Do We Take Small Accounts?

We do more than that. We invite them—welcome them—and take good care of them. If you wish to open a Savings Account for any particular purpose — or wish to teach the children to save by having an account in each child's name—do not hesitate to do so because the amounts to be deposited will be small. $1. is sufficient to open a Savings Account, and deposits of $1. are always welcome.

Allison—Winters

A quiet but pretty wedding was solemnized on Wednesday, March 2nd, 1921, at 1 o'clock, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Winters, Maxwell, when their second daughter, Mary, was married to Mr. Telford Allison, eldest son of Mr. Jos. Allison. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Shannon, Presbyterian Minister at McIntyre. The bride, who was given away by her father, entered the room to the strains of the wedding march played by Mrs. (Rev.) Shannon. She was attired in a lovely gown of navy blue one piece silk dress. She wore the gift of the groom, a handsome wrist watch. The bride and groom were unattended. After dinner they left to visit the groom's sister, Joy, and other friends in Toronto. After their return the happy couple will reside on the Allison farm, Fourth Line, Osprey.

Convictions at Dundalk

In conjunction with Magistrate McMullen of Ceylon, Magistrate Laidlaw of town was in Dundalk Monday evening sitting on two cases for infraction of the liquor law. It was the "old time" trial, there being four hundred or more spectators. One of the cases was against Chas Montgomery, cattle buyer, charged with having liquor in his possession other than in his private residence. It appears he and a friend named Thompson had run their car into the ditch and when getting it arighted, the bottle in the car was revealed. A fine of $200 and costs was imposed.

The second case was another interesting legal battle between Insp. Beckett who prosecuted, and Barrister Henry of Markdale who acted for the defendants. In this instance Robt. Johnston, a young farmer near Dundalk, was charged with being intoxicated outside of his residence. He, it seems, had consumed some liquor and come to Dr Martin for another 6 oz. prescription. This was given him but the Dr. then deciding he was intoxicated, quickly instructed the druggist by phone not to fill the prescription. It was brought out that the druggist would otherwise have done so. Two more infractions would then have occurred. It is not legal for a doctor to prescribe liquor without first making an examination, and it would have been illegal for the druggist to fill a prescription for one who was intoxicated. This case was wound up by a fine of $25 and costs being imposed upon Johnston.—Durham Review.
