WAR ITEMS

Oom the Lord loveth he chasteneth.

The rumor that Mr. Chamberlain intended entering a convent doubtless arose from his well-known determination to take the Vaal.

The United States soldiers are still carrying everything before them in the Phillipines, but in some unaccountable manner "everything" seems to return about to the starting point and the carrying process has to be repeated indefinitely.

Sir Redvers Buller arrived at the Cape on Monday. The war will from this on prove more interesting. Sir Redvers is a man who will make it very interesting for everybody, including the Boers.

The Canadian contingent sailed from Quebec on Monday afternoon.

The bulk of the Boer army appears to be concentrated around Ladysmith. An indecisive battle was fought there on Monday, and it is probable that a sanguinary battle will be fought on that ground this week.

Later news of Monday's battle gives the sorrowful news that two regiments, numbering about 2000 men, were either killed or captured by the Boers. This is the greatest disaster in the history of British arms.

Made of Right Stuff.

An incident took place at the Toronto armouries on Saturday during the enlistment of the men for the Canadian-Transvaal contingent, which not only mirrors how keen is the competition among Canadian military men to find a place in the contingent, but is alike creditable to the principal in the act, to the battalion to which he belongs and the section of the country in which he resides. The Toronto World thus describes the incident: "The men of the 31st regiment had been drawn up for Col. Otter's inspection. As he ran his experienced eye down its ranks he noticed the well known figure of Lieut. J. H. Rorke. Calling him out, the colonel said: "Rorke, I can't take take you; you are an officer."

"But I go as a private, sir," was the reply, but the colonel only answered: "I can't help that, you must step out, I cannot consider you at all."

Lieut. Rorke stands 5 feet 10 inches, is 23, a thorough athlete and one of the smartest officers in Canada. He was not made of stuff to be cast down at the first rebuff. Stepping out as ordered, he walked out of the armouries. In a quarter of an hour the 31st ranks were disbanded and Col. Otter was mounting his horse to ride home again. He had one foot in the stirrup when Lieut. Rorke walked up and saluted. "I have wired my resignation to my colonel and am now a private," he said; "have I any chance now?"

Col. Otter's strong face relaxed into a smile as he remarked: "Young man, I admire your pluck." Then he galloped off and the plucky lieutenant became one of the contingent.

DIRECT IMPORTERS—WHOLESALE MANUF'RS

Dundalk, Markdale & Toronto

For several months past we have been working and planning to have a different store by fall, including a large increase in room. Having faith in Dundalk's future, we determined to give the people an up-to-date store, You will now find our Millinery Parlors, Carpet, Floor Oilcloth, Wall Paper, Curtain and Window Blind Department upstairs, entrance from store. The basement has been remodelled and given over to Crockery, Chinaware and Fancy Glassware, etc. When in the store do not fail to visit the basement. You will find much to interest you.

Fall and winter Clothing

Our stock of the above goods is complete in every detail.

FUR GOODS

Already we have had what many large stores would consider a successful Fur season, but not so with us, although the sale of Furs has certainly been beyond our expectations. We have yet only started to sell compared with what we will yet sell. We bought largely before the fur goods advanced in price, therefore we are in a position to offer all kinds of fur goods at the lowest possible prices.

Just Received—A large import order of women's Wool and Cashmere Shawls.

A REMARKABLE RESCUE

Mrs. Michael Curtain, Plainfield, Ill., makes the statement, that she caught cold, which settled on her lungs; she was treated for a month by her family physician, but grew worse. He told her she was a hopeless victim of consumption and that no medicine could cure her. Her druggist suggested Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption; she bought a bottle and to her delight found herself benefitted from first dose. She continued its use and, after taking six bottles, found herself sound and well; now does her own housework, and is as well as she ever was. Sold by all Druggists, large bottles 50c. and $1.00.

The trouble at Bootlville last week has been explained away. The foundation of the difficulty lay in Mr. Marshall's attempt to keep the factory running for the benefit of his patrons as long as possible, when in fact he was actually losing money. This became very apparent at the last sale, when the total amount he received for making was not sufficient to pay the drawers' while his own expenses of course were entirely unprovided for. The situation was more embarrassing that Jim could meet, hence the step he took. On coming to town last week his brother and brother-in-law came to his assistance and at a meeting of the patrons since a compromise was arrived at. Besides by a slip in Mr. M's figuring the amount in question was $360 less than appeared last week. The incident has become a disagreeable one but has its lessons.—Review.

Handsome War Maps Free

Canadians are showing a keen interest in the Transvaal war. The "Family Herald and Weekly Star," of Montreal, have placed their readers in a position to intelligently understand the situation by sending each reader of that paper a handsome colored map, with complete information regarding all points mentioned in despatches. This map will be followed up by another to be issued by the "Family Herald and Weekly Star" to its readers at the close of the present troubles; a comparison of the two will clearly show what Great Britain has gained by the war. "Family Herald" subscribers will no doubt appreciate the publishers' generosity, which cost, it is said, thousands of dollars. The "Family Herald" seems never to forget their subscribers. It is no wonder they have such a large number.

Volcanic Eruptions

Are grand, but Skin eruptions rob life of joy. Bucklen's Arnica Salve cures them also old, running and fever sores, Ulcers Boils, Felons, Corns, Warts, Cuts, Bruises Burns, Scalds, Chapped Hands, Chilblains Best life Cure on earth. Drives out pains and aches. Only 25 cents per box. Cure guaranteed. Sold by all druggists.

ON GUARD

The warning cough is the faithful sentinel. It tells of the approach of consumption, which has killed more people than war and pestilence combined. It tells of painful chests, sore lungs, weak throats, bronchitis, and pneumonia. Do not suffer another day. It's useless, for there's a prompt and safe cure. It is which cures fresh colds and coughs in a single night and masters chronic coughs and bronchitis in a short time. Consumption is surely and certainly prevented, and cured, too, if taken in time.

A 25c. bottle for a fresh cold; 50c. size for older colds; $1 size for chronic coughs and consumption.

"I always keep a bottle of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral on hand. Then every time I get cold I take a little of it and I am better at once."

Special Values in Ladies' Fur Mantles

We have just received completion of a large contract for Ladies' Astrakhan Mantles. Anticipating an unusually heavy demand for these highly popular and very serviceable garments, we placed our orders on a corresponding scale, long before the general advance in Furs, and in consequence can offer our customers a splendid assortment of excellent values to select from.

Every garment is made of choice glossy skins, well cut and thoroughly reliable in make, trimming and linings. No better values anywhere!

Prices From $25 to $35

MILLINERY

We shall be pleased to have the Ladies visit our Show room and view the latest ideas in fall Millinery. We would like to say more about our display, but cold type and printer's ink cannot do full justice to the stylish creations of the milliner's art, nor depict the very attractive and artistic combinations of colors and materials which are distinctive features of this season's style. Come and see them in person.

Mr. R. J. Sproule met with a painful accident one day last week while attempting to unfasten his horse which had thrown itself when tied to the telegraph pole in front of Sheppard's store. The animal kicked him on the shin, making a severe bruise, but like a good optimist R. J. is congratulating himself that the bone is not broken.

Master Russel Smith, while chopping with another boy in the bush last week, met with an accident which will lay him up for some time, if it does not entirely deprive him of the use of his right arm. The two boys were standing too close together and young Hopps, the second boy accidentally struck Smith on the elbow with the blade of his axe, inflicting a bad wound and slivering a piece about an inch long from the elbow joint.

We learned from Mr. J. W. Frost, on his making a business call at our office Saturday last, that he had just returned from Hamilton, where he had been attending a meeting of the Executive of the Canadian Order of Chosen Friends, and reports the Order to be in a very flourishing condition. It is purely a Canadian Order, has a membership of over 17,000 and a surplus fund of over $193 000. The Order has made great strides during the present year, and as a fraternal society has an excellent prospect for future progress.

School Entertainment

Friday last was indeed a red letter day in the lives of the children of the Flesherton public school. For weeks they had been working hard preparing themselves to entertain the public and their efforts culminated that evening with one of the choicest programs, and most successful entertainments given here for long time. The little people executed their parts exceedingly well and their tutors are deserving of praise for the evident pains taken in the training. The program was a long one and had to be somewhat curtailed. It opened with a glee by the school, followed by recitations by Miss Ella Barnhouse and Elwood Genoe. These two little folks give promise of more than ordinay talent in this line and pleased the audience very much. Three dialogues were rendered during the course of the evening in excellent style and singing by the school showed special care in training. Recitations were also given by Misses Gladys Ward, Eva Small, Ida Gjerdrum and Master Oshwel Whitten. Two sweet little solos were rendered by little Misses Edna Pedlar and Mabel Boyd. The Calisthenics and dumb bell exercise by Miss Irwin's class of little girls and club swinging by a class of larger girls were very pleasing exhibitions. The Valedictory Address was read by Miss Blanche Hamilton. There were two tableaux during the course of the evening, "Sports of Canada" and "Evening Prayer." Possibly the "Good Night Drill" by eight little girls was the quaintest and cutest thing on the whole Program. The little tots were all dressed in nightrobes and each carried a lighted candle. After performing their evolutions the little party advanced to the front of the platform and sang "Nid, nid, nodding." The effect was quaint in the extreme and very pleasing to the eye. Handsome prizes were distributed with five minute speeches by Dr. Christoe, G. Mitchell and M. Richardson to the following pupils: Primary, Hubert Ward; Public School Leaving, Eva Small; Entrance,—Wesley Davis. General Proficiency; Sam Ranton, Composition; Emerson Bellamy, Physiology. In the Entrance Class Miss Rita Vouzant and Miss Carrie Rutledge received prizes for the best kept exercise books, and in the Leaving Miss Ida Gjerdrum for composition. The distribution of certificates was made by Mr. A. M. Gibson, who took the place of Inspector Campbell, the latter being unable to be present. The distribution was accompanied by a neat and appropriate short address by Mr. Gibson. Mr. I. B. Lucas also sent regrets that he could not be present. The stage had been fitted up under the local electrician, Mr. R. N. Henderson, with electric bells and automatic contrivances. The Advance has been waited on by a committee of young ladies who desire us to thank Mr. Henderson for his time and labor so freely and gratuitously given. Mr. W. J. Bellamy, secretary of the school board, occupied the chair, but his duties were light. It is a long time since such a crowd was seen in the hall here. The building was crowded to the doors, and notwithstanding the low admission receipts were in the vicinity of thirty dollars.

Following is the valedictory address as read by Miss Hamilton:

VALEDICTORY

To Friends and Teachers:

Another year in the life of Flesherton public school has rolled by and tonight we stand on the threshold of a new year, the connecting link between the past and the future. Ere we enter the next year we wish to take one long look at the past one. It has been a year of up-hill work to teachers and pupils alike, but it has not been without its pleasant side and there has been much to cheer the heart and lighten the toil when we see what progress has been made. As steady perseverin effort always brings its own reward, the past year's work has brought us a degree of success in our various studies and examinations which is very gratifying. Under the kind, painstaking instruction and guidance of our teachers we have been enabled to win for our school a foremost name among those of our county. In no year before has such a number of pupils been successful at the examinations. The year's training has not been without its great influence on our plastic characters. We have learned more the value of time and of application. To some of us this has been our last year at the public school and we now are saying good bye to the place where we have spent so many happy and busy years. "Years when every sport can please" and the memories of which we will ever cherish as the brightest spots in our childhood. We will not soon forget the sympathy and patience of our teachers and their kindly interest in each of us. We leave with regret the old boat which has brought us safely thus far on our journey, and as we embark upon the higher waters of life, we remember our social intercourse, our camping glens and our early, happy associations here. We pass out from the school, but younger pupils who are just as sensitive for the honor of the school, just as ambitious, just as hard working, and just as clever as we are, are filling our vacant places. Our school is still on the march and we expect that under the same wise instruction a still better stand may be taken this coming year, past laurels being merely an incentive to greater and more renowed efforts, firing the ambition and arousing the energies. We are very hopeful of our future and mean to make the most of our time and opportunities while they are ours for all too soon we too will have to say good-bye

Markdale Wins

The following came up at the Trial Court of Toronto on Tuesday, before His Honor Judge Falconbridge.—

Ricketts v. Town of Markdale.—Judgment in action tried at Owen Sound, brought to recover damages for loss occasioned to plaintiff owing to the death of his child under 21 years of age while playing on the highway. The learned Judge finds all the facts in issue in the plaintiff's favor, and assesses damages at $400, but finds himself, in the absence of English or Canadian authority, obliged to follow the proposition of law laid down in some of the United States, viz. "Little children using a highway merely for play purposes are putting it to a use for which it was not intended, and cannot recover for injuries due to defects or obstructions." The American cases supporting the foregoing proposition seem to be founded on a condition of law as to municipal liability similar to that existing in Ontario; see Stimson v. Gardiner, 12 No. 248, and other cases. This ground is a complete defence to the present action, and defendants must therefore pay the costs of the third party brought in for their own protection. Judgment accordingly and dismissing action without costs. Stay for thirty days. A. G. Mackay (Owen Sound) for plaintiff. I. B. Lucas (Owen Sound) and W. H. Wright, (Owen Sound) for defendants. W. J. Hatton (Owen Sound) for third party.
