickens, geese, pigs and goats and fish in abundance, and if we want it, thousands of tons of sugar. In fact it is clear these people could not be starved out, for the native women work in the rice. I have many times thought it such a pity to see horses turned into the fields of sugar after coming off the transports. It was like feeding grown corn and rice. I cannot give you any idea of the way vegetation grows here. It is simply wonderfull the way shade trees spread out and the other smaller trees grow between them and in some places it is almost impossible to get through a jungle, the bamboos grow so prickly you might as well attempt to go through a barbed wire fence. The sugar mill is a very crude affair, where the cane is pressed or ground by ox-power rollers, and in some instances the juice is boiled in wooden boilers with iron bottoms. The sugar is emptied into a vat like an inverted haystack with straw in the bottom to filter it through. There are three grades of sugar in the vat. The top portion is the finest grade, the second is very poor and the bottom is black as tar and is used to make rum. The molasses runs into large crocks or jars, and it is a mystery to me what is done with it. Chinamen run these sugar mills as they do almost everything here. If a man wishes work done he goes to a Chinese contractor and this gentleman will get you any number you want and he collects half their earnings. Some of these contractors have several hundred men to let out. One man whom we employed said he had two hundred. These coolies are nearly akin to slaves, and are terrible opium fiends. If they cannot get their opium they simply go wild. On one occasion the old contractor could not get up to the army at the time expected on account of so much fighting and every man left but one. When the old fellow came along with a tin can of opium there was great rejoicing. He weighed it out carefully. The contractor manages to get all they make when they get on a spree, but they will do anything for money. If you wish a safe removed go to the contractor; ropes are tied around it, a pole is put through, and it is done. Pianos are moved in the same way. It is marvelous the loads they will carry in this way.
There are some very fine rivers here to bathe in. One can remain in the water for hours without feeling chilly when coming out. A few days ago one of our artillerymen was having a swim when he felt something cold and clammy touching him. Thinking it a bamboo pole he attempted to push it away, when he discovered it to be the body of a dead Chinaman. The body was brought ashore and was found to have been riddled with bullets, supposedly by the insurgents at Calumpit. Several of our boys have been drowned in the rivers owing to the many treacherous holes.
Sawmills here are the most primitive affairs. Chinamen form the motive power and do nearly all the sawing. The logs are placed on an elevation, lined out to the number of boards it will make and then sawed with a hand saw. We have a vast number of Chinamen these days repairing the railway track.
I think from present indications it will not be very long till the Montana boys get home again, and right glad we will be, for this country is too not for any white man to live in. I have been nearly prostrated by going out on business in the middle of the day, but the Chinese and natives can go around bareheaded in the hot sun at noon. It is simply against nature for us to live here. The reason the volunteers had to do so much fighting is that were the regulars pushed into the field immediately upon leaving the transports they would have died like sheep. After a person is here for a few months he gets somewhat acclimatized. We have felt keenly being forced upon the firing line so continuously, but after each engagement the survivors felt proud that they belonged to the Montana regiment, which has distinguished itself so much during the last three months. It has been amusing on many occasions, when the big Montana men would run at the enemy yelling for all they were worth, to see the little Philipinos skedaddle for dear life. On such occasions the natives appeared to be almost frightened to death. Our men look like giants beside them. ED. STRAIN.

Priceville
From Our Own Correspondent
Mr. John McLeod, teacher of the O. D. R. school, met with a distressing accident last Saturday night when bathing in the mill pond. While in the act of taking a dive from the new plank platform at the dam he struck his left foot against a projecting spike with such force that the head of the nail tore its way under the skin between the great toe and the second along the sole of the foot, making a gash nearly two inches long. It is needless to say that J. M's holiday came a week sooner than he anticipated. Quite a large number of our citizens took in the excursion to Guelph last week and report having had a splendid time.
Mr. Sidney Blakeston is fast becoming an expert cyclist. As he was passing through this burg last Saturday on his new Massy Harris he coolly unstrapped his coat from the handle bars and put it on. What is the next evolution on the program, Sid?
Mr. George Marlatt wheeled up from Shelburne last Saturday and spent Sunday with his father-in-law, D. McDonald.
Mr. Hugh McDonald is seriously ill with inflammation of the bowels. We trust he will soon recover.
Died—On Thursday, June 22, Charlotte (Lottie), beloved wife of William Chisholm of Adamsville, Bruce Co., aged 27 years. Deceased was the oldest daughter of Mrs. Robertson of this village. Only a year ago this month the late Mrs. Chisholm left her home a beautiful and happy bride, and last Saturday the remains were brought back to her birthplace and laid beside her father in the Priceville cemetery. The services were conducted by Revs. C. Matheson and J. Humphreys, and their touching and tender words of sympathy brought tears to many eyes. Besides the sorrowing husband and mother, four sisters are left to mourn their sad loss. The bereaved family have the deepest and heartfelt sympathy of the community.
Miss Fanny James, who has been attending Ottawa normal school, returned home last week. We trust she will head the list of successful candidates.
Mr. D. Shultes of Buffalo and Miss Julia Tucker of Guelph were visitors at Mr and Mrs. George Watson's last week.
Rev. Alex. Irwin and wife of Port Colborne were the guests of Mr. C. C. James the forepart of this week.
Born—On Sunday, June 25, to Mr. and Mrs. Hector McLean, a daughter.

Port Law
From our own Correspondent
Well, Mr. Editor, we again venture out from under cover to chronicle a few events that have happened at this port recently, hoping this time not to touch the feelings of those tender-footed mortals who seem to hang fire and would explode and blow up what they call the Portlaw news bag. We only pity these poor tender-hearted mortals and do not wish to injure or disturb them in their innocence.
Mr. and Mrs. John Fenwick of Bruce county spent a few days recently visiting their many friends in this vicinity.
Mrs. Muller of Whitechurch, sister of Mr. Watson, is also visiting here at present.
Mr. and Mrs. Beecroft of Nottawa, spent a few days recently with their son, Mr. George Beecroft, of this place.
Mr. Geo. Thompson, sr., spent a few days last week with his daughters, Mrs. Blackburn and Mrs. Montgomery, both of Sunnidale.
Mr. John Speers, sr., of Osprey was a was a welcome caller at Portlaw one day recently.
Mr. Walter Simmons is at present having a stone basement placed under his barn and is also having a new addition erected thereto. The Udal Bros. are doing the masonwork, while Mr George Blackburn is doing the frame work.
Inspector Campbell visited our school recently and reports favorably as to the progress of the school, but seems to think some improvements to the building are required.
Mrs. Jos. Watson, Sr., who has been ailing for a long time, does not seem to improve in health as fast as her many friends would wish her to.
Mrs. Albert Thompson we are sorry to note, has not yet improved enough in health to return home. She still stops with her father and mother at McIntyre, but we hope to soon hear of her recovery.
Another of our young men has come to the conclusion that it is not well for man to live alone, this time it being Mr. Walter Taylor, who has taken unto himself a wife in the person of Miss Fields of Flesherton. We tender our congratulations.
The population of this port seems to be increasing, as Mrs. John Lyons and Mrs. George Thompson have recently presented their husbands with a fine bouncing baby each, the former with a daughter and the latter a son.
