ANTEDILUVIAN AGES.

How Long Did the Patriarchs Live? — Some Strange Calculations

Charles S. Bryant, of St. Paul, has a communication in the February issue of the "Popular Science Monthly," in which he offers some considerations to show that there was no real disparity between the ages of the patriarchs and those of men of later time. He says that a very slight error in the translation of the Hebrew numbers has led to all apparent disparity, and insists on the authority of Genesis vi. 3, that the age of the antediluvians was not to exceed 120 years. That passage reads: "And the Lord said, my spirit shall not always strive with man, for that he is also flesh, yet his days shall be to hundred and twenty years." Mr Bryant ascribes the errors in the ages as given in the Bible to the improper rendering of concrete nouns by the translators. He says that Genesis vi. 3 is properly rendered, "Adam lived a hundred and thirty years and begat a son," etc., but that if this verse had been translated as the fifth is, in the authorized version, it would read thus: "Adam lived thirty hundred years and begat a son." This "thirty-hundred" the commissioners of the Christian translation, and he was driven to the true rule of the Hebrew case in cases of concrete nouns. He gives the fifth verse as authorized version reads: "And all the days that Adam lived were nine hundred and thirty years, and he died." The true reading by the rule, Mr Bryant says, would be "And all the days of Adam which he lived were a hundred years, and thirty and nine years, and he died." Making the entire age of Adam 139 years instead of 930 years. Mr Bryant further says that at the date of the writing of Genesis the Hebrews had no means of writing nine hundred, or any number of hundreds above one, without repetition or circumlocution. He gives the following as the ages of the patriarch before the Noachian deluge, remarking that they are subject to a few unavoidable inaccuracies in the number below one hundred:—

	Current age.	Age at given in Genesis.
1. Adam.....	130	930
2. Seth.....	105	912
3. Enos.....	114	905
4. Cainan.....	119	910
5. Mahalaleel.....	129	895
6. Jared.....	117	962
7. Enoch.....	114	365
8. Methuselah.....	134	969
9. Lamech.....	117	777
10. Noah.....	109	950

Rapid Breathing as an Anæsthetic.

Dr. M. T. Yates, in a letter published in the Medical Record, says of the surgical operations to which he has recently submitted:—"My doctors and that they had seen it stated by an American doctor that if a person breathed as fast and as rapidly as possible under an operation, he would not feel the pain of cutting, and they wished to try it on me, to which proposition I assented. Dr. Macleod superintended the breathing—which was like that of a dog on a hot summer day—holding, out of my sight, a handkerchief in his hand to be dropped as a signal—when he saw the colour come in my face—for Henderson, the operating doctor, to go ahead. When I awoke I did not feel that I had, but I was surprised to find that the operation had been performed. This I have tried three times, and have not, at either time, felt more pain than is usually inflicted in the case of vaccination. I heard the knife rip through the flesh, like the sound produced in cutting leather, but I did not feel the pain. Were it the philosophy of this kind of an anæsthetic? Is it simply a diversion of the mind?" We suppose that rapid breathing has very much like the inhalation of laughing-gas; that it oxygenates the blood more highly and makes the heart beat faster, so as to heighten the color in the face, and this exhilaration produces insensibility to physical pain, the man slightly wounded in battle often does not know it in the heat of excitement, perhaps, because of mental pre-occupation, but mainly, we suppose, because he is toned up by the sensations of the conflict. In all, whatever may be the explanation, Dr. Yates' experience is an instructive instance of the connection and interaction of bodily estate and mental sensibility.—Richmond (Va.,) Religious Herald.

Blue Roses.

But the most hopeless Rose of all, I suppose, is that which exists at the present only in the leading and fine article—a blue rose. Will any of us live to see that? An flatteringly article by Mr Grant Allen in the January "Cornhill" goes into the subject generally, and with most discouraging conclusions as to our hopes of blue roses. I can only give the outline theory and conclusion, but it is well argued out, and the whole article well worth studying. "Briefly put," says, "the general conclusion at which I have arrived is this: All flowers were in their earliest form yellow, then some of them became white; after that a few of them grew to be red or purple, and finally, within a comparatively small number acquired various shades of lilac, mauve, violet, or blue." Allusion is then made to bees' fondness for blue as lately shown by Sir John Lubbock, so that blue flowers are trust bees, and bees produce blue flowers. Why will they not visit more our sweet-scented roses? And then follows the further discussion and conclusion—"the roses, as a whole, being a relatively simple family with regular symmetrical flowers of the separate type, have never risen to the stage of producing blue petals. This is why our florists cannot turn out a blue rose. It is easy enough to make roses or any other blossoms vary within their own natural limits, revert to any earlier form or colour through which they have previously passed, but it is difficult and impossible to make them take a step which they have never yet made, or never taken."—The London Journal of Horticulture.

EPPS'S COCOA.—GRATEFUL AND COMFORTING.—"By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of digestion and nutrition, and by a careful application of the fine properties of well selected Cocoa, Mr Epps has provided our breakfast tables with a delicately flavoured beverage which may save us many heavy doctors' bills. It is the judicious use of such articles of diet that a constitution may be gradually built up until strong enough to resist every tendency to disease. Hundreds of subtle maladies are floating around us ready to attack wherever there is a weak point. We may escape many a fatal shaft by keeping ourselves well fortified with pure blood and a properly nourished frame."—Civil Service Gazette.—Made simply with boiling water or milk. Sold only in Packets and Tins (½lb and lb.), labelled—"JAMES EPPS & CO., Homœopathic Chemists, London, Eng." Also makers of Epps's Chocolate Essence for afternoon use.

The People's World-Wide Verdict

EXTRACT.—For persons suffering from exhaustion of the powers of the brain and nervous system, from long and continued study or teaching, or in those cases of exhaustion from which so many young men suffer, I know of no better medicine for restoration to health than Hallows' Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites.

EDMOND CLAY, M.D., Pugwash, N.S.

Honesty.

It is commonly said that you cannot make an honest man believe that white is black and vice versa, but those who have grey hair, by using the "Cangaloo Hair Renewer," will find that this apparent difficulty is easily overcome. For sale at WADE'S DRUG STORE, at 50 cents per bottle.

THE ELEMENTS OF BONE, BRAIN AND MUSCLE are derived from the blood, which is the grand national source of vital energy, the motor of the bodily organs. When the circulation becomes impoverished in consequence of weak digestion and imperfect assimilation of the food, which should enrich it, every bodily function flags and the system grows feeble and disordered. When the blood becomes impure, either from the development of inherited seeds of disease, its contamination by bile or other causes, serious maladies surely follow. A highly accredited remedy for these evils is Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery and Dyspeptic Cure, which eradicates impurities of the blood and fertilizes it by promoting digestion and assimilation. Moreover, the fine alterative and stomachic exerts a specific action upon the liver, healthfully stimulating that organ to a performance of its secretive duty when inactive, and expelling bile from the blood. It likewise possesses diuretic and diaphoretic properties of a high order, rendering the kidneys active and healthy, and expelling from the system the acrid elements which produce rheumatic pains. Price, $1. Sample bottle, 10 cents. Ask for Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery and Dyspeptic Cure. The wrapper bears a fac simile of their signature. Sold by all medicine dealers.

A COUGH, COLD OR SORE THROAT should be stopped. Mother Seigel's Syrup is an incurable Lung Disease or Consumption. BROWN'S BRONCHIAL TROCHES do not disturb the stomach like cough syrups and balsams, but act directly on the inflamed parts, affording immediate relief in Asthma, Bronchitis, Coughs, Catarrh, and Throat Diseases. Troches which Singers and Public Speakers are subject to. For thirty years Brown's Bronchial Troches have been recommended by physicians, and always give perfect satisfaction. Having been tested by a thirty years' trial and constant use for nearly an entire generation, they have attained well-merited rank among the few staple remedies of the world. Sold at 25 cents a box everywhere.

Mothers! Mothers!! Mothers!!!

Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with the excruciating pain of cutting teeth? If so, go at once and get a bottle of MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately—depend upon it; there is no mistake about it. There is not a mother on earth who has ever used it, who will not tell you at once that it will regulate the bowels, and give rest to the mother, and relie and health to the child, operating like magic. It is perfectly safe to use in all cases, and pleasant to the taste, and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female physicians and nurses in the United States. Sold everywhere. 25 cents a bottle.

HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT AND PILLS.—Rheumatism and Gout.—These purifying and soothing remedies demand the earnest attention of all persons liable to gout, rheumatism, or other painful affections of the muscles, nerves, or joints. The Ointment should be applied after the affected parts have been perfectly fomented with warm water, when the ingredient should be gently rubbed upon the adjacent skin, which should then be flannel. Holloway's Pills should be simultaneously taken to reduce inflammation and purify the blood. This treatment abates the violence, and lessens the frequency of attacks of rheumatism, and all spasmodic diseases, which spring from hereditary predisposition, or from any accidental weakness of constitution. This Ointment checks the local remedy. The Pills restore the vital powers.

A Youngster's Teeth

demand greater attention than they usually receive. Mothers careful of their children's physical well-being, wisely adopt SOZODONT as an article of the family toilet. If the first use of Sozodont's teeth are daily polished with this matchless purifier, the second set will be almost invariably white and strong, and prove a life long blessing otherwise. They frequently turn out carious and irregular. Young and old alike benefit by its use.

BRILLIANT SCIENTIFIC TRIUMPH.—Thousands cured of catarrh, bronchitis, asthma, and lung diseases by Dr. M. Souvielle's Spirometer, an instrument which conveys medicinal properties direct to the parts affected. These wonderful instruments are used in all first-class hospitals, and prescribed by leading physicians. Full directions for treatment sent by letter, and instruments expressed to any address. It is only since Souvielle's invention that lung diseases are no longer feared until their very last stage. Write for particulars to M. Souvielle, late Aide Surgeon of the French Army, 13 Phillips Square, Montreal. All letters must contain stamp for reply. J. George King, Chemist and Druggist, Sold Agent for Kingston.

Our town druggists say that Perry Davis' Pain Killer sells the best of any medicine they keep. During the hard times of the past few years there were too poor to pay their "quarter" for a bottle of this indispensable family medicine.
