CHINESE VICES IN NEW YORK.

Two Opium Dens Patronized by Well-Dressed Men and Women.

"Opium smoking is a vice that is gradually increasing in foothold in this city, and although it has been known to exist in New York for the past four or five years, yet not few people have any idea of the extent of the practice. At first it was confined to the Chinese habitues living in this city, but it has spread so rapidly that now there are from ten to fifteen opium-smoking dens. Of these two are patronized almost exclusively by Caucasians—one at number 45 Pell street, the other is the notorious Chinese "joint," and another in West Thirty-second street, next to Jerry McAnsky's saloon, which is kept by Hughes, the former pressprinter of the Cosmopolitan. Chin Pin's den was visited by a other reporter in the early part of last week. It occupies a small basement upon a dingy populated Bowery tenement house, and adjoins Justice Schaw's detectives headquarters. Packages of assorted boxes and cigarettes of the above vintage and exposed the interior from observation. Entering the dingy place the reporter found a woman seated at the counter, behind which were some packages and bottles that contained assuredly tea and other commodities, which served as a disguise to the true character of the place. A wooden partition divided the store from an apartment in the rear, from which faint voices could now and then be heard. A Chinaman, who had been Americanized sufficiently to wear the clothing of civilization and to speak broken English, came out of the back room and inquired of the woman, who, in otherwise had been passed, was his wife, what the reporter wanted.

"To see the place," was the writer's answer, accompanied by a trade dollar. For a moment the almond eyes of the Chinaman glanced suspiciously at the reporter and then at the silver coin, but the latter evinced no suspicion, and he said "Come 'long." The mysterious room was entered, and for the first time the reporter obtained a view of an opium den. The wooden platforms, covered with mats, were on each side of the room, and staring with glassy eyes at the intruder. They appeared in a lethargy from which nothing apparently could stir them. The two women were well dressed, but flashy looking. The one was also loudly dressed, and looked like Bowery gamblers or sports who live by their wits. Languishedly pipe, with a small orifice and a reed stem, lay at the opium smoker's side.

The reporter left the room accompanied by Pin, whom he asked what kind of people patronized his place. Pin did not seem to understand the purport of the question, but his wife, who was busy attending to the wants of a youthful, American Chinee, answered, and said "Oh, lots of people. Ladies come here; sen ladies, too. They are regular customers and spend as much as two dollars heem at a time. Who they are I don't know; they come here; why do you want to know?"

This shut off all further communication, and the reporter left.

"Oh, yes; Chinee also women go in there," said a German woman who keeps a little cigar store. "They smoke opium," she added with a whisper.

Hughes' place on Thirty second street is the most handsomely equipped of the opium "joints" in New York. This is patronized by Bowery reelling on Murray Hill, as well as some who reside in neighboring brothels. In the afternoon the place is patronized, exclusively by women, but at night it is filled by men and women alike. Many of the habitues have acquired a habit by sympathy with companions who were addicted to the vice, but the den out of curiosity and smoking opium, "just to see what it tasted like," has induced many visits confirmed the novice at an habitual smoker, and then the road to ruin was straight before them without a turning out place, as the habit once acquired takes possession of every thought and idea of the opium smoker and renders her or him its slave.

Along Mott street are perhaps a dozen opium dens, patronized almost exclusively by Chinamen, but occasionally they afford lighter-skinned opium smokers into their "joints." Some well-dressed women can occasionally be seen entering these houses, over the doors of which are pasted strips of paper on which are in Chinese characters the name of the opium seller and his business. The police are at present powerless to stop this pernicious but rapidly growing habit, but a law which is before the Assembly for action contemplates the punishment of any person who shall keep an opium den.—N.Y. Star.

A NICE YOUNG MAN.

A Woman Charged With Masquerading in Male Attire—Her Career as a Salesman.

No one would have suspected that the jaunty, stylishly arranged in the Tombs Police Court yesterday under the name of Frances de Nyse was a woman. The natty derby hat, fashionable collars, striped pantaloons and orthodox necktie were fashions, and certainly there was nothing feminine about the close cut hair. But two little tell-tale holes pierced in the prisoner's ears and a shoe remarkably well developed would have struck the eye of a detective at once. The prisoner was a woman, a young woman, and the charge against her was that she masqueraded in the public streets in male attire. She and she lived in the Bowery, and paradoxically described her occupation as that of a "travelling salesman." The detective who made the arrest said that for several days he had been watching the prisoner and suspected her of being a woman. On Tuesday night he followed her down the Bowery, and finally he was convinced in his suspicions and took her into custody. In her possession were found a number of love letters written, presumably, by young ladies to the happy young man. The prisoner admitted to Justice Smith that she was a woman, whereupon His Honor blushed and ordered her to be taken into the prison and decently dressed. She was put under $500 bail for her good behaviour and committed for six months in default. The plea made by the prisoner was that she only disguised herself in order to earn more money

In the prison Mr or rather Miss De Nyse told a Herald reporter that she had been travelling as a "salesman" for two years in the employ of a large commercial house in the city. She said she used to work as a saleswoman in a dry goods store and receiver only $8 a week, and she determined that if she could not earn a decent living as a salesman she would try to do so.

"But was yourself never discovered?" inquired the reporter.

"Not at all. Why should it be? I can do everything a man can. I worked in an oyster saloon in Grand street for four months, and no one ever suspected that I was a woman."

"How do you like your present clothes?"

"Not at all. I had to put on a common prince dress, and it's pretty hard, I tell you. Dr. Mary Walker is allowed to go about in whatever dress she pleases, and why should there be any difference made in my case?

It is quite—sheer spite. I know who is responsible for my arrest."

Miss De Nyse insists that she has a right to be a salesman if she likes, and looks upon her imprisonment as an outrage.—N.Y. Herald.

EPPS'S COCOA.—GRATEFUL AND COMFORTING.—"By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of digestion and nutrition, and by a careful application of the fine properties of well-selected Cocoa, Mr. Epps has provided our breakfast tables with a delicately flavoured beverage which may save us many heavy doctors' bills. It is by the judicious use of such articles of diet that a constitution may be gradually built up until strong enough to resist every tendency to disease. Hundreds of subtle maladies are floating around us ready to attack wherever there is a weak point. We may escape many a fatal shaft by keeping ourselves well fortified with pure blood and a properly nourished frame."—Civil Service Gazette.—Made simply with boiling water or milk. Sold only in Packets by Grocers, Labelled—"James Epps & Co., Homœopathic Chemists, London." Also makers of Epps's Chocolate Essence for afternoon use.

Pope & Bitlan, druggists, Cedar Rapids, Iowa, write: "We have never sold any medicine that gives such satisfaction to the customer and pleasure to the seller as Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil. We can refer you to numbers that have used it for diphtheria with entire satisfaction and success.

HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT AND PILLS.—During every break of wintry weather exertions should be made by the afflicted to recover from the effects before succumbing cold and trying storms set in. Throat affections, coughs, wheezings, asthmatical affections, shortness of breath, morning nausea, and accumulations of phlegm can readily be removed by rubbing this fine derivative Ointment twice a day upon the chest and neck. Holloway's treatment is strongly recommended with the view of giving immediate ease, preventing prospective danger, and effecting permanent relief. These all important ends his Ointment and Pills can accomplish, and will effectually prevent insidious diseases from fastening on the constitution to display themselves afterwards in those disastrous forms that will probably embitter life till death itself is almost prayed for.

BURNETT'S COCOAINE

Has Received Universal Endorsement

No other preparation possesses such remarkable properties for embellishing and strengthening the hair and rendering it dark and glossy. It cures baldness and eradicates dandruff.

BURNETT'S FLAVORING EXTRACTS are the best.

THE ELEMENTS OF BONE, BRAIN AND MUSCLE are derived from the blood, which is the grand national source of vital energy, the motor of the bodily organs. When the circulation becomes impoverished in consequence of weak digestion and imperfect assimilation of the food, which should enrich it, every bodily function flags and the system grows feeble and disordered. When the blood becomes impure, either from the development of inherited seeds of disease, its contamination by bile or other causes, serious maladies surely follow. A highly accredited remedy for these evils is North Trop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery and Dyspeptic Cure, which eradicates impurities of the blood and fertilizes it by promoting digestion and assimilation. Moreover, this liver alterative and stomachic exerts a specific action upon the liver, healthfully stimulating that organ to a performance of its secretive duty when inactive, and expelling bile from the blood. Its diuretic properties diuretic and depurent properties of a high order, rendering the kidneys active and healthy, and expelling from the system the acrid elements which produce rheumatic pains. Price, $1. Sample bottle, 10 cents. Ask for Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery and Dyspeptic Cure. The wrapper bears a fac simile of their signature. Sold by all medicine dealers.

A SURE BASIS OF POPULARITY.—Merit, apparent to a "cloud of witnesses," upon which the popularity of Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil is founded. Throat and lung complaints, pain, soreness, stiffness, swellings, burns and inflammations, various other kinds, yield to the action of this speedy and safe remedy.

BRILLIANT NOSTRIPS: TRIUMPH.—Those who have suffered from bronchial, throat, and lung diseases by Dr. M. Souvielle's Spirometer, an instrument which conveys medicinal preparations direct to the parts affected. These wonderful instruments are used in all first class hospitals, and prescribed by leading physicians. Full directions, free treatment sent by letter, and instruments expressed to any address. It is only since Souvielle's invention that lung diseases are no longer feared until their very last stage. Write for particulars to M. Souvielle, ex Aide Surgeon of the French Army, 13 Philips Square, Montreal. All letters must contain stamp for reply. J. Ward, Druggist, Chemist and Druggist, Sold Agent for Kingston.

Quantity and Quality are at their best among animals and poultry that have their food mixed with Harvell's Condition Powders, which destroy all disease, and result in health, strength, fattening and profit. Make your stables and barn yards pay. These great specifics are for sale everywhere.

A COUGH, COLD OR SORE THROAT should be stopped. Brown's Bronchial Troches is an invaluable Lung Disease or Consumption, BROWN'S BRONCHIAL TROCHES do not disorder the stomach like cough syrups and balsams, but act directly on the inflamed parts, allaying irritation, give relief in Asthma, Bronchitis, Coughs, Catarrh, and the Throat Troubles using the Troches and Public Speakers are subject to. For thirty years Brown's Bronchial Troches have been recommended by physicians, and always give perfect satisfaction. Having been tested by wide and constant use for nearly an entire generation, they have attained well-merited rank among the few staple remedies of the age. Sold at 25 cents a box everywhere.

Ayer's

Hair Vigor,

FOR RESTORING GRAY HAIR TO ITS NATURAL VITALITY AND COLOR.

It is a most agreeable dressing, which is at once harmless and effectual, for producing a healthy growth, with the gloss and freshness of youth, faded or gray, light, and red hair, to a rich brown, or deep black, as may be desired. By its use this hair is thickened, and falls off less often though not always cured. It checks falling of the hair immediately, and causes a new growth in all cases where the glands are not decayed; while to brashy, weak, or otherwise diseased hair, it imparts vitality and strength, and renders it pliable.

The Vigor cleanses the scalp, cures and prevents the formation of dandruff; and, by its cooling, stimulating, and soothing properties, it satisfies the heads of the humors and diseases peculiar to the scalp, keeping it cool, clean, and soft, under which conditions diseases of the scalp and hair are impossible.

As a Dressing for Ladies' Hair

The Vigor is incomparable. It is colorless, contains no oil, and is not dear, will last a whole combing. It imparts an agreeable and lasting perfume, and as an article of toilet is the most economical and unsurpassed in its excellence.

Prepared by Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co., Practical and Analytical Chemists, Lowell, Mass.

Sold by all druggists everywhere.
