ACCIDENT AT ROCHESTER.

Following are the particulars of the accident that occured at Rochester on the 6th inst., at the school-house of St. Peter and St. Paul's Church: A festival and concert was being held for the benefit of the school, and during the warming a portion of the floor, about 35 feet in length by 40 feet, fell with a terrible crash to the floor below, precipitating its load of human beings into one mass with the broken timbers. A scene of the wildest confusion occurred, and the groans of the injured, mingled with the cries and calls for aid of missing friends, were painful in the extreme. Many in their fright jumped from the windows, others at every door and means of escape from the ill-fated building poured out, fearing impending danger. There was a large audience on the floor listening to the music. Upon the falling of the first portion which received the falling mass, a number of ladies engaged in washing dishes; but forced to the ends of the joists clung to the timbers to form a protection, and then escaped uninjured. Eight were killed outright, three or four mortally injured, and at least twenty were wounded. The following are killed: Benard Downer and wife, Roger Kirk, Mrs Charles Sparl, George Ann Lawrence, Emma Beers, and Mr Weiss.

THE AMERICAN POSTAL TELEGRAPH SYSTEM.

Postmaster General of the United States submitted a report to the House of Representatives recommending the establishment of a telegraph system in connection with the post office. Postmaster General concludes his report as follows:—The postal telegraph system now proposed, with the advantages of private enterprise and government control are combined, the principal defects of each are avoided. The entire system will be in harmony with the present postal service, and messages will be received and delivered by the present and transmitted under contracts with parties.

The leading features of the proposed plan are:

The incorporation of a company with ability to construct lines of telegraph along the roads and routes of the country, with its capital fixed at $200 for every mile of wire. This sum is large enough for the construction of good lines and leave a margin for profit, and will prevent the admission of capital.

The establishment of a postal telegraph system, which shall include, first, the establishment of postal telegraph offices in connection with post offices in every city and town of 1,000 inhabitants and over, and at such other places as the lines of the wires as the telegraph system of the country may from time to time demand.

The payment of all telegraphic messages by stamps and their reception of any postal telegraph office, post office, or letter-box.

The transmission of messages by the lines between postal telegraph offices and those with a telegraph company, at a rate of not to bid shall be received in advance for a rate of message of twenty words or less, shall exceed twenty cents for the message, and 5 cents for each added ten words or figures or less, for each and every 100 miles or fractional part thereof, to be added 5 cents for postage.

The special immediate free delivery of messages by carriers within the limits of the free delivery of letters from the post office, or within one mile of every telegraph office, and the delivery at places beyond such limits, provided, however, that messages directed to be delivered by night shall not be delivered until morning.

The transmission of messages by special messenger at extra charge to or from the postal telegraph office when requested or directed to any place not having a post office.

The transmission by telegraph of money orders, the transmission of a special message in special cases by request of the transmission; the receipt of messages and delivery to the transmission of messages where the payment of rate has not been prepaid, the transmission of messages between the larger cities by autographic instrument in cipher.

The forwarding of originals of all messages not transmitted by mail to the proper office, and delivery of all messages received through a recording instrument with the copy thereof, if any is required.

The following other provisions as are from time to time required to carry out the objects of the act and to perfect the system.

That the lines shall be extended and new ones added as the wants of the country may require. If the contractor shall fail to erect such lines and wires, the Postmaster General may do it, and charge the cost thereof to the company, and deduct such amounts from the payment of the company.

That the Postmaster General may, from time to time, reduce the rates, provided the profits of the contracting party are not thereby reduced below 10 per cent per annum.

That the company chartered by the act may make a contract, if required by the Postmaster General, on the terms above provided, with any other company will do the business.

That no exclusive privileges in telegraphing, either to the department or to any other company that may be employed to transmit messages more promptly or cordially at lower rates, or more faithfully than the business. It involves no expenditure of money on the part of the government in constructing and operating the telegraph lines, while the rates proposed by the Postmaster General are as low as those charged by the advocates of a line to be owned and operated by the government.

Miss Emily Faithful, a prominent advocate of the rights of women in England and proprietress of the Victoria Press, a printing establishment in London, recently delivered a public address that out of the population of England 2,500,000 were Mrs Winslow's Soothing Syrup.

Rev. Sylvanus Cobb thus writes in the Boston Christian Freeman: We would by no means recommend any kind of medicine which we did not know to be good—particularly for infants. But of Mrs Winslow's Soothing Syrup we can speak from knowledge; in our own family it has proved a blessing indeed, by giving an infant troubled with colic pains quiet sleep, and its parents unbroken rest at night. Most parents can appreciate these blessings. Here is an article which works to perfection, and which is harmless; for the sleep which it affords the infant is perfectly natural, and the little cherub awakes as "bright as a button." And during the process of teething its value is incalculable. We have frequently heard mothers say they would not be without it from the birth of the child till it had finished with the teething siege, on any consideration whatever.

Sold by all druggists. 25 cents a bottle.

Be sure and call for

"Mrs Winslow's Soothing Syrup," having the fac-simile of "Curtis & Perkins" on the outside wrapper. All others are base imitations.

TO PHYSICIANS.

New York August 15th, 1867.

ALLOW me to call your attention to my PREPARATION OF COMPOUND EXTRACT BUCHU. The component parts are BUCHU, LONG LEAF, CUBEBS, JUNIPER BERRIES.

MODE OF PREPARATION.

Buchu in vacuo Juniper Berries, by distillation, to form a fine gin. Cubebs extracted by displacement by liquor obtained from Juniper Berries, containing very little sugar, a small proportion of spirit, and more palatable than any now in use. The active properties are by this mode extracted.

Buchu, as prepared by Druggists generally, is of a dark colour. It is a plant that emits its fragrance; the action of a flame destroys this (its active principle), leaving a dark and glutinous decoction. Mine is the colour of ingredients. The Buchu in my preparation predominates; the smallest quantity of the other ingredients are added, to prevent fermentation; upon inspection it will be found not to be a Tincture, as made in Pharmacopœa, nor is it a Syrup—and therefore can be used in cases where fever or inflammation exists. In this, you have the knowledge of the ingredients and the mode of preparation.

Hoping that you will favour it with a trial, and that upon inspection it will meet with your approbation,

With a feeling of confidence,

I am, very respectfully,

H. T. HELMBOLD,

Chemist and Druggist of 16 years' experience in Philadelphia, and now located at his Drug and Chemical Warehouse, 594 Broadway, New York.

[From the largest Manufacturing Chemists in the World.]

"I am acquainted with Mr H. T. Helmbold; he occupied the Drug Store opposite my residence, and was successful in conducting the business where others had not been equally so before him. I have been favourably impressed with his character and enterprise.

WILLIAM WEIGHTMAN,

Firm of Powers & Weightman, Manufacturing Chemists, Ninth and Brown Streets, Philadelphia.

HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU,

For weakness arising from indiscretion. The exhausted powers of nature which are accompanied by so many alarming symptoms, among which will be found Indisposition to Exertion, Loss of Memory, Wakefulness, Horror of Disease, or Forebodings of Evil; in fact, Universal Lassitude, Prostration, and inability to enter into the enjoyments of society.

The Constitution, once affected with Organic Weakness, requires the aid of Medicine to strengthen and invigorate the system, which invariably does. If no treament is submitted to, Consumption or Insanity ensues.

HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU,

In affections peculiar to Females, is unequalled by any other preparation, as in Chlorosis, or Retention, Painfulness, or Suppression of Customary Evacuations, Ulcerated or Schirrous State of the Uterus, and all complaints incident to the sex, whether arising from habits of dissipation, imprudence in, or the decline or change of life.

HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU AND IMPROVED ROSE WASH will radically exterminate from the system diseases arising from habits of dissipation, at little expense, little or no change in diet, no inconvenience or exposure; completely superseding those unpleasant and dangerous remedies, Copaiva and Mercury, in all these diseases.

Use HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU in all diseases of these organs, whether existing in male or female, from whatever cause originating, and no matter of how long standing. It is pleasant in taste and odour, "immediate" in action, and more strengthening than any of the preparations of Bark or Iron.

Those suffering from broken-down or delicate constitutions, procure the remedy at once.

The reader must be aware that, however slight may be the attack of the above diseases, it is certain to affect the bodily health and mental powers.

All the above diseases require the aid of a Diuretic. HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU is the great Diuretic.

Sold by all Druggists everywhere. Price $1,25 per bottle, or six bottles for $6,50. Delivered to any address. Describe the symptoms in all communications.

Address H. T. HELMBOLD, Drug and Chemical Warehouse, 594 Broadway, N.Y.

None are genuine unless done up in steel-engraved wrapper, with fac-simile of my Chemical Warehouse, and signed
