The stamps of the battery 160 pounds each, and have a rise ll of 12 inches. This pounds the to fine sand, the coarse gold falling through a false bottom into a recep whence it can be gathered. The ore is also mixed with water, which above the false bottom, carries off er particles of sand, which are che ed through a very closely woven e-set iron-wire sieve. The sand passes through this sieve must be ly be extremely fine, but still it may o, or be mixed with very minute par of gold. It falls upon a copper and amated apron, with an incline suffi to discharge the sand upon the shak bles below, of which there is one to five stamps. The shaking table is opper plated and amalgamated, and ch four cross riffles or elevations, with mercury. The shaking table along a small tram, with a fore and ward side-motion, last or slow as may required, the water being thus thrown ly over the riffles, which detain the er particles of sand, for amalgamation the mercury. Whatever sand or mer may pass away from the shaking table s into a hopper, from which it is trans ed to the Mills—one patent amalgama —an invention introduced here the gold mines of Nova Scotia — sisting of a series of cone shaped plates nically prepared. There are altogether sets of these cone-plates—the first e, when the process of amalgamation going on, being filled with a certain portion of mercury; the next three less, and the remaining one being left ly. After passing through the sluice- containing these cones, the sand water again pass through another cop plated and amalgamated sluice box, regulating traps at each end. Finally ch the tailings are discharged by a sluice- inside of the building. After being jected to a searching process, it y well be supposed that the tailings are likely to contain a trace of gold."

THE CONSUMPTION OF SUGAR

From an elaborate review of the sugar trade for the year in the Produce Markets Review, we extract the following estimate of the consumption of the different countries "Roughly dividing the nations into classes, the interesting fact is shown that the Anglo Saxon races Great Britain and her colonies and the United States are the most important sugar consumers, as they use 1,420,000 tons of sugar per annum, or 41.40 lbs per head. The Latin races come next, and France, Italy, Spain, Belgium, Portugal, and Switzerland use 506,000 tons per annum, or 12.34 lbs. per head. The third on the list is the great Teutonic race, but with the race impetus given to its national life, and the much greater scope for enterprise and commerce, Germany, with its domestic sugar trade, will soon rise in the sugar scale. The Zollverein, Austria, Holland, the Hanseatic League, and Denmark consume about 262,000 tons per annum, or 7.30 per head. Last come the vast but poverty stricken districts ruled over by Russia, together with the semi Bavarian Ottoman empire and the kingdom of Greece. We will venture to call the nations formed by this group the Sclavonic race, trusting that the Ethnological Society will pardon us this our last and greatest sin against correct ethnological classification. Russia, Poland, Turkey and Greece consume less than half what is used by the smallest civilized European communities, the Teutons, and the old series in these countries only amount to 125,000 tons, [illegible] per head. The quantity of sugar used in the countries depends upon its price and the low rates of the last few years have given an extraordinary stimulus to the industry. What effect the ruin[illegible] stocks may have upon prices we cannot foretell with precision, but we certainly look upon it as a fact that the prices prevailing before the American war will never be seen up again for any length of time. The present supply at present worked are so limited, the cultivation of sugar cane is [illegible] entirely extended, and even at the [illegible] and present low rates, is so remunerative, [illegible] that it cannot be met, and as the war [illegible] exhausted Government [illegible] we may fairly look for a progressive increase [illegible] of sugar. In fact, the figures [illegible] so large at present will, if the rates of progress be maintained [illegible] considerable [illegible] insignificant [illegible] Russian [illegible] supplies [illegible] 1867 may be estimated to be 175,000 [illegible] the year of New South Wales [illegible] would amount to 1,250,000 tons [illegible] Thus consumption of the [illegible] 12,972,000 [illegible] with an returns [illegible] 12,035,000 tons per annum, [illegible] 15 lbs per head. On the British scale [illegible] consumption would amount to 6,150,000 tons, on the New South Wales scale to 12,000,000 tons. The growers of sugar therefore, need have no fear of extending [illegible] for [illegible]

FENIANISM IN IRELAND

The Cork Examiner of the 4th of January reports: Last night a group of men [illegible] to move the Lough, a [illegible] belonging to Mr T. W. Murray, grocer, in Patrick street, and agent to Messrs Cotts & Harvey, gunpowder merchants, Hammersmith, London, was [illegible] with fifteen barrels [illegible] containing barrels of blasting powder stored. The magazine had been visited by Mr Murray's man late last evening, for the purpose of sending out half a ton of powder for which orders had been received, and it was then secured as usual for the night. This morning the door of the magazine was seen open by a woman passing by, and a large store in the entrance. On the magazine being entered the above mentioned quantity of powder was found missing.

Eight large cases of firearms, used by the police, but superseded by the new Snider [illegible] arrived in Queenstown under a strong escort of constabulary from Tralee.

The following important declaration on the condition of the kingdom and its tranquillity was given by the Catholic Dean and Chapter of the city of Limerick: We, the leaders good Roman Catholics of the kingdom, having duly considered the state of the country and also the remedies which, from time to time, have been proposed for the amelioration of her condition, deem it our duty to the people, the government, and our own consciences, to declare our unchangeable conviction that no permanent national improvement, securing peace and prosperity to Ireland, and answering to the aspirations of our country men, is practicable except through a restoration of the blessings of domestic legislation, and we believe solemnly and sincerely that this concession, which is perfectly within the constitution, and fully compatible with the integrity of the empire and the security of the crown would have the like happy results in Ireland that have signally attended a similar adjustment recently in Hungary.

A DYING MAN CONFESSES TO A MURDER IN GODERICH TOWNSHIP MANY YEARS AGO.

It will be fresh in the memory of our Goderich township readers that at the time of the mysterious disappearance of Mrs McIntosh, it was hinted about that a young man had disappeared many years before in a somewhat similar manner—no traces of his remains having been discovered. In connection with the fate of that young man there was a tale of horror known only to one person on earth, and we are informed on pretty good authority, that remorse has at last wrung from the slayer the story of his crime, while he lay upon a dying bed, a few days ago. The story is this: About twenty-three years ago a young lad engaged as a labourer with a man then living in the township. It soon transpired that the youth brought with him over $1,000 in money. The employer, moved by avarice, determined to possess himself of this money. But how? The old story? "Dead men tell no tales!" He easily made up his mind to do murder. One beautiful spring day he took his gun, proceeded to the woods where the young man was at work, shot him through the heart from behind, dragged the dead body with a yoke of oxen, threw it on a long heap, and burned it to ashes. The money was secured, his circumstances suddenly improved, but being rendered uneasy by the murmuring of the neighbours, who inquired into the youth's fate, and wishing to escape from the scene of his horrible crime, he removed to the States. There the demon of remorse constantly gnawed at his soul, and he was forced in the face of death to unburden his guilty mind. We have not used names in the above, nor shall we do so until our information is more explicit.—Goderich Signal.

Four hundred inmates of the Deer Island Institution, near Boston, have been poisoned by arsenic, it is supposed in the food or water. Most of them will recover.

The London Times has another leader, protesting against the appointment of Mr Thornton to the Washington Embassy. It says: "The person sent to America should have a high parliamentary reputation, should be well known, by name at least, to all classes of his countrymen, and personally to all persons of mark and distinction in this country. He should, in fact, be the representative of the governing classes, if he is intended to carry weight with and exercise influence over the governing classes of America. Mr Thornton satisfies none of these conditions."

A Konigsberg cheesemonger has studied the constitution of Prussia, with especial view to its applicability to the art of puffing. He has sent a petition to the second Prussian Chamber requesting that the House will subject his cheese to an examination and declare its opinion whether his cheese is not able to compete with all other cheeses in the world. The forms require a member to be appointed to report on every petition, and the newspapers throughout Prussia all mention this ludicrous incident, and advertise this ingenious man's cheeses gratuitously and effectually. Day and Martin are utterly beaten.

CAUTION.

THE perfection and cheapness of the American (Waltham) watch have given it such a world-wide celebrity that unscrupulous dealers years ago imitated its style and pirated its trade marks. Irresponsible dealers are occasionally found who fraudulently trade upon the popularity of the American watch by selling a base imitation under the name of the genuine article.

It is hardly necessary to state that such watches are worthless as time keepers, and when bought for the genuine are calculated to injure the high reputation which our watches have attained. The several grades of the American watch (except the lowest grade marked Home Watch Co.) are guaranteed by special certificate bearing the signature of the watch and the signature of the president of the Company, B. F. Robbins. The purchaser should in all cases require one of these certificates, which is furnished to all dealers in the genuine watches.

The following are the trade marks on the several grades of our manufacture:—

AMERICAN WATCH CO.
APPLETON, TRACY & CO.
WALTHAM WATCH CO.
P. S. BARTLETT.
WM. ELLERY.
HOME WATCH CO.

PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD CO.

Office of the General Superintendent, Altona, Pa., 15th Dec., 1866.

GENTLEMEN—The watches manufactured by you have been in use on this Railroad for several years by our engine men, to whom we furnish watches as part of our equipment. There are some THREE HUNDRED OF THEM CARRIED ON OUR LINE, and we consider them GOOD and RELIABLE TIME-KEEPERS. Indeed I have great satisfaction in saying YOUR WATCHES GIVE US LESS TROUBLE and have worn and do wear much longer without repairs than any watches we have ever had in use on this road. As you are aware we formerly trusted to those of English manufacture, of acknowledged good reputation, but as a class they never keep time as correctly, nor have they done as good service as yours.

In these statements I am sustained by my predecessor, Mr Lewis, whose experience extended over a series of years.

Respectfully,
EDWARD H. WILLIAMS,
General Superintendent.

American Watch Co., Waltham.

NEW YORK CENTRAL RAILROAD.

Locomotive Dep't Western Division, Rochester, Dec. 24, 1866.

GENTLEMEN—I have no hesitation in saying that I believe the great majority of locomotive engineers have found by experience that WALTHAM WATCHES ARE THE MOST SATISFACTORY of any for their uses. They RUN WITH THE GREATEST ACCURACY AND STEADINESS, notwithstanding the rough riding of an engine; and as I have NEVER KNOWN ONE TO WEAR OUT, they must be durable. I hope to see the time when railway companies will generally adopt your watches, and furnish them to all engineers and conductors. In my opinion it would greatly tend to promote regularity and safety.

Yours respectfully,
CHARLES WILSON,
G. Chief Engineer,
Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers.

BRITISH AMERICAN Commercial College.

NECESSITY FOR A THOROUGH MERCANTILE EDUCATION.

PRIZE PENMANSHIP.

SUPERIOR ADVANTAGES OFFERED.

THE IMPORTANCE OF A THOROUGH BUSINESS EDUCATION is pressing itself on the attention of commercial circles more and more every day, and its advantages are perhaps more emphatically shown by nothing more than by the vantage ground on which it places the fully trained clerk above the imperfectly trained one, when for a situation.

THE BRITISH AMERICAN COMMERCIAL COLLEGE has in full operations such a course of instruction as to give it practical fitness to do the work proposed.

An important characteristic of this Institution is its maturely organized ACTUAL BUSINESS SYSTEM, whereby the College is made a type or model not only of an extensive business house, but even of a large trading community

Another distinctive feature of this College is that it attempts no extraneous teaching. Its work is ONE, and to the accomplishment of that work every effort is directed. Just as the University and Grammer School must be separate Institutions, so the Commercial College and the Elementary School must be distinct. Common sense and experience alike show that such a combination is not compatible with efficiency.

The time required to complete the full course varies considerably, according to the attendance, and ability of each student. Young men, however, are earnestly cautioned against the injurious practice of hurrying through the course from the mistaken idea that they will thus be gainers by the saving of money in the item of board. Infinitely more advantageous would it be to the student, since his full course of tuition is already paid for, to incur the comparatively small additional expense of a few weeks' board in order to make himself completely master of the course; and thus, by a small present outlay, qualify himself for some lucrative situation. The crudeness that such haste entails is highly detrimental, not only to the student himself, but also to the College where he graduates; and, besides, it brings opprobrium on Commercial Colleges generally. The common practise, therefore, of holding out this crowding system as an inducement to students is most deceptive and highly reprehensible.

We were again awarded the FIRST PRIZE at the late Provincial Exhibition, Kingston, for the best specimen of BUSINESS PENMANSHIP, and an EXTRA PRIZE for our SYSTEM OF WRITING.
